Media Information

Credentials

Credentials for all Boston College home football games are issued to working media only and should be requested as early as possible. Please direct credential requests to Chris Cameron via email (cameroch@bc.edu) or fax (617-552-4903) at least two weeks in advance of all home games.

Boston College follows the guidelines set forth by the NCAA in governing the issuance of credentials. Season credentials will be issued only to daily newspapers and television/radio stations that cover Boston College on a regular basis. Otherwise, additional television/radio stations, weekly newspapers and Internet services will be granted credentials on a single-game, space-available basis.

Assignment of working press, scouting seats and photo access will be allocated according to the following priorities: 1. Frequency of coverage of teams involved; 2. Deadline and transmission requirements; and 3. Circulation.

If time permits, credentials will be mailed; they also may be picked up in the Media Relations office. All others may be claimed at the Media Will Call window at Gate C.

Press Parking

Press parking is located on the top level of the Commonwealth Avenue parking garage. A limited number of parking passes will be available for each game. It is recommended that parking pass holders arrive no later than one hour prior to kickoff to ensure a parking space.

Media members holding press parking passes must enter through the main gate of the University on Commonwealth Avenue and follow the signs for the Media Parking area.

Press Facilities

Located on the west (campus) side of the Alumni Stadium playing field, the BC press box features seats for writers and scouts, a network television broadcast area, five radio booths and a photo deck.

Writers, scouts and game operations personnel will be assigned to the sixth floor level of the press box and television film crews, radio crews and home and visiting coaches will be on the fifth floor level.

Photographers

Photographers (both still and television) are permitted to work along the sidelines except for the marked area reserved for the team personnel only. This rule is strictly enforced. Television and film crews also may shoot from the photo deck, located on the fifth floor of the press box.

Photographers and videographers must wear issued identification vests, which may be obtained with a valid photo I.D. at the Media Will Call booth at Gate C.

Photographer/Videographer Work Area

A photography/videography work area is located in the Media Suite on the first floor of Conte Forum, adjacent to the west concourse of Alumni Stadium. Wireless Internet connections, Ethernet ports, telephone and electrical access, along with work space, are provided. Check with the Media Will Call attendant at Gate C for directions.

Radio Broadcasts

Radio booths are available for the visiting commercial and student stations on the fifth floor of the press box. Telephone lines have been pre-installed in each booth. Stations wishing to broadcast a game should contact the BC Media Relations office at 617-552-3004 at least two weeks prior to the contest.

TV Broadcasts

A 21 x 21 permanent network television broadcast booth is located at the midfield point on the fifth floor of the press box. This location, along with permanent camera locations on the 20-yard-line points, the north end zone and the field, have been pre-wired with multiple tri-axial cable drops. Any network production unit televising a game or event from either Alumni Stadium or Conte Forum must use this pre-installed cable.

Postgame Interviews

The Boston College locker room is closed to all members of the media for all games, home and away. Head coach Jeff Jagodzinski and requested players will be available for interviews following a brief cooling-off period. Following home games, Jagodzinski will address the media in the football meeting room in the Yawkey Athletics Center. BC press box personnel will provide instructions for accessing the area.

Media wishing to interview players should notify appropriate members of the BC Media Relations staff prior to the conclusion of the game. Every effort will be made to bring requested players to the interview room.

Visiting teams will conduct their postgame interviews in the Conte Forum Media Center, located on the first floor and accessible via the north elevator.

Media Conference Calls

Coach Jeff Jagodzinski conducts a media conference call at 3 p.m. each Sunday during football season. Contact the Media Relations office for the number.

Jagodzinski also participates in the weekly ACC teleconference each Wednesday. A complete schedule is printed on this page.

Player Interviews

Media members wishing to interview members of the BC football team must arrange all interviews through the Media Relations office. In general, interviews during game weeks will be arranged between Noon-2:00 p.m. on Wednesdays (print media) and 2:50-3:20 p.m on Wednesdays or Thursdays (electronic media). Please request all interviews at least 24 hours in advance. Players will not be available to the media for post-practice interviews.

Practices

In general, BC practices are closed to the media and general public. Videographers or photographers wishing to shoot practice may do so during the first four practice periods on Wednesdays and Thursdays (please contact the Media Relations office in advance). Media may watch practice on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays (contact Media Relations in advance) with the understanding that no injuries are reported.

Impressive Start for Coach Jags

- ACC Record – Most Wins (11) by a First-Year Head Coach
- AFCA Region 1 Coach of the Year

Jeff Jagodzinski

"(NFL draft day) was a big day for (Matt) Ryan. It was also a big day for BC, because Ryan is the highest pick in school history, and, most of all, it was a big day for coach Jeff Jagodzinski, who now can enter any living room in America for the rest of his days and say, "I had something to do with developing a quarterback who was the third pick in the NFL draft."

"(Matt Ryan) took a major step forward this past year under the tutelage of Coach Jags, whose offensive sets and NFL experience were just what the talented QB needed. Do you recall anyone, anywhere, suggesting that Ryan could be a first-round pick, let alone a Top 3 pick, when the season began?"

-Boston Globe columnist Bob Ryan

WINNING • GRADUATING • CARING

Dynamic

Jack Bicknell

"Coach Bicknell is a great offensive line coach, especially from a center's perspective because he was a center in college. That allows him to help me deal with all the problems that he dealt with in college."
-Matt Tennant

"He's a great guy. We have a lot of fun in our meetings, and he's definitely out there for us. I enjoy playing for him."
-Anthony Castonzo

Steve Logan

"He's a coach who gives you great points about where to throw the ball, how to throw it and why you should throw it – most of the basics to get you to the next level."
-Dominique Davis

"Steve Logan is a great coach. He has a great offensive mind. The schemes that he brings to the table are probably some of the best in the country. We saw that last year, and we believe that this upcoming year will be just as good."
-Chris Crane

Ben Sirmans

"Coach Sirmans is a guy who really harps on all the little things and to make sure we're giving our best effort every play. He likes to make sure every little technique is perfect."
-James McCluskey

"Coach Sirmans is more than a coach to me. He's a great coach. He's taught me a lot about the protections. If I miss a block or if I make the wrong cut, he's working with me. He's just a great coach and a great guy to me."
-Josh Haden

Staff

Don Yanowsky

"I love playing for Coach Yanowsky. He's an in-your-face kind of guy and he really gives good perspective on the game."
-Ryan Purvis

"Coach Yanowsky brings great energy to the special teams. He really makes it fun for the whole team."
-Steve Aponavicius

Ryan Day

"Coach Day is a very intense coach and he expects a lot out of us day in and day out. He wants a lot of energy every practice. When we're in meetings, he wants us to focus in. He's just a great guy to play for."
-Justin Jarvis

"Coach Day is a fierce competitor. He is a coach who brings intensity to practice. He wants the best out of all of us."
-Clarence Megwa

Jeff Comissiong

"Coach Commiss is a coach who will demand 100 percent effort on every play and he'll do his best to get that out of each and every one of us."
-Austin Giles

"He's a tough, but a fair coach. Real kind to us, funny at times, but has us get to work whenever we have to. He reminds us to act like men every day."
-Ron Brace

Bill McGovern

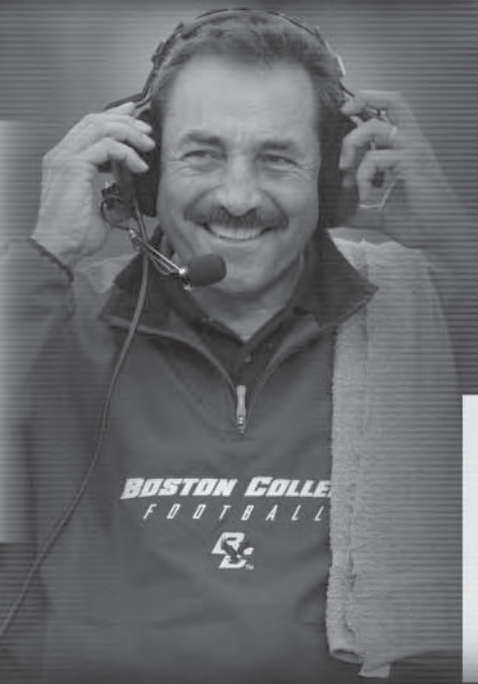

"Coach Govs has been very important in developing my career. He's a great coach, very straightforward, no messing around. He's a great guy and great coach. I love him to death."
-Robert Francois

"Coach McGovern is a very intense defensive coach. He brings the attitude that you need at the linebacker position, and I believe that he's one of the best coaches in the country, without question."
-Mike McLaughlin

Frank Spaziani

"He's really a guy who's very comedic on and off the field, but gets strict when he has to. He's a guy who really just tries to have fun on and off the field."
-Alex Albright

"Coach Spaziani is the most intelligent coach I've ever been around and the most intense coach to play for. Coach Spaziani is the guy that the defense really rallies around and looks to. When we're in a tough situation we know he's going to make the right call and get us in the best situation to make a play."
-Brian Toal

Mike Siravo

"Coach Siravo was a BC football player so he knows what it's like to be here. He's a straightforward coach and he tells it like it is."
-Paul Anderson

"Coach Siravo is really hard on us when it comes to the little things, but we know it's for the best. He helps us become better players and everything. Off the field, he's very funny and always keeps us upbeat and in a positive mindset."
-DeLeon Gause

- Boston College's football graduation rate was the highest of any team ranked in the final 2007 Top 25.
- Boston College is among the Top 40 Universities in America, according to US News & World Report.
- BC has won the American Football Coaches Association's Academic Achievement Award four times and received Honorable Mention status 15 times.
- BC has drawn students from all 50 states and more than 85 countries.
- BC's endowment of $1.7 billion is among the nation's 40 largest.

QB CHRIS CRANE
In his own words

"At Boston College, it is a priority to receive a degree and I think Learning Resources does everything in their power to help the team succeed in the classroom. I have seen my teammates receive their degree in four years and I think it's a great accomplishment. Learning Resources helps us stay focused, which makes us more mentally prepared on and off the field.

"It's very important to get a great education. To be able to play football and receive a degree – just to accomplish both at Boston College is pretty special."

Academic

LB MARK HERZLICH
In his own words

"I think Learning Resources gets players organized early. It really helps freshmen get their time management down, which is very important in that first year. The preparation sets you up for a better career at Boston College.

"I think part of being at Boston College is, with the highest graduation rate in the country, you know you will receive a degree. I think when you start looking for a job it's great to know you'll have a Boston College degree."

BC Football Graduation Rate Past Six Seasons (2002-07)

2002	90%
2003	95%
2004	100%
2005	89%
2006	96%
2007	93%

BC student-athletes' achievements in the classroom have become an immense source of pride for the University and its supporters.

Last season, Boston College's football graduation rate was the highest of any team ranked in the final top 25 polls. BC, in fact, ranked third overall among Division I (FBS) football-playing institutions in Graduation Success Rate (GSR), according to data released by the NCAA. The BC football team scored a 93% GSR, tied with Duke, Notre Dame and Stanford as third-best in the country. Only Navy (95%) and Northwestern (94%) received a higher GSR score than BC.

BC has one of the top four graduation rates in the nation for its student-athletes.

AFCA Academic Achievement Award

Presented annually by the American Football Coaches Association, the Academic Achievement Award is given to the Division I Bowl Subdivision team with the highest graduation rate. BC has won the award four times – 1992, 1995, 1996 and 2004 – and has achieved Honorable Mention status 15 times.

One of America's Top Universities

Once again in 2008, US News & World Report ranked Boston College among the Top 40 Universities in America. BC is one of six Atlantic Coast Conference institutions ranked in the nation's top 40, joining Duke, Wake forest, North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia Tech.

US News & World Report has also honored Boston College as one of the top 20 athletics departments in the country. The magazine ranked each Division I school on four categories: Gender equity, graduation rates, win-loss records and total number of sports offered.

"When you come to play football at Boston College, first and foremost, you will receive a quality education at one of the best Universities in the world. Your four or five years here will prepare you for a successful life."

In his own words

"Yes, it's true, I want to be in cancer research. I find it to be a good challenge and feel that people with cancer have no way out. It's almost like they are trapped with no say in their future.

"My education is very important to me because my dad has always stressed that in football you are one injury away from the end of your career. I had a serious injury in high school and I learned the importance of getting a good education is important so there is something after football."

Learning Resources

Boston College recognizes the demands of academics and athletics, and acknowledges that students must be disciplined in their study habits in order to succeed in the classroom. The University's Office of Learning Resources for Student-Athletes provides academic, personal and social support services to all varsity student-athletes with the goal that each student-athlete will be provided a fair opportunity to achieve his or her potential of academic, social, spiritual and personal development.

In April 2005, Learning Resources moved into its new home in the Yawkey Center. Dr. Ferna Phillips, director, leads a professional staff of six and a tutorial staff consisting of 35 graduate and undergraduate students. Learning Resources offers academic counseling, developmental and supplemental instruction as well as tutorial services to help its student-athletes reach their maximum potential in the classroom.

The academic counselors and other support staff members provide guidance and direction to student-athletes by monitoring their academic progress, supporting their academic success in the classroom and promoting self-advocacy as well as articulating concerns to faculty, staff and administrators.

Murphy Family Study Center

The study center offers an integrated learning environment for student-athletes, who can elect to have a quiet space in which to work or join a study group. The center offers both Mac and PC computers for use by the student-athletes as well as the opportunity to bring their own laptop to use in a completely wireless environment. The Center serves as the primary tutorial area for Learning Resources and offers student-athletes an easy, accessible area, close to the athletics facilities, in which to study.

"Many college athletics programs use the term 'student-athlete', but we truly back it up here at Boston College. We win championships on the field and in the classroom. Our student-athletes are at the very heart of our athletics program."

WISE GUYS

By Dan Wetzel, Yahoo! Sports

Published October 10, 2007

In an upset bigger than Appalachian State and Stanford combined, the most likely place to find the actual players on a serious national title contender is – get this – in class. (And eventually, caps and gowns.)

Boston College has a whole bunch of numbers going for it right now. There is the record (6-0), the national ranking (No. 4) and the possible position in the Heisman race for quarterback Matt Ryan (No. 1).

Then there is the number that makes the Eagles one of the most unlikely national title contenders in years: 93.

That's the graduation rate for BC football players according to the latest NCAA figures. The Eagles finished third in the country behind Navy (95) and Northwestern (94).

But neither of those teams have an actual shot at winding up in the BCS championship game the way BC does. Assuming a win over Notre Dame on Saturday, a victory at Virginia Tech next week would give the Eagles the inside track on the ACC title and an unbeaten season.

Welcome to the anti-big time college football program, where balance, perspective and, indeed, text books still have a place in a sport where at some schools, graduation is as much accident as accomplishment.

Graduation rate can be spun in a million different ways and every school knows how to rationalize its failures. But at some point the truth is just the truth – the Eagles are one of the few programs that can be proud on and off the field.

It's not like the 93 percent was some aberration. Last year it was 96 and for nearly two decades, through various formulas, it's almost always been above 90. Four times – 1992, 1994, 1995 and 2004 – the Eagles finished No. 1 in the nation. Best of all, there is no trend of hiding athletes in basket-weaving majors, no fifth-year seniors who are still "undecided."

"The statistics show that we take the term 'student-athlete' very seriously at Boston College," athletic director Gene DeFilippo said.

Meanwhile, the rest of the national title contenders seem to prefer the term athlete-student. BC has a 40-percentage point advantage on the three teams ahead of it in the AP poll – LSU (51 percent), Cal (52) and Ohio State (53). Those three aren't even the worst offenders, either.

No matter what many of these big football factories say, no matter how many excuses they make or how well they promote select success stories, the reality is few of them put any real care or concern into the long-term educational welfare of their players.

While individual circumstances vary and some of the blame, undoubtedly, has to fall on the players who don't take advantage of the opportunity, the notion of players as actual students remains mostly a charade.

There are three common ways in which schools operate without concern for the novel idea of actually educating players:

*They recruit kids who couldn't score a 22 on their alphabet.

*They put potentially capable student-athletes on academic courses that keep them minimally eligible but unlikely to graduate.

*They make mistakes in recruiting. Then when a student fails to live up to expectations athletically, the coach, rather than taking responsibility, runs the player off in any number of ways to free up a scholarship.

"It's been like that for years," BC coach Jeff Jagodzinski said. "One of the things we have is a really fine academic support system. (And) it's very competitive to get in. We get some good students."

Certainly neither the school nor the athletic department is perfect…but when trouble hits there is not a cover up, a stonewalling or an "everyone-else-does-it" defense.

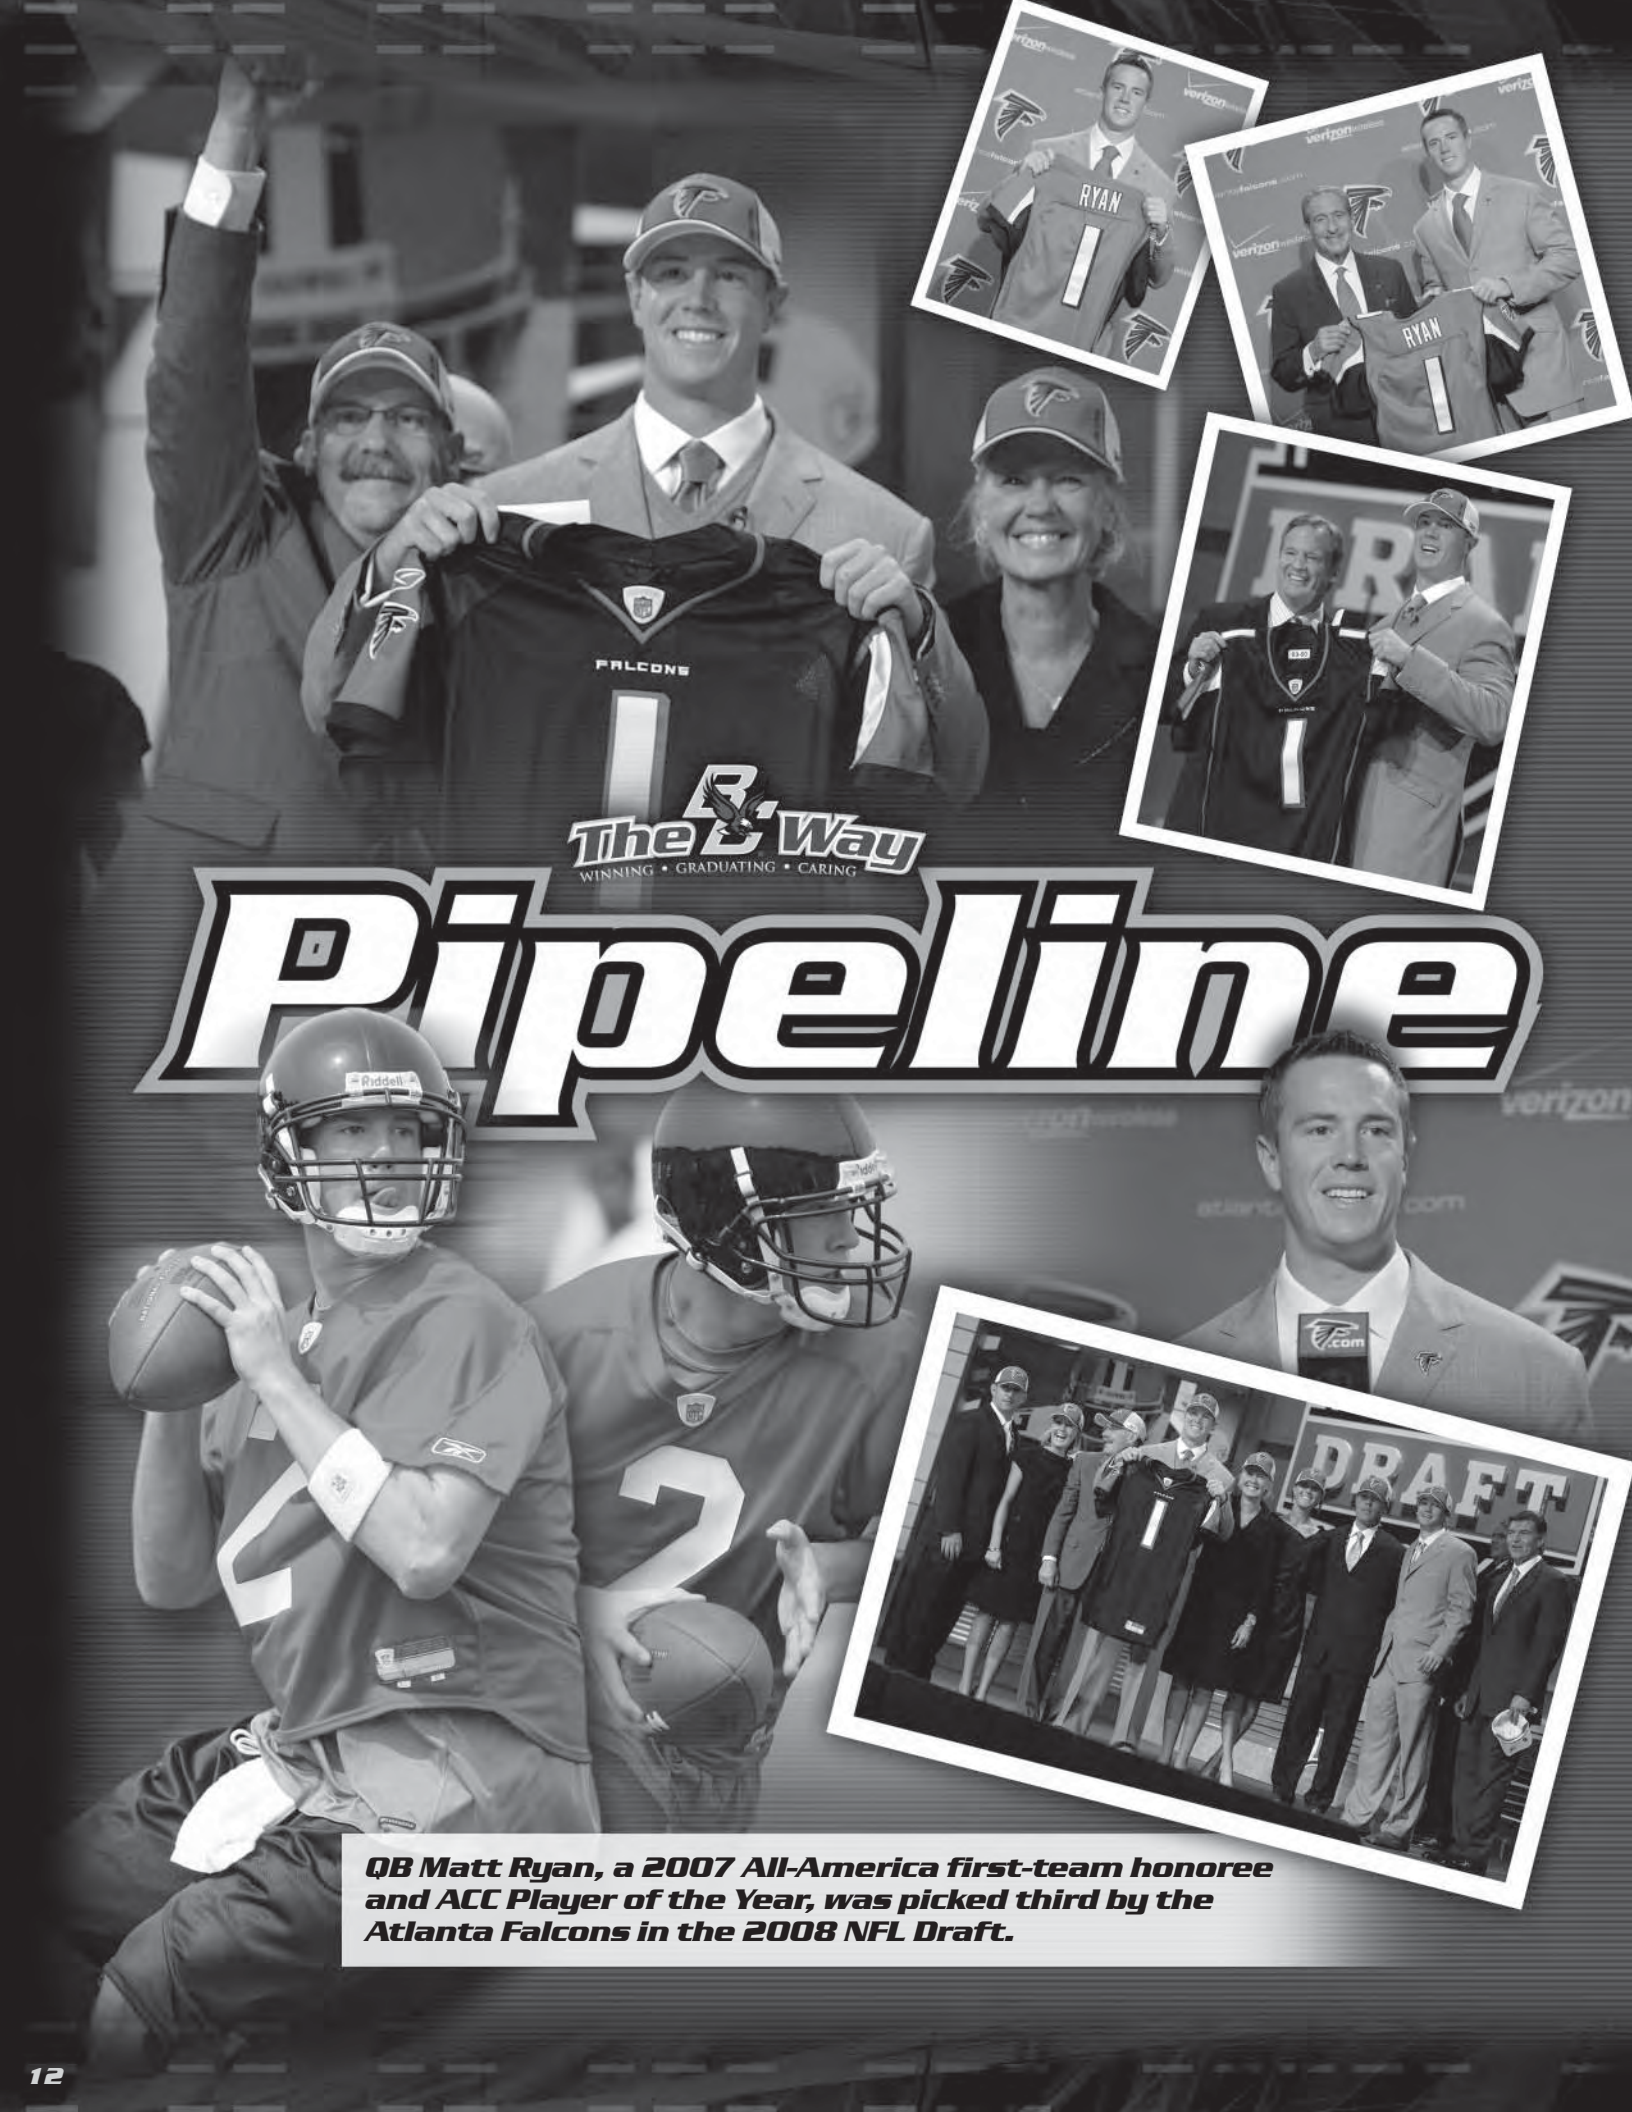

They refocus and not just with lip service.

That's always been BC's way. The school is bigger than the team, the coach or a single supposedly star recruit. It understands those entities all come and go, but a reputation lasts forever.

The current average graduation rate of the last five BCS champions is 54 percent.

In a corner-cutting climate like that, can Boston College actually wind up the best team in the country?

For some of us, they already have.

Pro Day

Forty-three NFL personnel from 23 professional teams and more than 70 members of the media (both unprecedented numbers) were on hand when BC hosted its annual NFL Pro Day this past March.

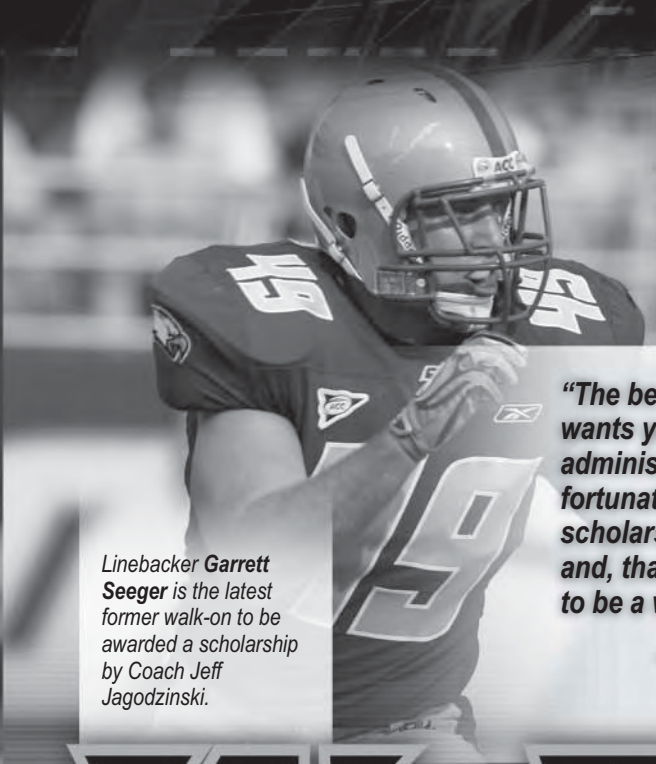

The main event, of course, was an individual workout by quarterback Matt Ryan, who threw 52 passes in various formations to former BC receivers Kevin Challenger, Jon Loyte, Tony Gonzalez, Andre Callender and L.V. Whitworth. Along with Ryan and his receivers, other draft-eligible BC players who worked out included Tom Anevski, Johnny Ayers, Gosder Cherilus, Jo-Lonn Dunbar, Ty Hall, Nick Larkin, Taji Morris, Ryan Poles, Tyronne Pruitt, Jamie Silva, Ryan Thompson and DeJuan Tribble. William Green, who played for BC from 1999 to 2001, and Taylor Sele, an Eagle from 2004 to 2006, also joined the players.

Kansas City Chiefs head coach Herm Edwards and general manager Carl Peterson were among those who watched from the sidelines as Ryan took the field. Minnesota Vikings offensive coordinator Darrell Bevell, New Orleans Saints quarterback coach Pete Carmichael Jr. and Carolina Panthers general manager Marty Hurney were some of the others in attendance.

The walk-on program is extremely important to Boston College football. Linebacker Garrett Seeger is the latest walk-on to be awarded a full scholarship by Coach Jeff Jagodzinski. Other familiar names include place-kicker Steve Aponavicius, tight end Sean Ryan, running back Cedric Washington (who ended his BC career in 14th place on the all-time Eagle rushing list with 1,982 yards) and Mike Siravo, now a member of the BC coaching staff.

Linebacker Garrett Seeger is the latest former walk-on to be awarded a scholarship by Coach Jeff Jagodzinski.

"The best thing about being a walk-on at Boston College is that everybody wants you to succeed. You have 100% support from the team, the administration and, most importantly, the student body. I have been fortunate to witness this support come to life watching fellow walk-ons earn scholarships, become starters, kick game-winners like Steve Aponavicius, and, thankfully, become coaches. I can't imagine a better place in America to be a walk-on football player."

College

BC is located on the doorstep of one of America's great cities, a center of culture and education for three centuries. With its unmatched history and present-day status as the cultural, educational and commercial center of New England, Boston has garnered a well-deserved reputation as one of the truly great cities in America and, indeed, in the world.

Boston, the capital of Massachusetts and largest city in the six-state region, is perhaps best known for its plethora of top-notch colleges and universities. It is also famous for a wide array of professional and amateur sports options and an appealing proximity to some of the Northeast's finest vacationing spots.

Education

The Boston area sports the world's most concentrated collection of educational institutions. Many of the country's top universities, including Boston College, are located in New England.

History

Bostonians led the charge for freedom in the Revolutionary War, as the so-called "Minutemen" – bolstered by such eminent patriots as Paul Revere, Samuel Adams and John Hancock – fought and died for this country's independence.

Region

Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, scenic islands off the coast of Massachusetts, are well-known for their bike trails, historic lighthouses and meandering beaches. The "arm of Southeastern Massachusetts," Cape Cod serves as a relaxing summer haven for thousands of Bostonians, New Englanders and others.

Sports

In addition to a wide array of college sports, the Boston area is a hub of professional sports passion. The Boston Red Sox capture the imagination of the region year-round and have won the World Series twice in the past four years. The New England Patriots have won three Super Bowl championships in the last seven years. The NBA's Boston Celtics are widely considered the most successful and storied team in the history of sport, having just won their 17th world championship. The Boston Bruins were one of the NHL's six original franchises.

Unforgettable Moments

THE MIRACLE IN MIAMI
In what has been voted one of the two most famous plays in college football history, Doug Flutie and BC football went into the storybooks as No. 22 threw a 63-yard "Hail Mary" touchdown pass to Gerard Phelan on the game's final play to give the Eagles a 47-45 win over Miami in the Orange Bowl.

THE KICK
David Gordon kicked a 41-yard field goal with no time remaining to shock the No. 1-ranked Notre Dame Fighting Irish in South Bend.

THE COMEBACK
Matt Ryan threw two touchdown passes in the final 2:11, including a 24-yarder to Andre Callender with 11 seconds left, as the No. 2 Eagles defeated Virginia Tech, 14-10, in a nationally televised Thursday night game in Blacksburg. ESPN's Kirk Herbstreit called it Ryan's "Heisman moment."

Exposure

In Memory of Superfan Tim Russert

Boston College will surely miss friend and Superfan Tim Russert, who died in mid-June of a heart attack at age 58.

"We were absolutely shocked and heartbroken when we heard the news (of his death)," Director of Athletics Gene DeFilippo said. "Tim wore his love for the Eagles on his sleeve, both literally and figuratively. He was universally respected as a journalist, but he was an even greater husband, father and friend. We're going to miss him tremendously."

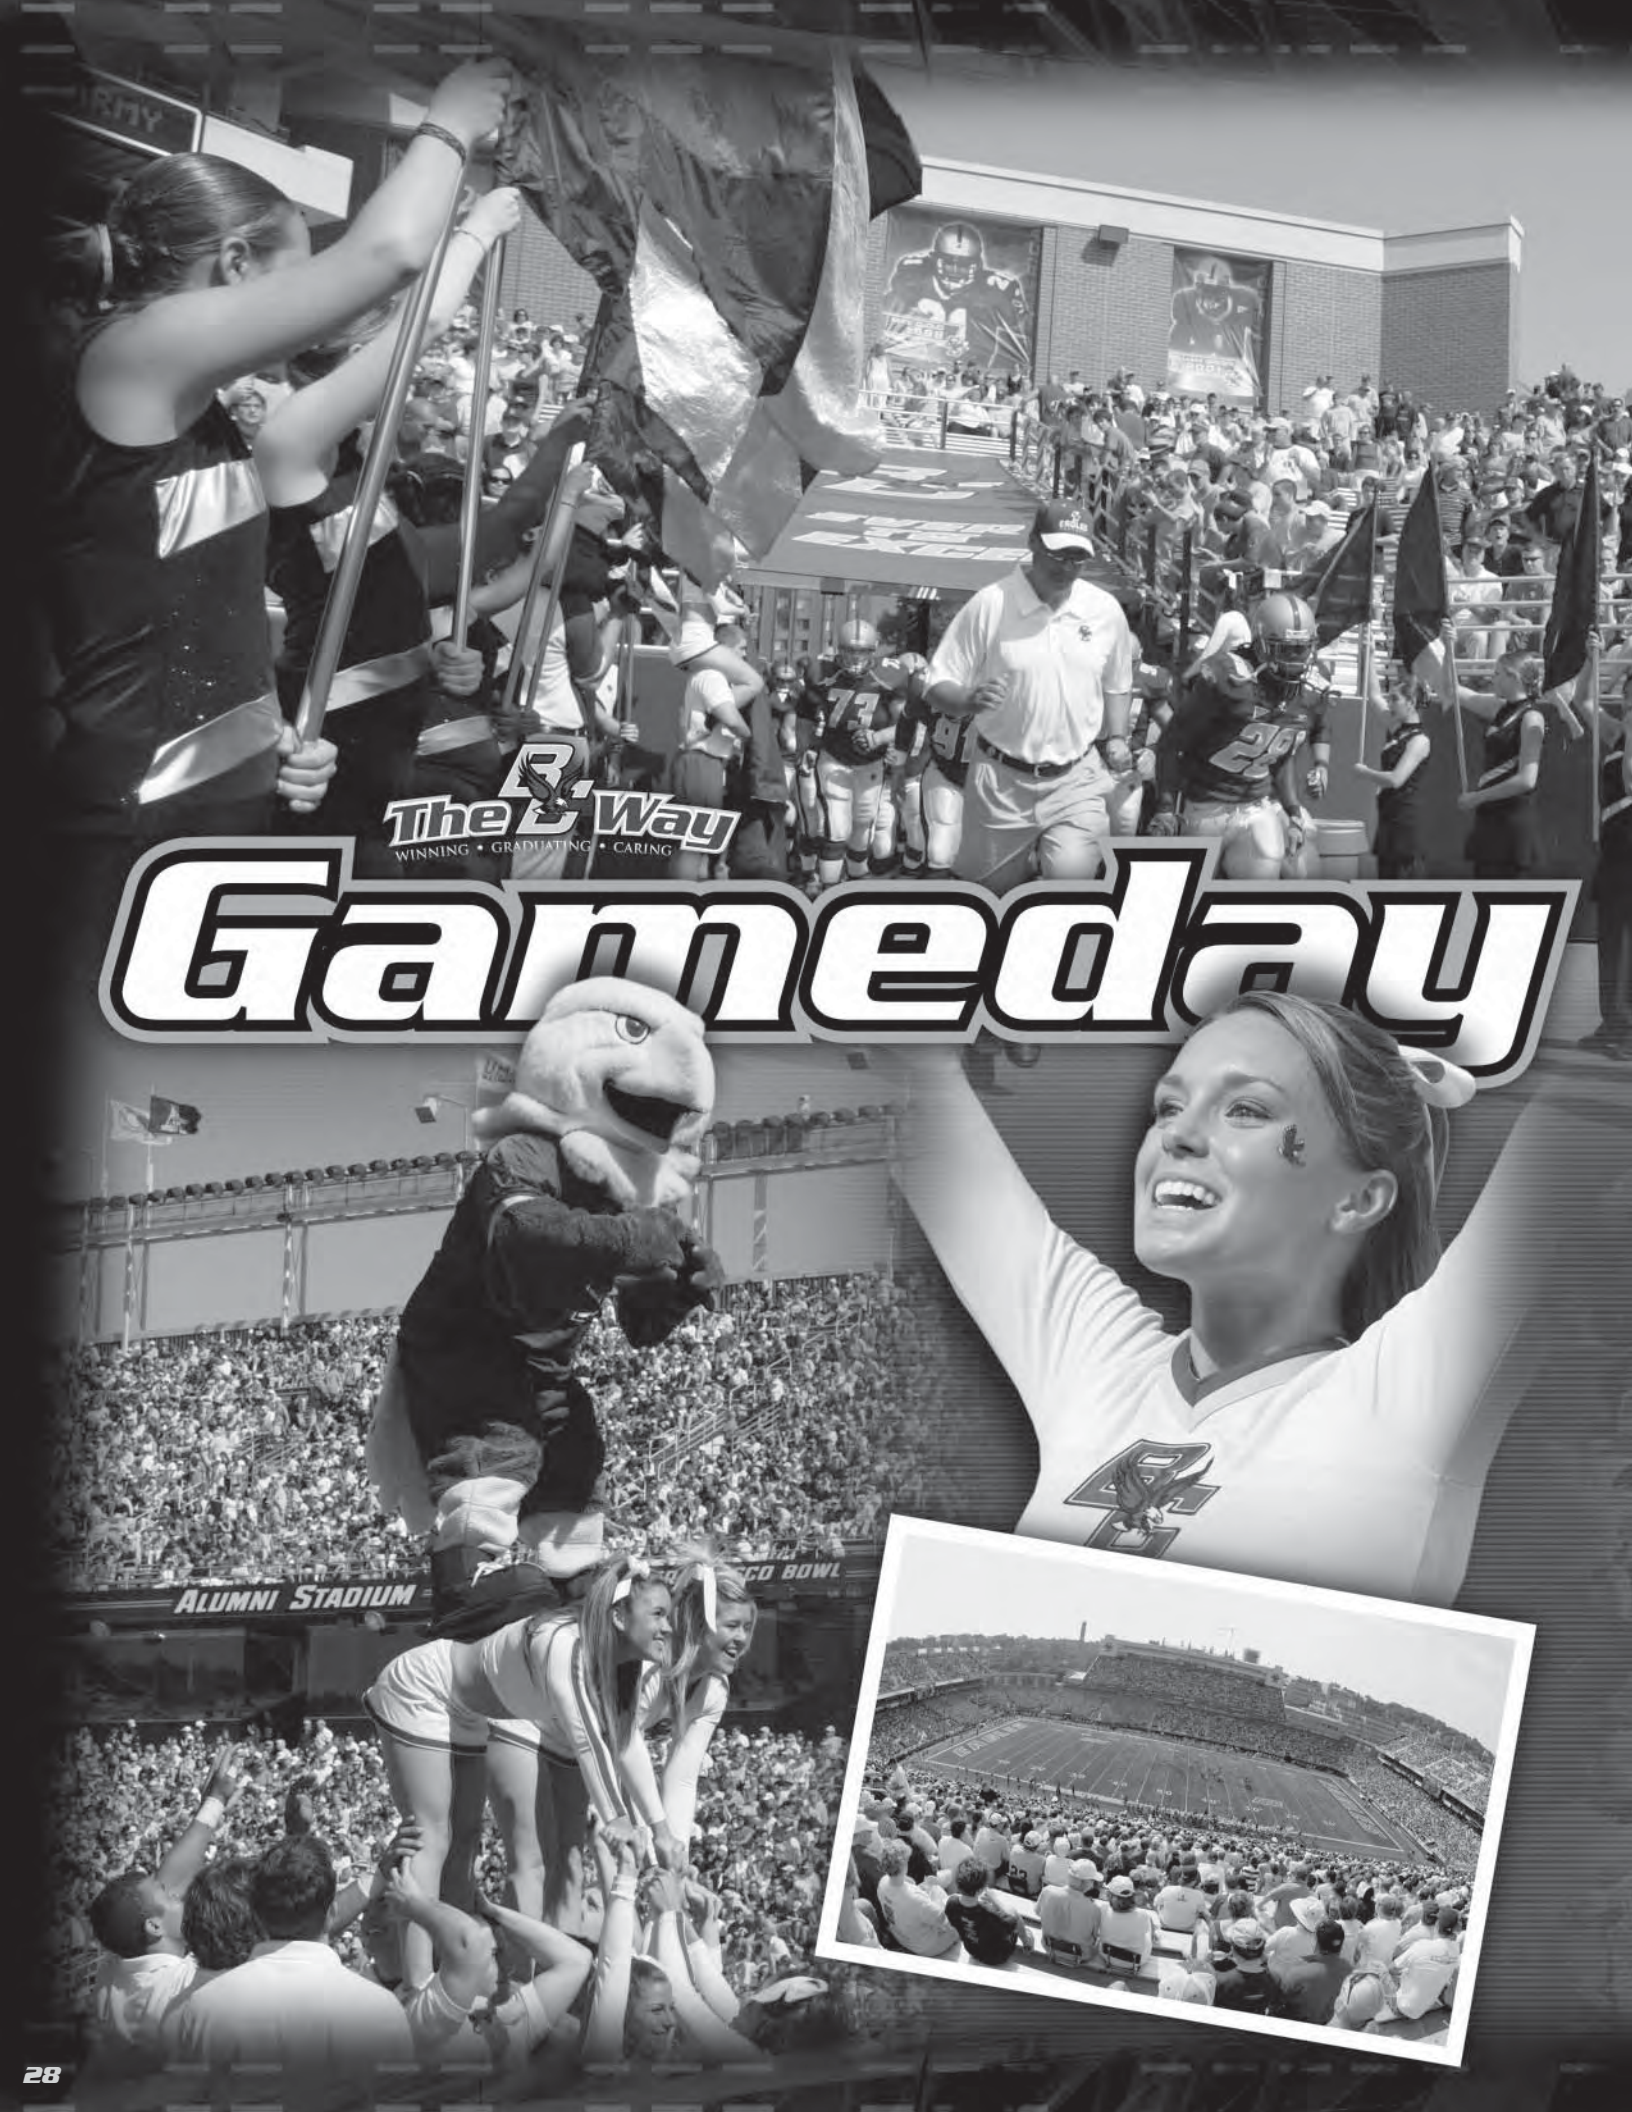

Russert, who was best known as NBC's Washington bureau chief and moderator of Meet the Press, had become an ardent BC sports fan when his son, Luke, enrolled as a freshman in 2004. In recent years, Russert attended as many BC basketball games as his schedule would allow. Seated courtside shoulder-to-shoulder with local celebrities and sports dignitaries, Russert's modesty and unpretentious manner endeared him to BC students and fans young and old. Although he was arguably the most influential electronic journalist of his time, at BC he was just Tim, Luke's father, Superfan.

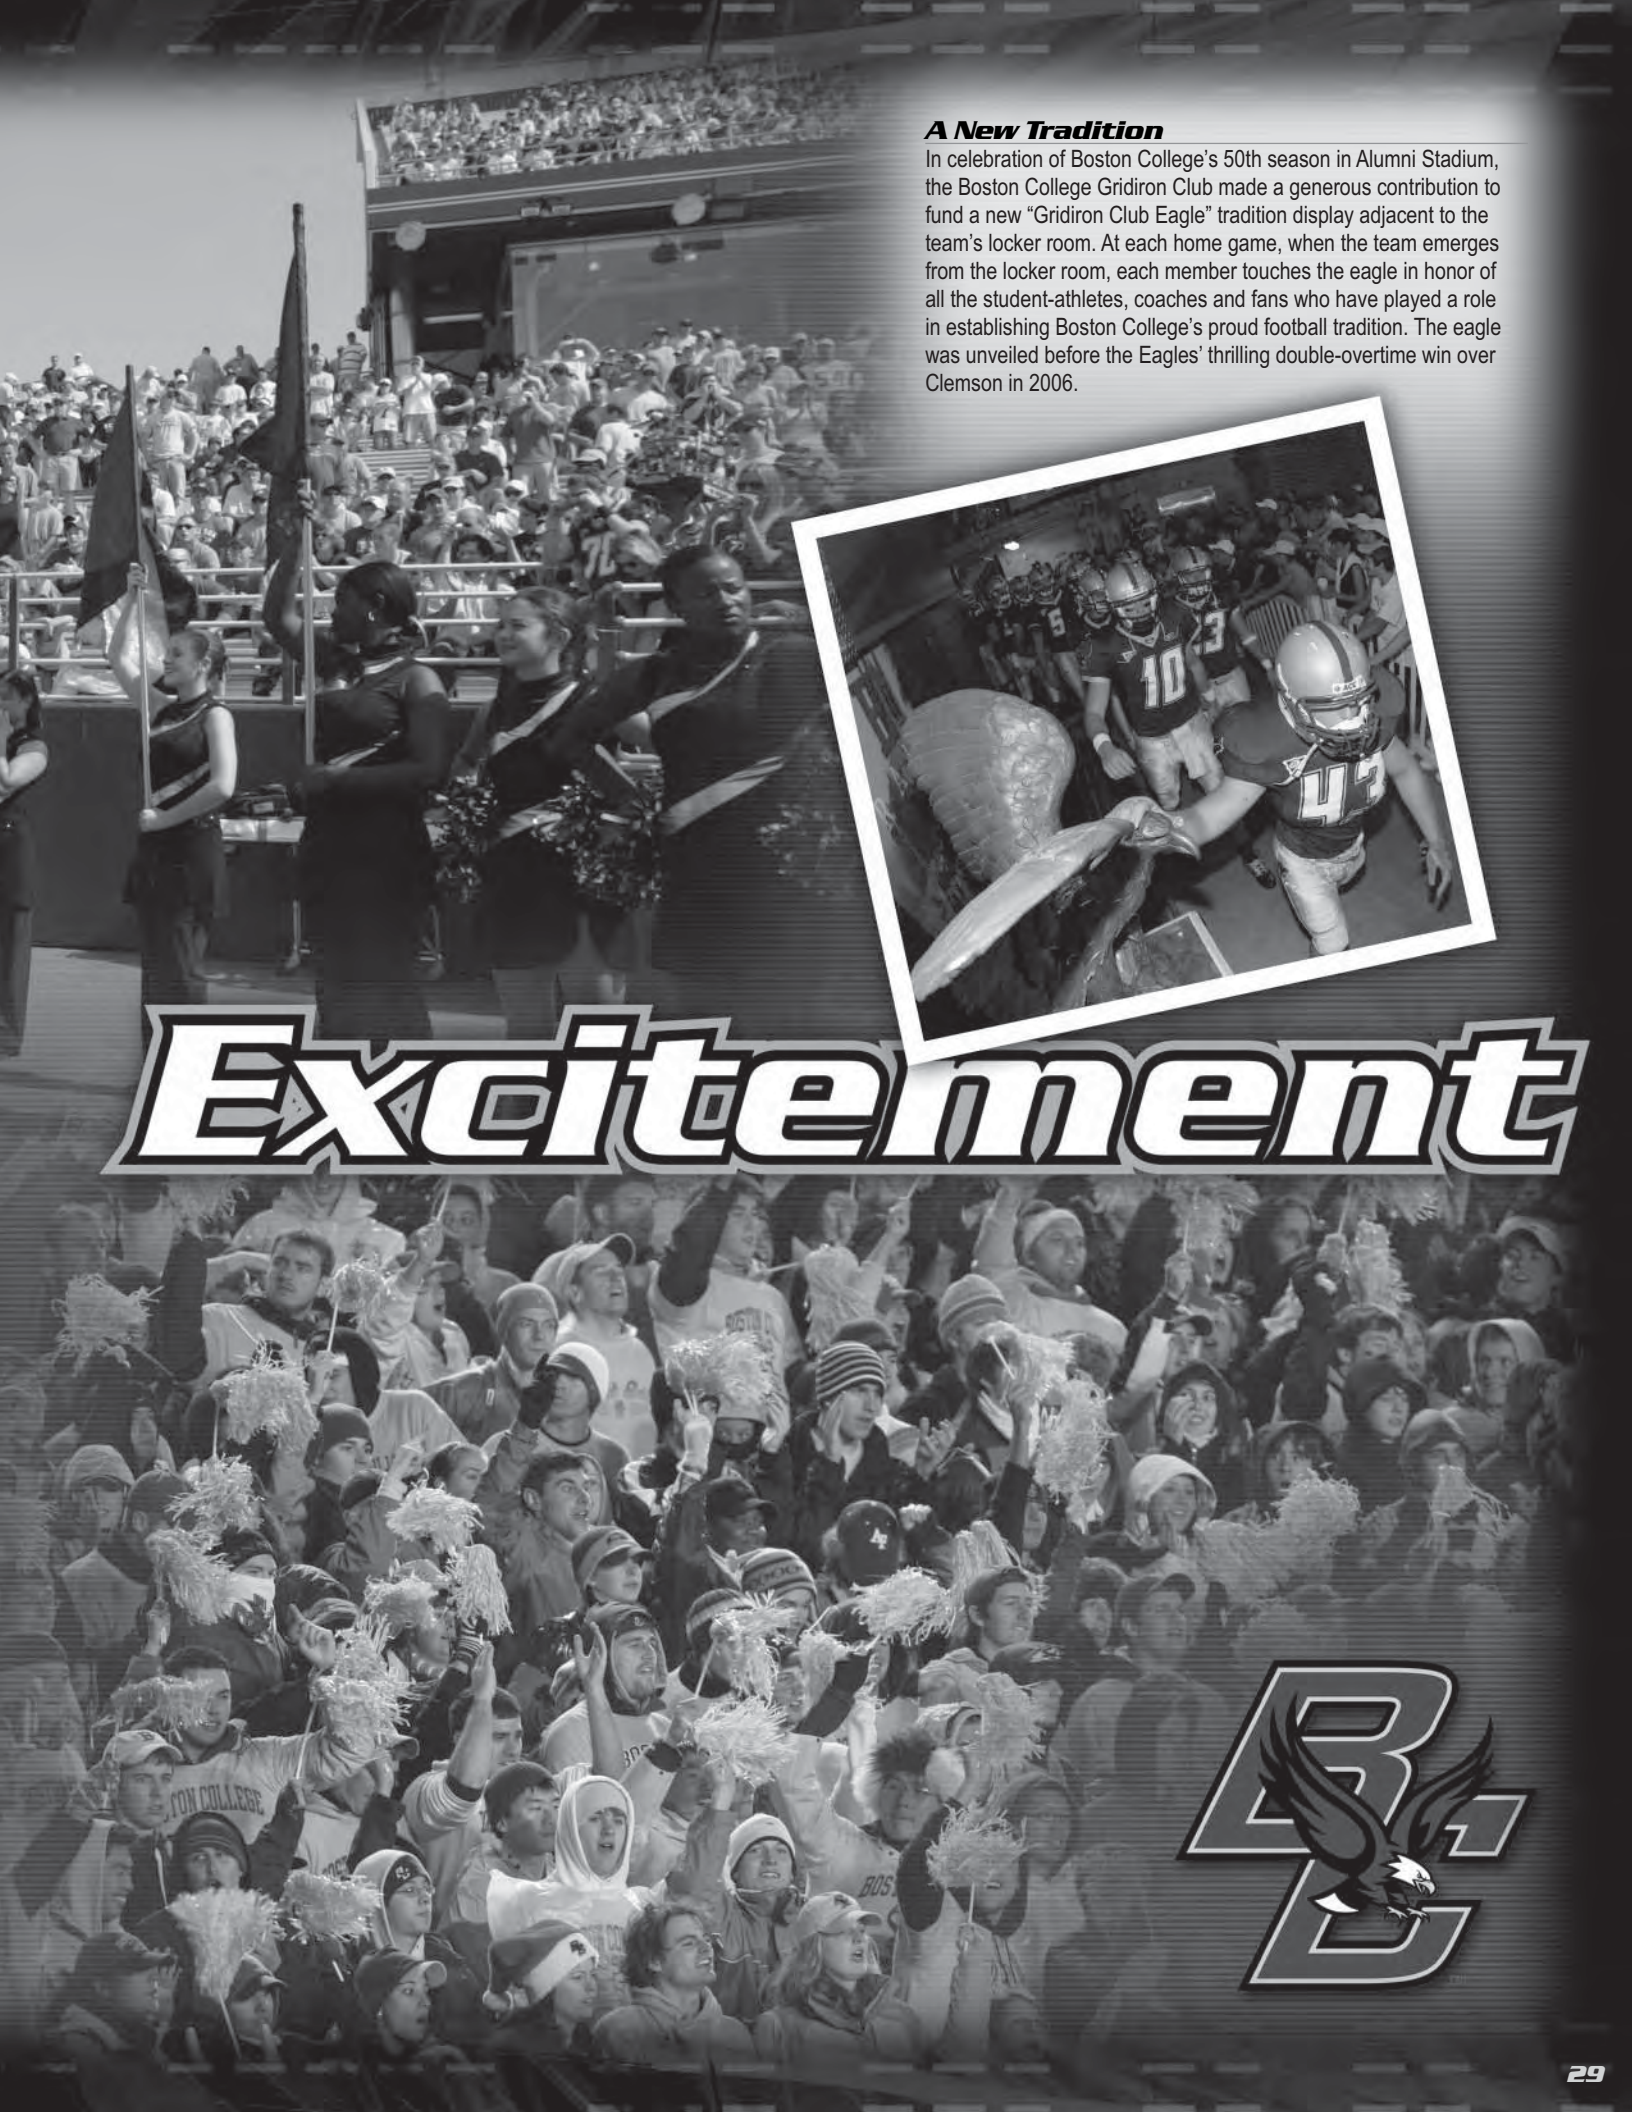

In 2006, Russert participated in a student-produced video titled "Meet the Full-Court Press," along with son Luke and several members of the BC basketball team. When the tongue-in-cheek production was played on the Conte Forum video screens prior to the Eagles' nationally televised game against Duke, members of both teams paused their pregame warm-up routine to watch and laugh.

Russert later traveled to Minneapolis to watch the Eagles in the NCAA basketball regional and, according to members of the travel party, was the first person they saw, cheering them on, when they returned to the team hotel from a pregame shoot-around.

Russert was also an avid supporter of the BC football team, taking time on Meet the Press to note the Eagles' win over Notre Dame, to end the show wearing a BC baseball cap and saying "Go Eagles!", or to hold up a "Ryan for Heisman" shirt. When ABC asked BC for a spokesperson to introduce its starting lineups on the air in last season's ACC Championship Game, BC suggested Russert, even though the game would air on a rival network to his beloved NBC. Producers from ABC eagerly embraced the idea, and Russert prepared for and attacked the task as he would for presidential election night coverage. As he finished each introduction with Luke standing by as the director, an ABC producer joked, "You seem at ease in front of the camera, for some reason."

"On behalf of everyone associated with BC Athletics," DeFilippo said, "I extend our deepest sympathies to Luke, Maureen, and all of Tim's many friends and colleagues."

ALUMNI STADIUM

A New Tradition

In celebration of Boston College's 50th season in Alumni Stadium, the Boston College Gridiron Club made a generous contribution to fund a new "Gridiron Club Eagle" tradition display adjacent to the team's locker room. At each home game, when the team emerges from the locker room, each member touches the eagle in honor of all the student-athletes, coaches and fans who have played a role in establishing Boston College's proud football tradition. The eagle was unveiled before the Eagles' thrilling double-overtime win over Clemson in 2006.

Alumni

With a capacity of 44,500 maroon-and-gold-clad fans, Alumni Stadium is the home of the Eagles.

The current version of Alumni Stadium opened in the fall of 1995. The roots of Alumni Stadium and on-campus football at Boston College date back to 1915, when the original Alumni Stadium was dedicated. The facility was located on middle campus on the site of today's campus green.

As Boston College enjoyed more and more football success in the 1930s and 1940s, the Eagles moved a majority of their home games to Boston's two Major League Baseball stadiums, Fenway Park and Braves Field (now Nickerson Field on the Boston University campus).

On January 23, 1957, Boston College president Joseph R.N. Maxwell, S.J., announced that a new Alumni Stadium would be built on the BC campus as football no longer would be allowed in Fenway Park. A $250,000 campaign followed and on September 26, 1957, the Eagles played host to Navy in the first game on the site of the present Alumni Stadium before a sellout crowd of 26,000-plus. The new stadium was constructed in an amazing span of 156 days. The game was arranged by then-United States Senator John F. Kennedy, but Navy spoiled the home opener with a 46-6 win.

In 1971, Alumni Stadium was expanded to 32,000 seats and artificial turf and lights were installed. Alumni Stadium was rebuilt again in 1988 as matching upper decks and a new press box were added. These renovations were part of the building of Conte Forum.

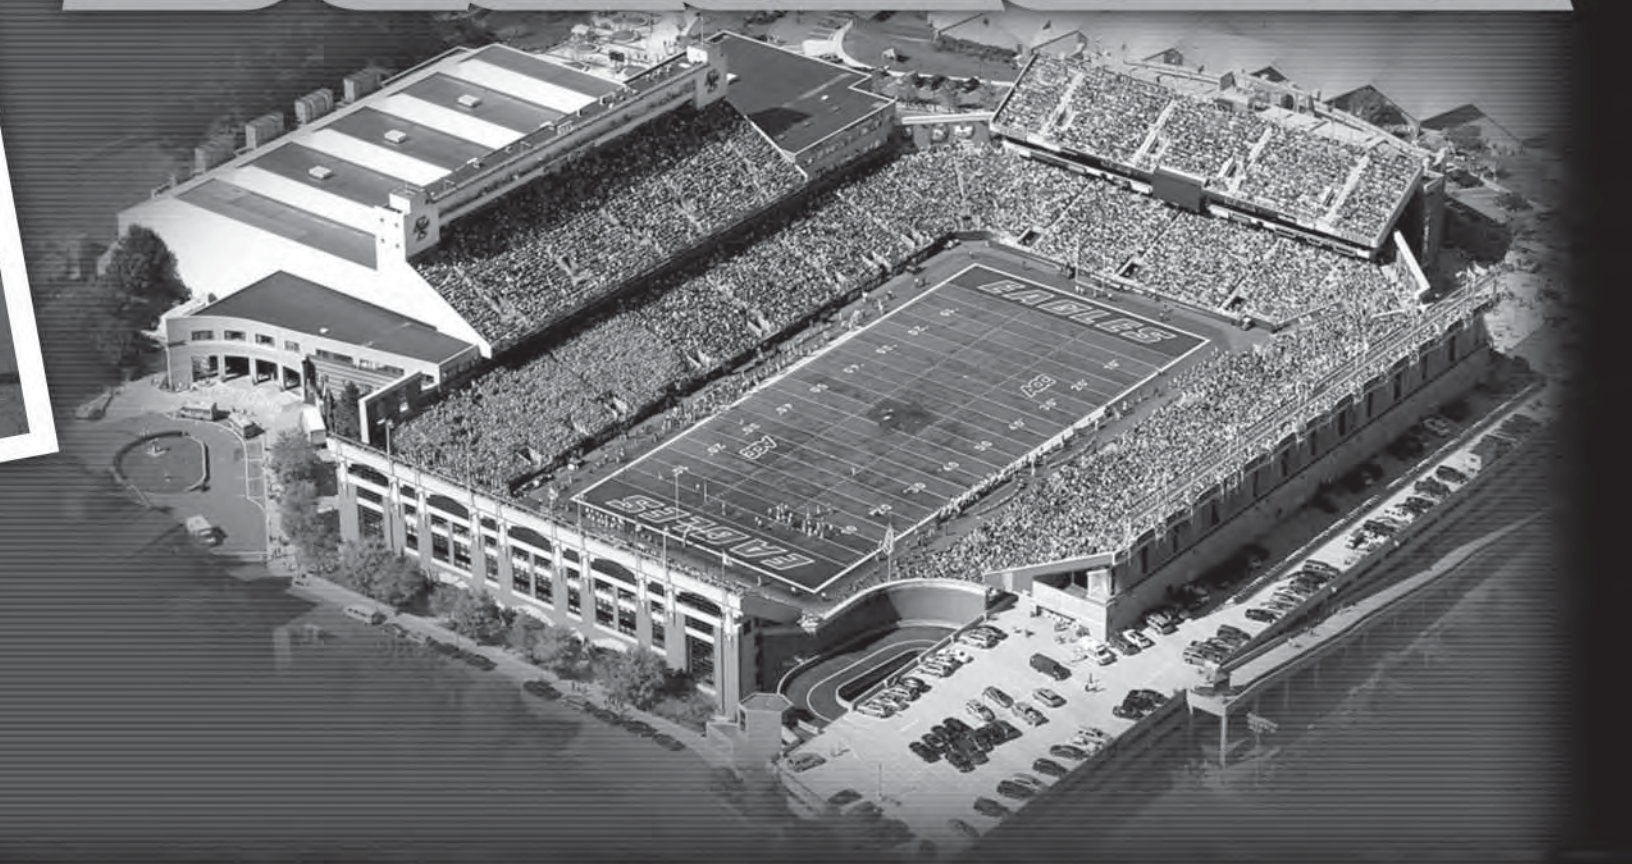

New scoreboards and instant replay screens, a new and improved lighting system, a state-of-the-art public address system, new concessions and rest room facilities and a beautiful brick and glass exterior façade combine to make Alumni Stadium one of the finest football facilities in the nation. BC installed a state-of-the-art Field Turf surface in the summer of 2004.

The scenic Chestnut Hill stadium, with the Boston skyline offering a splendid background in the distance, heightens the excitement and enthusiasm that is part of every Boston College home game.

The Hajjar Family Football Museum displays memorabilia highlighting the spectacular 100-plus seasons of Boston College football.

LOCKER ROOM
Located behind the north end zone of Alumni Stadium, Boston College's locker room facility features 125 personalized eight-foot tall open lockers and a spacious team meeting area.

TRAINING ROOM
BC's 2,500-square foot training room combines the best rehabilitation and training facilities with on-site physician exam rooms.

The Bubble

In any season, Boston College student-athletes are able to take advantage of the best in practice facilities thanks to "The Bubble."

The Bubble can handle all facets of football training. It has been a crucial part of the Eagles' offseason workouts, including strength and conditioning, field goals and bowl preparations.

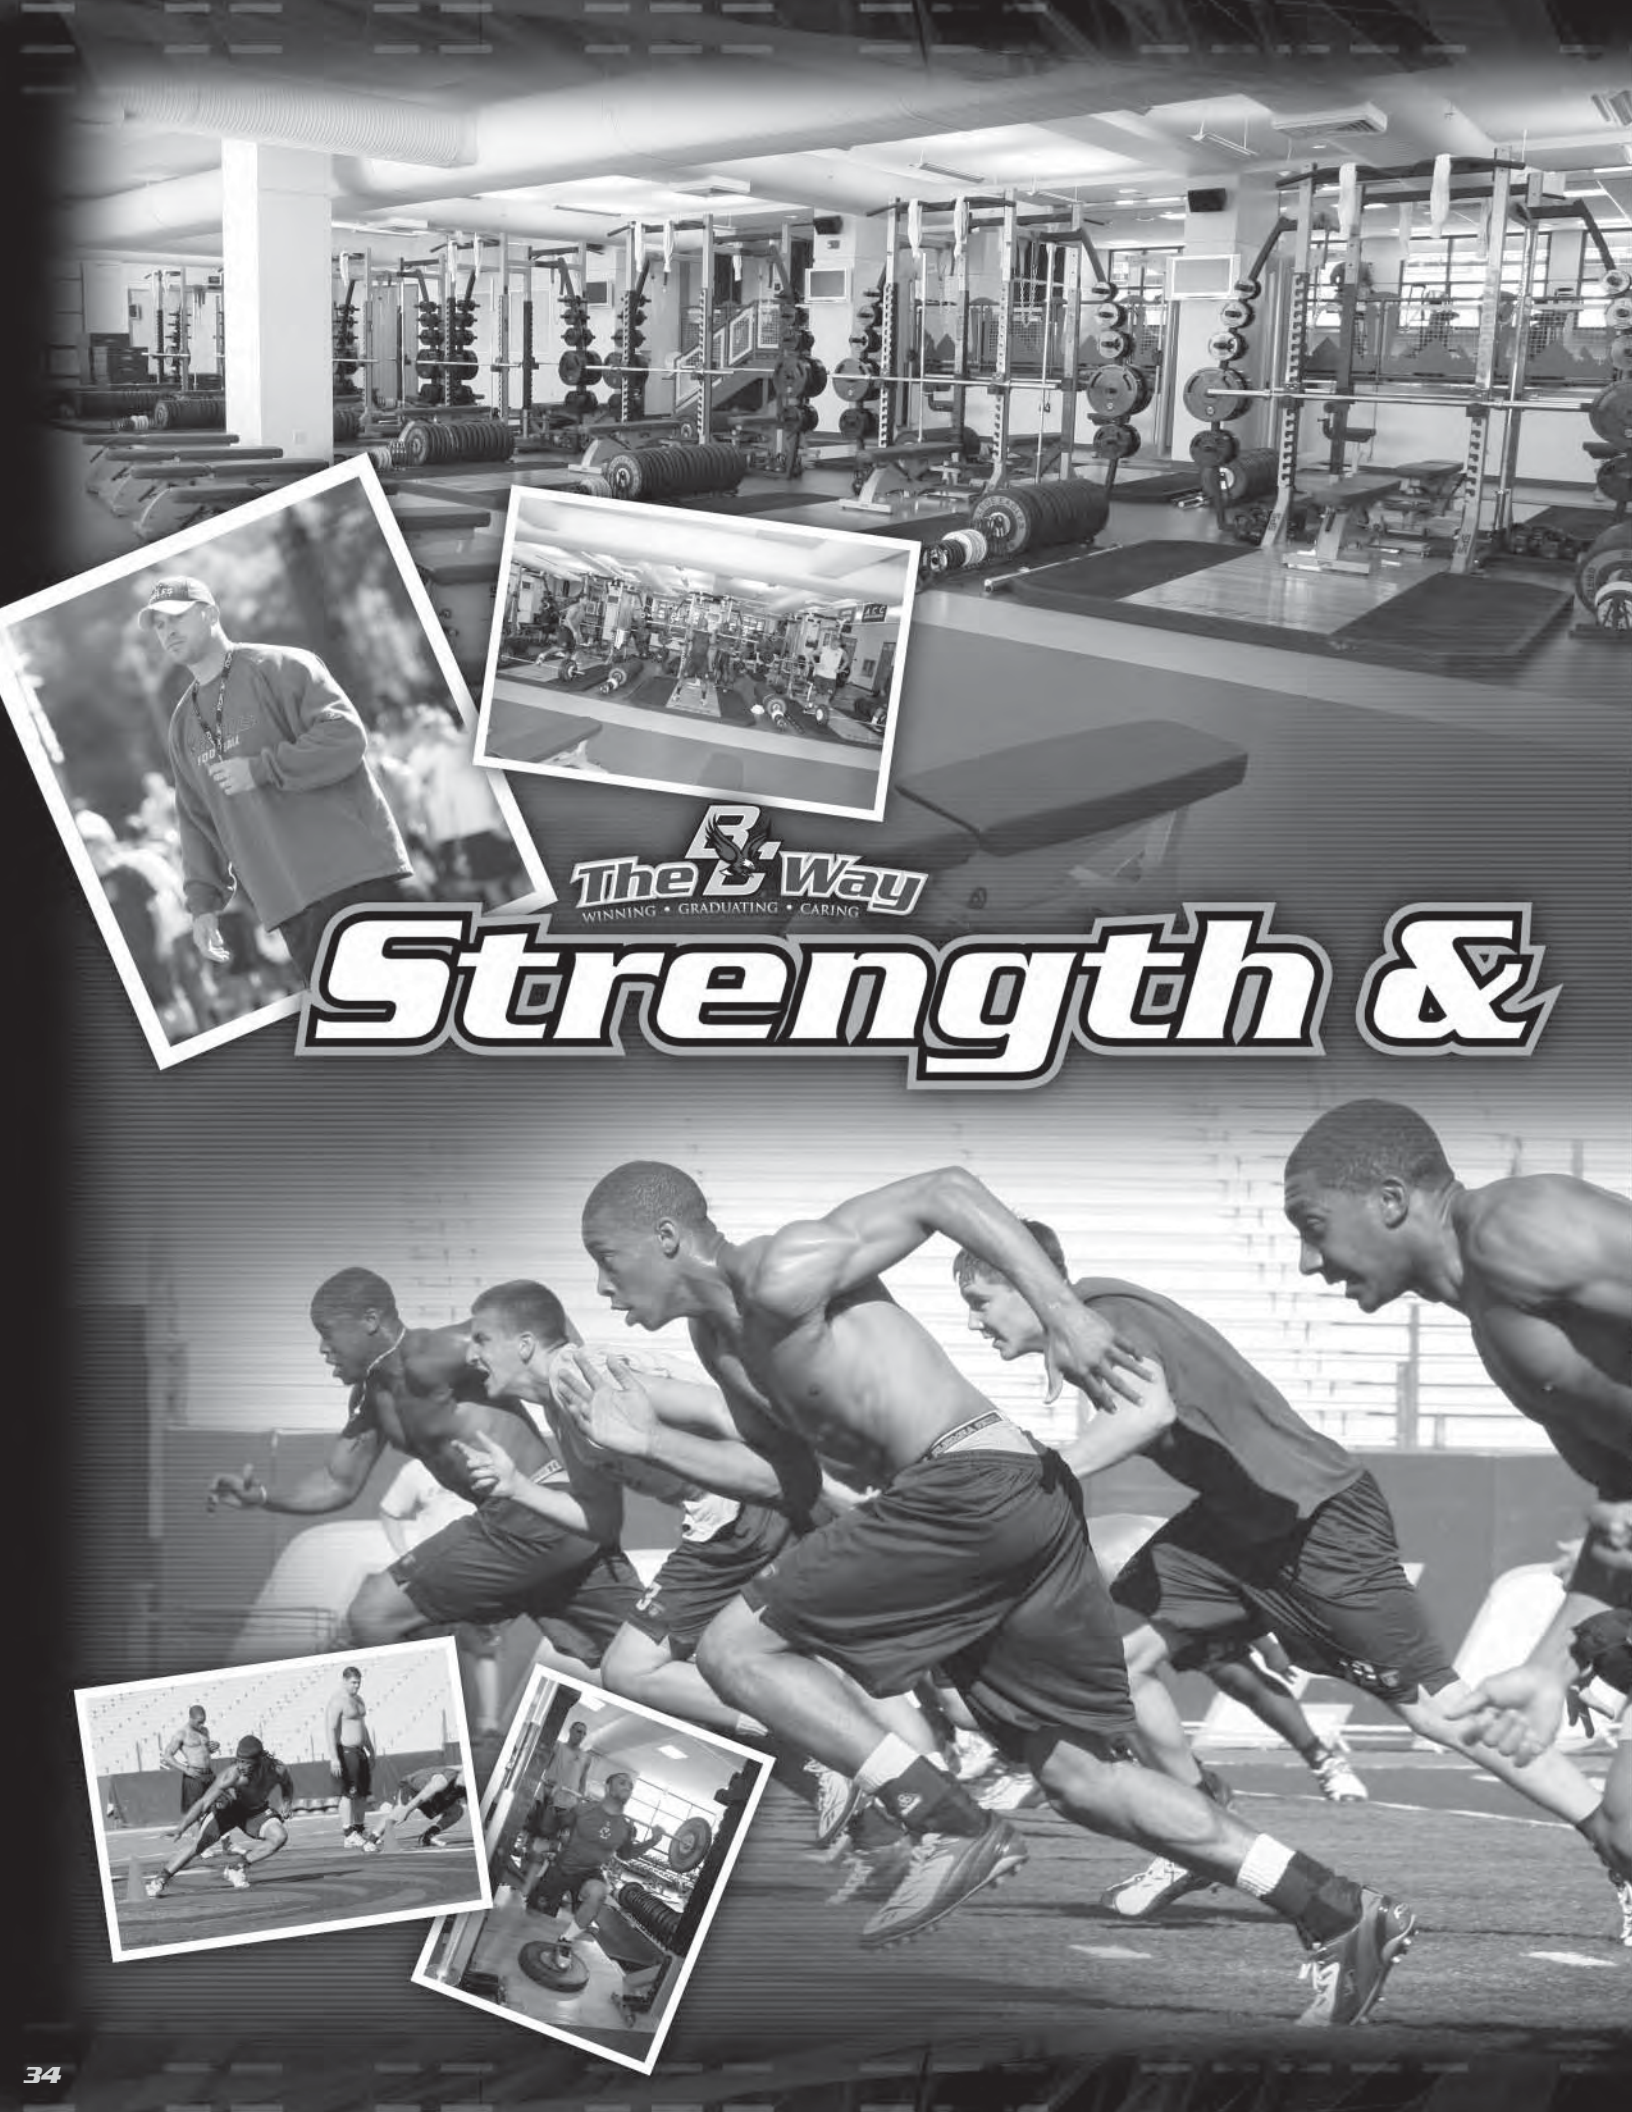

Erected for the first time in 1998 at a cost of $2 million, The Bubble measures 360 x 210' and is 70 feet high. It covers the entire football field and extends a few feet beyond the end zones and sidelines.

Sports Medicine Staff

he sports medicine staff is responsible for the health care needs of student-athletes in one of the largest intercollegiate programs in the United States. This program includes approximately 800 student-athletes in 31 varsity sports. Services include on-site first aid, evaluation and treatment of all athletic injuries, as well as full rehabilitation therapy. Both surgical and non-surgical injuries are rehabilitated within the department, bringing athletes back to full participation.

Student-athletes at Boston College receive the finest medical care available for the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of athletic injuries. Steve Bushee, Assistant Athletic Director/Sports Medicine, serves as the head athletic trainer for the football team, assisted by certified athletic trainer Mike Vigneau. The Sports Medicine staff consists of six full-time athletic trainers, all of whom are certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and licensed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Six resident trainers, also certified and licensed and recent graduates of strenuous athletic training curricula, support the fulltime staff.

Overseen by Dr. Tom Nary, Head Team Physician and Director of Health Services, five team physicians serve as the medical corps for the Sports Medicine Department. These include two orthopedic surgeons, an internist, a general practitioner and a sports medicine/emergency medicine physician. Other specialists are on call for consultation on the care and treatment of injuries, while the medical staff confers as needed with numerous medical specialists in the greater Boston area.

In his own words

"We are all part of the family. Since we are here all the time and over the summer, I think it brings us together. We are always together, never apart. Even when you do go away for breaks, we come back and it feels like we were never apart."

Boston College student-athletes continue to give back to the community, living by the Jesuit ideal of improving one's self by helping others. Nearly one-third of all BC student-athletes participate in some sort of community project.

More than 100 student-athletes correspond regularly with area school children through the Pen Pal program. In May, the school children get the opportunity to meet with their pen pals at the annual picnic in Alumni Stadium.

BC student-athletes also visit area hospitals and schools throughout the course of the year.

Community Service

LB KEVIN DISTASO
In his own words

"This past year, I participated in the Pedro Arrupe International Immersion program. During spring break, I traveled to Duran, Ecuador, a town right outside the city of Guayaquil, where we stayed with the community and experienced the way that most of the world lives. We saw some terrible things, but also met some great people. My group leader compiled a couple hundred pictures of the trip. The first is a picture of me with a couple of group members at the Damien House which was a leprosy hospital. The second is a picture of me playing soccer with the kids of Duran."

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 56th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 108 national championships, including 57 in women's competition and 51 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 143 times in men's competition and 91 times in women's action.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, Miami has laid claim to five national gridiron titles over the past 22 seasons. Four of the Hurricanes' five national titles (1983, 1987, 1989, 2001) were unanimous with both the sportswriters and coaches polls, while in 1991 Miami (AP) shared the national title with Washington (coaches).

This past season 10 ACC players earned first team All-America recognition, while nine others garnered second or third team honors. The 12 institutions that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 533 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 73 first team academic All-Americans.

Led by Virginia defensive end Chris Long, the second overall selection by the St. Louis Rams, and Boston College quarterback Matt Ryan, the third overall pick by the Atlanta Falcons, the ACC achieved a first for any conference in the NFL Draft, having two of the top four players selected in each of the past three seasons. Over the past three years, the ACC has had more players selected in the NFL Draft (115) than any other conference and, in that time, has had more players taken in the first round of the NFL Draft (25) than any other intercollegiate league. In 2006, the ACC set NFL draft records with 12 first-round selections and 51 players drafted overall.

Long, who was the first defensive player chosen in the draft, became the third straight ACC player to achieve that feat joining NC State's Mario Williams, the top overall selection in the 2006 NFL Draft, and Clemson defensive end Gaines Adams, who was the fourth overall pick in the 2007 Draft, as the first defensive players chosen. No other league has ever had the top defender chosen in the draft for three consecutive years. The ACC also had the most first-round selections in this past year with seven.

The 12 current ACC schools have had 2,157 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 217 first round selections.

ACC Commissioner John Swofford was on hand for the ceremonial coin toss at Boston College's first football game as a member of the ACC in 2005.

ACC

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proven itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 145-129-5 (.529) in post season play.

In 2002, the ACC set an NCAA record when seven of its nine teams (78%) received bowl bids. and the ACC eight teams earn bowl invitations in each of the past three years, a feat matched by only one other conference.

The ACC features four of the Top 12 winningest bowl programs in the nation in Boston College, Georgia Tech, Florida State and Miami. The ACC also has the most successful bowl team (among teams with 15 or more bowl appearances) in the country in terms of winning percentage in Bowl games in Boston College. The Eagles, who currently have a nation's best eight-game winning streak in Bowl Games, are 13-6 with a .684 winning percentage. Georgia Tech (6th, 22-14, .611), Florida State (7th, 22-14-2, .605), and Miami (12th, 19-14, .576) all rank among the nation's elite in terms of bowl winning percentage.

In 2007, the ACC exceeded 4.1 million fans (4,141,540) for the second straight year and recorded its second-highest per game average in its history, and highest since 2004, drawing an average of 53,786 fans. In 2006, in eight more home games the Conference had recorded an all-time high in attendance, as ACC teams drew 4,485,625 fans, breaking the existing record of 3,835,260 set in 2005.

The Boston College student body was granted permission, but no money, by President Edward I. Devitt, S.J., to organize a football team.

1893

Boston College began formal football competition. The team's first game was a 4-0 victory over St. John's Institute, an amateur power of the day. The first varsity game was a 10-6 victory over Boston University.

1894

The BC football team got its first compensated coach, William Nagle. The school adopted the team colors of maroon and gold.

Outlook

1896

BC and Jesuit rival holy Cross met for the first time in a home-and-home series. BC won both games, by scores of 6-2 and 8-6.

1903-1907

In a reaction to the growing public outcry against the violence of college football, as well as for economic considerations, the sport was dropped at Boston College.

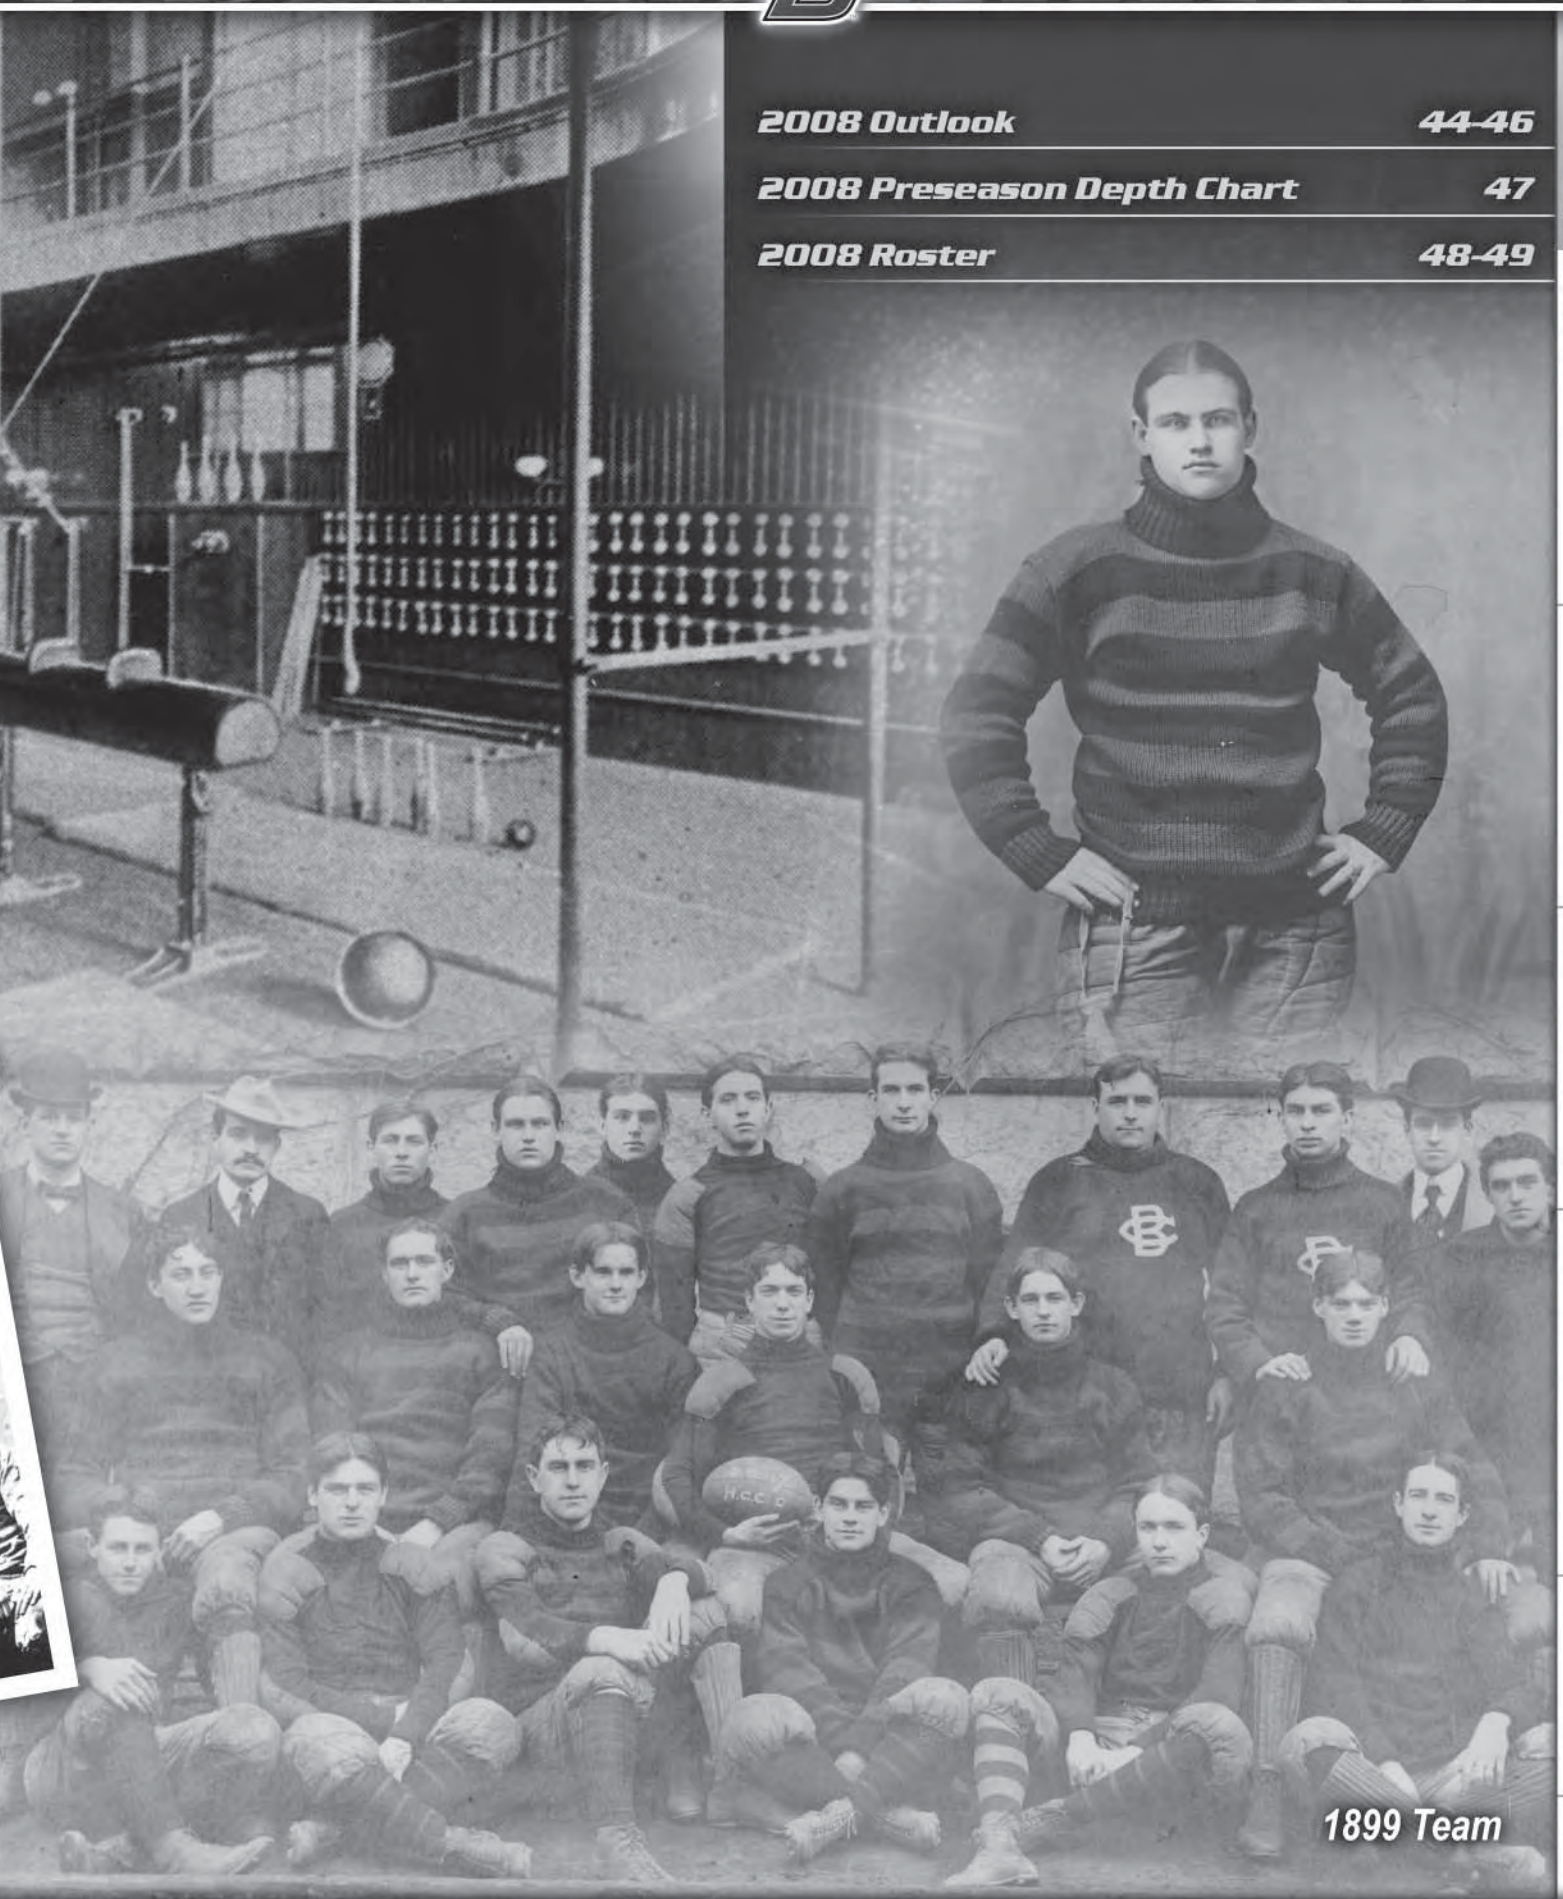

1908

Varsity football was restored at Boston College. The team practiced on the Massachusetts Avenue Grounds, the site of a former city dump. Team members mowed the grass and lined the field before practice sessions.

2008 Outlook

The question on everyone's mind as the Boston College football team took the practice field for spring drills was obvious – who would replace Matt Ryan? Fair question. Ryan, who finished with a 25-7 record in 32 career starts, was the 2007 ACC Player of the Year and the winner of the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm award. More than that, he became the face of BC football the past two seasons, establishing himself as a leader on and off the field.

Senior Chris Crane began and ended spring practice as the apparent starter and is listed as such on the preseason depth chart, but Crane was pressed in the spring by redshirt freshman Dominique Davis. Junior college transfer Codi Boek and redshirt freshman Chris Johnson were also in the mix.

The starting QB will be throwing to an experienced corps of wide receivers and All-ACC first-team tight end Ryan Purvis. Some questions along the offensive line remain to be answered, and the Eagles must find a running back to replace four-year starters Andre Callender and L.V. Whitworth.

On the defensive side of the ball, a solid nucleus returns, especially among the front seven. BC's only loss on the line was defensive end Nick Larkin, and even with the losses of starters Jo-Lonn Dunbar and Tyronne Pruitt, the linebacker positions are stocked with talent and depth. Significantly, linebacker Brian Toal will return after sitting out last season with an injury, and All-ACC tackle B.J. Raji will be back for fall drills after missing last season due to an academic issue (Raji and wide receiver Brandon Robinson sat out spring drills after undergoing shoulder surgery).

Perhaps the biggest and most obvious need for this team is finding a replacement for graduated quarterback Matt Ryan, the ACC Player of the Year who became BC's highest NFL draft selection ever when he was selected third overall by the Atlanta Falcons. Ryan took virtually every snap from center last season and set single-season school and ACC records in pass completions and passing yardage.

Senior-to-be Chris Crane, Ryan's understudy for the past three seasons, will enter fall camp atop the depth chart, but he enters with limited game experience. Crane's most significant action came during the 2006 season, when he made his first career start vs. Buffalo, completing 17-of-26 pass attempts for 142 yards and one touchdown.

Crane will be pushed by redshirt freshman Dominique Davis, who earned All-State first-team honors as a senior at Kathleen High School in Lakeland, Fla. Junior college transfer Codi Boek, who began his career at Idaho State before entering American River Junior College in California, and redshirt freshman Chris Johnson, a high school standout from Paterson, N.J., also will compete.

The O-line depth chart shows a very youthful group of players in the mix to fill some holes created by graduation. The Eagles are strong in the middle as junior Matt Tennant returns after starting all 14 games last season. Tennant will be backed up by senior Bryan Murphy.

The Eagles will sorely miss tackle Gosder Cherilus, who started three seasons on the right side before moving to the left last season and was a first-round NFL draft choice by the Detroit Lions. Sophomore Anthony Castonzo looks to start at left tackle after starting all 14 games on the right side as a true freshman last season. Castonzo will be backed up by redshirt freshman Nathan Richman. Sophomore Rich Lapham is listed atop the depth chart at right tackle heading into spring drills, backed up by junior Pat Sheil. Clif Ramsey, last year's starter at right guard, looks to move to the left side, backed up by junior Nick Rossi, while sophomore Thomas Claiborne will get a shot at securing a starting spot at right guard. Redshirt freshman Mark Spinney will be Claiborne's backup.

The team appears solid at this position as All-ACC first-teamer Ryan Purvis returns for his senior campaign but will be looking for depth after losing Jon Loyte and Ryan Thompson to graduation. On paper, the Eagles appear strong at this position as six lettermen return and only one, departed senior Kevin Challenger, is gone, but they do lose Andre Callender, who emerged as last year's leading receiver from the tailback position. Talented senior Brandon Robinson sat out spring drills after undergoing shoulder surgery in the off-season but should be healthy heading into fall camp. Junior Rich Gunnell emerged as BC's big-play wide receiver last season, finishing second on the team in receptions with 64 catches for 931 yards and a team-best seven touchdowns. Fellow junior Clarence Megwa had 30 receptions for 353 yards and two touchdowns last season, while another junior, Justin Jarvis, finished the season with 19 receptions for 276 yards (14.5 yards per catch) and two touchdowns. Sophomore Ifeanyi Momah will have an opportunity to see increased time after playing last year as a true freshman.

The tailback slot is wide open following the graduation of Andre Callender and L.V. Whitworth, who alternated starting roles at this spot for the past four years. Last season, Callender was BC's leading rusher and receiver, carrying the ball 211 times for 969 yards and nine touchdowns while catching 76 passes for 720 yards and four touchdowns. Incoming true freshman Josh Haden from Accokeek, Md., enrolled in school early and got an opportunity in the spring to stake a claim as the fall starter. As a senior at Friendly High School, Haden was a first-team All-State, All-Metro and All-County selection and was rated as the No. 3 all purpose running back in the nation. Sophomore Dan Mulrooney spent last season as a free safety but will get a shot on the offensive side of the ball. Sophomore James McCluskey returns at fullback after starting last season as a redshirt freshman, but the coaching staff will be looking for depth at this spot after moving another starter from last season, sophomore Brad Newman, to defensive end.

Defensive Line

Defensive coordinator Frank Spaziani must be pleased with the group of experienced players who return to BC's front seven. The Eagles lose only one starter from the defensive line in departed senior defensive end Nick Larkin.

Senior BJ Raji is the most notable returnee to the line but missed spring drills after undergoing shoulder surgery in the off-season. Senior left tackle Ron Brace returns as an all-star candidate and an anchor of the line. Brace was awarded All-ACC honorable mention honors; he ranked third on the team with 7.5 TFLs, recorded a career-high 2.5 sacks and finished the season with 27 total tackles (14 solos). Sophomore Damik Scafe saw a significant amount of playing time as a redshirt freshman in 2007. Senior Jerry Willette, who has started multiple games, provides excellent depth.

At end, junior Alex Albright will be back in the mix after sitting out the final three games of last season after breaking his forearm in the Clemson game. Albright had started the first 11 games of the season and had 38 tackles (22 solos, 16 assists), a team-high 8.5 sacks for 57 yards, 10 tackles-for-loss (second on the team), a quarterback hurry and two forced fumbles. Junior Jim Ramella looks to take over at the other defensive end spot. Sophomore Brad Newman, who moved to defense last year after starting the season as a fullback, will back up Ramella, while experienced junior Austin Giles will back up Albright.

Although the Eagles lost two significant starters in Tyronne Pruitt and two-year team co-captain Jo-Lonn Dunbar, there is talent and depth at this position. The most significant news could be the return of senior Brian Toal, who sat out all of last season with a medical redshirt. Toal, who has started 24 career games and finished the 2006 season with 180 career tackles, also served as BC's short-yardage running back before his injury and has rushed for 12 career touchdowns. His primary competition at the Will spot is senior Robert Francois, who finished last season with 39 total tackles (26 solos), 2.0 TFL, and a half sack. At Sam, junior Mark Herzlich started all 14 games last year and finished second in total tackles with 97 (55 solos, 42 assists), but will be pushed by junior Kevin Akins, who contributed 32 total tackles (26 solos, 6 assists), 5 tackles-for-loss, 4 sacks, two interceptions, a pass break-up and a quarterback hurry last season. Herzlich and Akins will be backed up by a pair of sophomores, Mike Morrissey and Jarick Walker. Junior Mike McLaughlin started three games at middle linebacker last season when Dunbar was injured and is the heir apparent. He will be challenged by sophomore Darius Bagan, redshirt freshman Will Thompson and sophomore John Chisholm.

Junior Marcellus Bowman looks to replace Silva but will be challenged by junior Wes Davis, who returns after missing most of last season with an injury. Senior Paul Anderson brings experience to the strong safety position after starting all 14 games last season.

Junior Roderick Rollins and sophomore DeLeon Gause are the apparent starters at corner. As a true freshman, Gause started three games at the end of last season and performed admirably, garnering ACC Player of the Week honors when he led the Eagles with nine tackles in their win at Clemson. Juniors Razzie Smith and Mark Maglio will challenge for playing time, while true freshman Donnie Fletcher, rated as the state of Ohio's No. 1 cornerback and the No. 2 overall defensive back as a prepster, will have an opportunity to compete after gaining experience in the spring as an early enrollee.

All three will be challenged in the fall by true freshman Ryan Quigley, a first-team All-State kicker from Myrtle Beach, S.C. Junior Jack Geiser returns to handle the long snapping duties.

1913

The college moved from its original location on James Street in Boston's South End to a new campus in Chestnut Hill. The team walked to the public park in Cleveland Circle for daily practice.

1915

The original Alumni Stadium was dedicated on October 30. The stadium was located on middle campus on the site of today's campus green.

1919

A returning war hero, Frank Cavanaugh, was hired as BC's football coach.

1920

The BC football team adopted the nickname "Eagles."

Football

1921

The team drew national attention and was invited to play Baylor in the dedication game of Dallas' Cotton Bowl stadium. The BC team made the 2,400-mile trip by train and defeated Baylor 23-7.

1928

Joe McKenney's first year as head coach was perfect – 9-0. McKenney would later gain entrance into the College Football Hall of Fame as a highly respected football official.

Head Coach

Jeff Jagodzinski

- Gregory P. Barber and Family Head Coach
- 2nd Year at Boston College

To call Jeff Jagodzinski's first season as the head football coach at Boston College a success would be an understatement.

After all, the 2007 Eagles finished 11-3, becoming the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. With a win over Michigan State in the Champs Sports Bowl (BC's eighth consecutive bowl game win, the longest active streak in college football), Jagodzinski surpassed Maryland head coach Ralph Friedgen and former Clemson head coach Ken Hatfield for the most wins by a first-year head coach in Atlantic Coast Conference history. Jagodzinski and West Virginia's Rich Rodriguez were named by the American Football Coaches Association as the Region 1 Coaches of the Year.

Jagodzinski's debut was a season to remember for BC fans, as the Eagles began the year 8-0, the third-best start in school history. After their come-from-behind 14-10 win over No. 8 Virginia Tech that will go down as one of the most memorable games in BC football history, the Eagles climbed to No. 2 in both major polls, their highest ranking since being ranked No. 1 in 1942. The squad became the first BC football team to win 10 or more games in consecutive seasons, and the senior class became the most successful in school history. The team won the ACC Atlantic Division and advanced to the ACC Championship Game for the first time when they pulled off a stunning come-from-behind win at Clemson. They defeated Miami for the first time since the famous "miracle in Miami" game in 1984 and finished 10th in the final AP college football poll and 11th in the USA Today poll, their highest final ranking since the 1984 season.

The Jagodzinski File

Came to Boston College from: Green Bay Packers (NFL)
Year: 2007
Age: 44
Date of Birth: October 12, 1963
Family: Wife, Lisa; Children, Josh, JoAnne, Jessica, Jacqueline and Jennifer

After he was named BC's 33rd head football coach early in 2007, Jagodzinski hit the ground running. He retained the services of key assistants Frank Spaziani (defensive coordinator) and Bill McGovern (linebackers coach) and then assembled an impressive staff that includes former head coaches Jack Bicknell Jr. (assistant head coach/offensive line coach) and Steve Logan (offensive coordinator). Jagodzinski and his staff then went to work to teach and install an entirely new system to his team in time to face a tough schedule that included three consecutive league games to start the year.

Head Coach

The Jagodzinskis – Jessica, Lisa, Jeff, Jacqueline, Jennifer and JoAnne

Quarterback Matt Ryan flourished in the new system installed by Jagodzinski and Logan, becoming a Heisman Trophy candidate and eventually winning the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and the Manning Award after being named ACC Player of the Year. Ryan was later selected third overall by the Atlanta Falcons in the 2008 NFL draft, becoming BC's highest draft pick ever. Offensive tackle Gosder Cherilus was also a first-round draft selection (17th pick, Detroit Lions). Safety Jamie Silva became a consensus All-America first-team selection, and the Eagles finished second in the country in rushing defense.

Jagodzinski continued to make academics a priority for the program, and the Eagles achieved the highest graduation rate (93%) of any team in the top 25. The team won the ACC Sportsmanship Award for football and continued its leadership role in campus and community service functions.

Named to his position Dec. 19, 2006, the 44-year-old Jagodzinski spent the previous season as the offensive coordinator for the Green Bay Packers. Before Green Bay, he spent three seasons with the Atlanta Falcons after five years with the Packers (1999-2003) as tight ends coach.

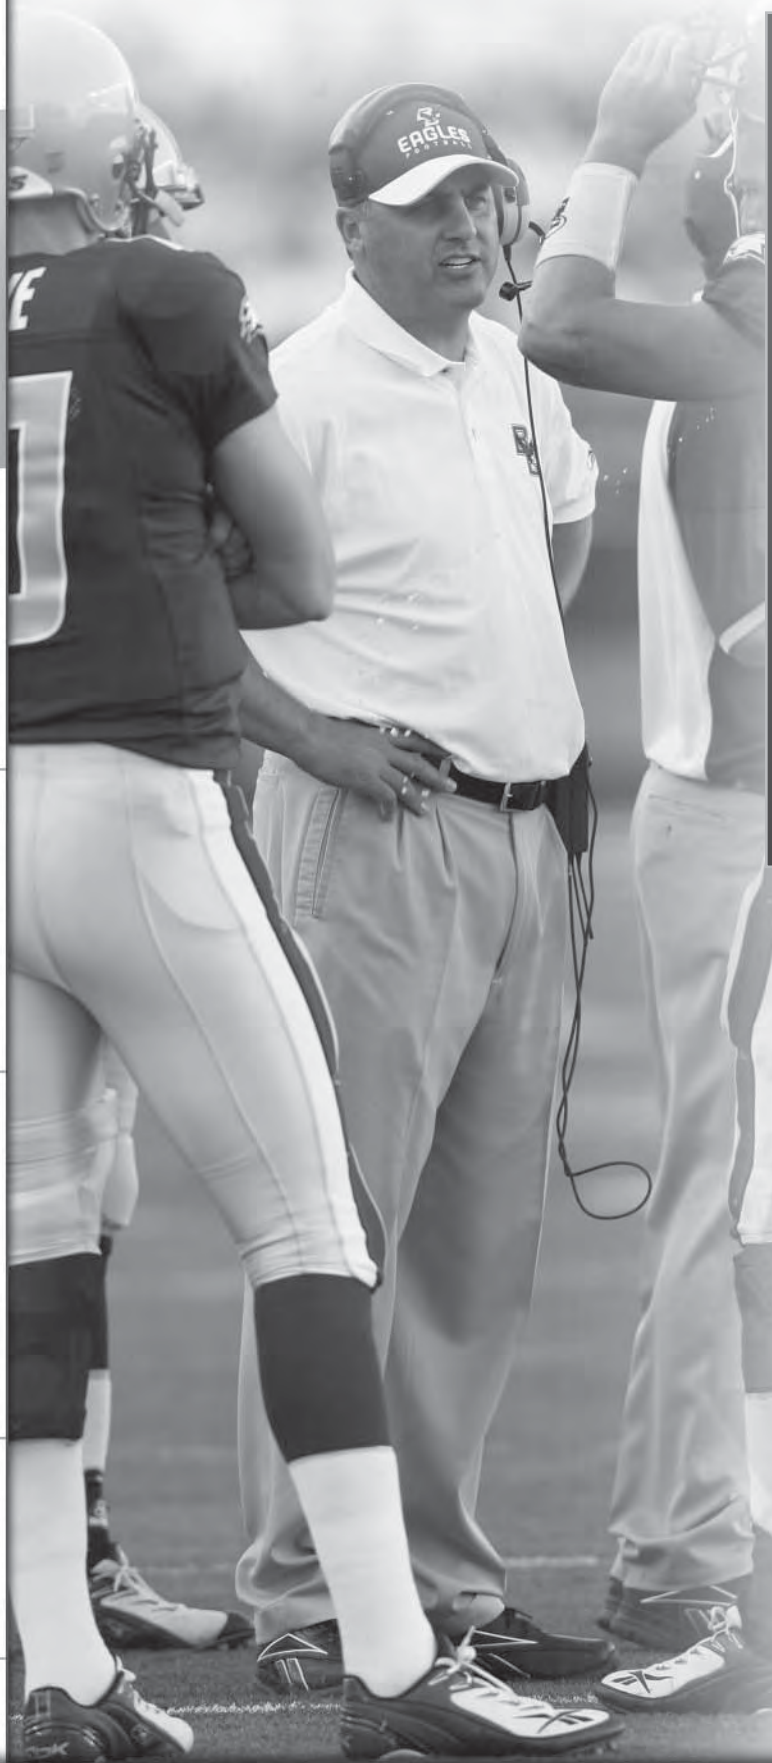

Although Jagodzinski came to BC from the professional ranks, he spent 14 years as a college coach, including two successful seasons (1997-98) as offensive coordinator at Boston College. At BC, his offenses averaged more than 400 yards per game in each of his two seasons. In addition, during both years the Eagles allowed the fewest sacks in the Big East, going from last to first in 1997.

In 1998, Jagodzinski saw one of his pupils gain All-America honors as running back Mike Cloud earned first-team honors and ranked third in the country in rushing; Cloud subsequently was drafted in the second round by Kansas City in 1999. One of his linemen, All-Big East center Damien Woody, was a 1999 first-round draft pick of the New England Patriots, the 17th selection overall. Jagodzinski also coached Seahawks All-Pro quarterback (and former Green Bay backup) Matt Hasselbeck during his 1997 senior season at BC.

Jagodzinski served as Atlanta's offensive line coach in 2005, a promotion he earned after his first year in Atlanta, 2004, as tight ends coach. While in Atlanta, he worked with offensive line consultant Alex Gibbs, the architect of some of the best offensive lines in NFL history, including that of the 1997-98 Super Bowl champion Broncos.

Known as one of the NFL's most successful rushing offenses, the Falcons led the NFL in both rushing yards per game and rushing yards per carry during Jagodzinski's two years in Atlanta. As line coach in 2005, the Falcons' zone-blocking schemes led the way for RB Warrick Dunn's career-high 1,416 rushing yards, a Pro Bowl effort. In part behind timely blocks from the offensive line, Atlanta in 2004 set a franchise record with 2,672 rushing yards, a springboard to the team's berth in the NFC Championship game.

Education

1985	BS (Education) University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

Alge Crumpler, Jagodzinski's primary pupil as tight ends coach in 2004, went to the Pro Bowl that season after catching 48 passes for 774 yards and a career-high six TDs. Crumpler's 16.1-yard per-catch average led all NFL tight ends in `04.

Prior to joining the Falcons, Jagodzinski spent five years (1999-2003) as the Packers' tight ends coach and was instrumental in launching the career of three-time Pro Bowl tight end Bubba Franks. In 2002, Franks recorded 54 receptions, the first 50-plus catch season by a Packers tight end since Boston College graduate Mark Chmura tallied 54 in 1995. Franks' mark fell just two shy of Paul Coffman's club-record 56 (1979).

Prior to his coaching stint at Boston College, Jagodzinski served on coaching staffs at East Carolina (1989-96), Louisiana State (1987-88), Northern Illinois (1986), and the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater (1985), his alma mater.

Before becoming part of the UW-Whitewater coaching staff, Jagodzinski was a three-year starter and four-year player (1981-84) at fullback for the Warhawks. He earned a B.S. degree in education at Whitewater in 1985.

Jagodzinski attended West Allis (Wis.) Central High School, where he played football and baseball, earning all-conference honors in football and participating in the Shrine game, the state's all-star contest, following his senior season.

Born Oct. 12, 1963, in Milwaukee, Jagodzinski and his wife, Lisa, have five children: Josh, JoAnne, Jessica, Jacqueline and Jennifer.

Assistant Coaches

Jack Bicknell Jr.

- Assistant Head Coach
- Offensive Line
- Second Year at Boston College

Jack Bicknell Jr. is in his second year as Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line Coach. Bicknell, a three-year letterwinner on the BC offensive line and the starting center during Doug Flutie's Heisman Trophy year in 1984, came to BC from Texas Tech University, where he was offensive line coach.

In his first season on Jeff Jagodzinski's staff, Bicknell helped mold a young offensive line that protected ACC Player of the Year Matt Ryan and helped the Eagles generate nearly 6,000 yards of total offense. The Eagles finished in a three-way tie for first place in the ACC in the "sacks against" category, allowing only 22 sacks in 14 games. Bicknell played a key role in the further development of eventual NFL draft pick Gosder Cherilus and helped administer a program that began the season 8-0 and was ranked No. 2 in the country in both major polls. The 2007 Eagles eventually finished 11-3, becoming the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The team played in the ACC Championship Game for the first time ever, won an eighth consecutive bowl game (longest active streak in college football), and finished the season ranked 10th in the nation, the team's best final poll finish since Bicknell was a member of the team in 1984.

Prior to going to Texas Tech, Bicknell spent eight seasons as the head coach at Louisiana Tech (43-49). His teams consistently played some of the toughest teams in America, including Florida State, Penn State, Miami, Tennessee, Nebraska, Texas A&M, Clemson and Auburn. Under his leadership, Tech defeated national powers Alabama, Michigan State and Oklahoma State and 22 of his players were either drafted by or signed free agent contracts with NFL teams.

Bicknell, who was one of the youngest Division I-A head coaches when he started, led the 1999 Bulldogs to an 8-3 record, the school's first AP Top 25 ranking and a 29-28 upset win over eventual SEC champion Alabama. In 2001, Louisiana Tech won the Western Athletic Conference championship during its first year of membership, earning Bicknell conference Coach of the Year honors. Louisiana Tech went on to play Clemson in the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl, the program's first postseason appearance since 1990.

Bicknell began his coaching career at Boston College in 1985 as a graduate assistant. In 1987, he went to the University of New Hampshire as the defensive line coach and took over the offensive line in 1993. During his time at UNH, the Wildcats won the Yankee Conference in 1991 and 1994 and were the New England Division champions in 1996.

Bicknell's father, Jack, served as the head coach of the Barcelona Dragons of NFL Europe and was the head coach at BC from 1981-90, finishing with a record of 59-55-1. He led the Eagles to four of their most successful seasons in history, including a 10-2 campaign in 1984 that culminated with the "Miracle in Miami" win, Flutie's Heisman Trophy and a 45-28 win over Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

Bicknell received both his bachelor's (1985) and master's (1987) degrees from BC. In addition to starting in the Cotton Bowl, he also played in the 1982 Tangerine Bowl and was the starting center when Flutie threw the Hail Mary pass to defeat Miami in 1984. As a senior at BC, he received the Scanlon Award, the highest honor bestowed upon a BC football player, the Scarminach Award for athletic and academic excellence and the Dean's Award in the school of education. Bicknell and his wife Helen have three children, John, Katelyn and Alyse.

Assistant Coaches

Steve Logan

- Offensive Coordinator
- Second Year at Boston College

Steve Logan is in his second year as BC's offensive coordinator.

In 2007, Logan's offense, led by ACC Player of the Year and first-round draft choice Matt Ryan, staked a spot in the record books en route to leading the ACC in total offense and passing offense and finishing third in scoring offense. Ryan completed 388-of-654 passes for 4,507 yards and 31 touchdowns, setting new BC single-season records for completions, yards and touchdowns and ACC records in completions and yardage. After absorbing Logan's system heading into his senior year, Ryan flourished and set a new BC career record for pass completions (807) and finished third on the Eagles' all-time passing yardage list with 9,313 yards and 56 touchdowns. He went on to win the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and the Manning Award and finished seventh in Heisman Trophy balloting.

Logan was also instrumental in helping running back Andre Callender set a BC single-season record for receptions (76), earning him All-ACC second-team honors. Callender led the ACC in yards from scrimmage (rushing, receiving) and set a single-season ACC record for most pass receptions by a running back. Tight end Ryan Purvis, who had 54 receptions for 553 yards and four touchdowns, was an All-ACC first-team selection while offensive tackle Gosder Cherilus was a second-team selection en route to being selected in the NFL draft.

The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and ranked No. 2 in the country en route to finishing 11-3, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The team played in its first ACC Championship Game and won an eighth consecutive bowl game to extend the nation's longest active bowl game winning streak. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best final ranking since 1984.

Logan joined the BC staff after two seasons as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach with the Berlin Thunder of NFL Europe and one season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach with the Rhein Fire. Logan helped Dave Ragone (2004) and Rohan Davey (2005) earn Offensive Player of the Year and All-NFL Europe honors. Since August 2006, he had hosted a sports talk-radio show in Raleigh, N.C.

Logan was reunited at Boston College with Head Coach Jeff Jagodzinski; the two worked together under ECU coach Bill Lewis from 1989-92. When Logan succeeded Lewis, Jagodzinski remained on staff for four years before accepting the offensive coordinator position at Boston College.

Prior to his stint in NFL Europe, Logan served as the head coach of East Carolina from 1992-2002. He became the school's all-time winningest coach (69-58), and led the Pirates to five bowl games, including the 1994 St. Jude Liberty Bowl, the 1995 St. Jude Liberty Bowl, the 1999 Mobile Alabama Bowl, the 2000 Galleryfurniture.com Bowl, and the 2001 GMAC Bowl. Logan led the 1995 team to a 9-3 record and a No. 23 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

In 1996, ECU gave the Miami Hurricanes their worst defeat (31-6) in the Orange Bowl in 12 seasons. In 1999, Logan and the Pirates added to their list of "high-profile" victories, beating West Virginia, South Carolina, Miami and NC State en route to another bowl game.

Logan is widely regarded as an offensive architect, and began implementing his system as co-offensive coordinator for ECU in 1990 and 1991. The 1991 team finished 11-1, reached a top-10 national ranking and defeated NC State in the Peach Bowl.

Logan began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Union High School in Tulsa, Okla. in 1974. In 1980, he became the tight ends coach at Oklahoma State under head coach Jimmy Johnson. He moved to Hutchinson Junior College for two years before taking the reigns as offensive coordinator at Tulsa under John Cooper. Logan headed for Colorado in 1985, coaching the Buffalo running backs for two years before coaching the quarterbacks at Mississippi State until 1989.

Logan, a 1975 graduate of Tulsa, developed much of his coaching philosophy through the influence of several head coaches. He worked with former Ohio State coach John Cooper at Tulsa, former Miami Dolphins coach Jimmy Johnson at Oklahoma State, former Colorado coach Bill McCartney, and with Bill Lewis at East Carolina.

Logan and his wife, Laura, are the parents of two sons, Vincent and Nathanael.

Assistant Coaches

Frank Spaziani

- Defensive Coordinator
- 12th Year at Boston College

Frank Spaziani is in his 12th year on the BC coaching staff, his 10th as defensive coordinator. Spaziani is one of two coaches (along with linebackers coach Bill McGovern) who remained on staff after Jeff Jagodzinski was named head coach.

In 2007 Spaziani's defense ranked second in the nation and led the ACC in rushing defense, allowing just 75.5 yards per game. The BC defense also ranked second in the ACC in red zone defense, keeping opponents from scoring nearly 72 percent of the time. Senior free safety Jamie Silva was a consensus All-America first-team selection and was one of three finalists for the 2007 Jim Thorpe Award, which is given to the nation's top defensive back. Silva was MVP of the 2007 Champs Sports bowl, in which he had two interceptions.

Spaziani was part of a staff that led the Eagles to an 11-3 finish, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and were ranked No. 2 in the nation in both major polls. The team won the Atlantic Division of the ACC and went on to win an eighth consecutive bowl game, the longest active bowl game winning streak in America. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best finish since the 1984 season.

Spaziani's name will go down in the BC record books as the only coach with a perfect record. He was credited with BC's 25-24 win over Navy in the 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl as he served as Interim Head Coach following the departure of Tom O'Brien.

In 2006, Boston College led the ACC with five defensive touchdowns. The Eagles were third in the ACC in scoring defense and Jo-Lonn Dunbar was named National Defensive Player of the Week when he scored two of BC's three defensive touchdowns vs. Maryland. In 2005, BC led the ACC in rushing defense (90.8 ypg.) and red zone defense (25-39, 64.1%) and were third in scoring defense (15.9 ypg.). The 2004 Eagles were ranked in the top 10 nationally in scoring defense, top 20 in rushing defense and top 25 in pass efficiency defense. In 2003 BC was ranked second in the Big East in total defense and rushing defense. During the 2002 season, the Eagle defense was ranked 13th nationally in passing defense, 25th in pass efficiency defense, 23rd in scoring defense and 37th in total defense.

Spaziani joined the BC coaching staff after three seasons with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League. During his coaching tenure at Calgary, he served two seasons as the defensive coordinator. Spaziani coached BC's running backs, including All-American Mike Cloud, during his first two seasons at BC.

Prior to his coaching stint at Calgary, he served as the defensive coordinator for two years with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Spaziani spent nine years as a member of the Virginia coaching staff, where he was defensive coordinator for his last five seasons in Charlottesville, after having been defensive backs coach for the first four.

Spaziani has been a member of coaching staffs for teams that have reached 19 bowl games, including the 2007 Champs Sports Bowl, the 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl, the 2005 MPC Computers Bowl, the 2004 Continental Tire Bowl, the 2003 Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl (BC), the 2002 Motor City Bowl (BC), the 2001 Music City Bowl (BC), the 2000 Aloha Bowl (BC), the 1999 Insight.com Bowl (BC), the 1990 Sugar Bowl (Virginia), the 1989 Citrus Bowl (Virginia), the 1987 All-American Bowl (Virginia), the 1984 Peach Bowl (Virginia), the 1981 Liberty Bowl (Navy) and the 1980 Garden State Bowl and 1978 Holiday Bowl (Navy).

Spaziani is a 1969 graduate of Penn State, where he was a star defensive end on the Nittany Lions teams that tied Florida State in the 1967 Gator Bowl and defeated Kansas in the 1969 Orange Bowl. He began his coaching career in 1969 as a graduate assistant to Joe Paterno at Penn State. After three years as an assistant high school coach, he became head coach at Hempstead (N.Y.) High School in 1973, and, a year later, at Raritan (N.J.) High. He joined head coach George Welsh as an offensive assistant at the U.S. Naval Academy in 1975 and went with Welsh from Annapolis to Virginia in 1982.

Frank and his wife, the former Laura Heikel, are the parents of three children, Joseph and twins Avery and Andrew.

Assistant Coaches

Jeff Comissiong

- Defensive Line
- Second Year at Boston College

Defensive Line Coach Jeff Comissiong is in his second year as a member of the BC football coaching staff.

In his first season (2007) on the BC staff, Comissiong coached a line that was part of a defense that ranked second in the nation and led the ACC in rush defense, allowing just 75.5 yards per game. The BC defense also ranked second in the ACC in red zone defense, keeping opponents from scoring nearly 72 percent of the time.

Comissiong was part of a staff that led the Eagles to an 11-3 finish, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and were ranked No. 2 in the nation in both major polls. The team won the Atlantic Division of the ACC and went on to win an eighth consecutive bowl game, the longest active bowl game winning streak in America. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best finish since the 1984 season.

Comissiong came to Boston College from nearby Harvard University, where he coached in 2006. Before moving to Harvard, Comissiong worked as an assistant at The University of Maine for eight seasons.

Comissiong began his coaching career at Maine in 1996, serving as a defensive line assistant for two seasons. During this stint, Comissiong worked with Boston College Running Backs Coach Ben Sirmans, who was on the Maine staff from 1996 to 1999. From Maine, Comissiong moved on to Bates College, where he coached the defensive line in 1998 and 1999.

Comissiong returned to Maine in 2000, coaching the running backs and then the defensive line. In 2003, Comissiong was also given the duties of recruiting coordinator for the Maine program.

Upon his arrival at Harvard, Comissiong assumed more recruiting duties, overseeing recruitment in New York, New England, and Canada, as well as serving as the program's professional liaison.

The Comissiongs – Alison, Mya, Jeff and Jacey

Last season, with Comissiong working with the defensive line, Harvard boasted the stingiest run defense in the Ivy League. The 66.5 YPG allowed was far and away the most impressive mark in the league, as was the 2.0 YPC allowed by the unit.

A four-year letterwinner in football, Comissiong graduated from Maine in 1997. Jeff, and his wife Alison, have two daughters, Jacey and Mya.

Assistant Coaches

Ryan Day

- Wide Receivers
- Second Year at Boston College

Ryan Day is in his second year as BC's wide receivers coach.

In 2007, Day helped develop a receiving corps that caught 390 passes for 4,535 yards and 31 touchdowns as the Eagles amassed 5,924 yards of total offense on the year. The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and were ranked No. 2 in both major polls en route to an 11-3 finish, the most wins for a BC team since 1940. The team played in its first ACC Championship Game and extended the nation's longest active bowl game winning streak to eight games. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best finish since the 1984 season.

Prior to joining Jeff Jagdozinski's staff, Day spent the 2005 season as offensive graduate assistant at the University of Florida for Urban Meyer. The Gators posted a 9-3 record with Day assisting the offense. Gator wide receiver Chad Jackson was a semifinalist for the Biletnikoff Award, ranking sixth nationally in receptions per game (7.36), while Day was assisting with the offense.

Day arrived in Gainesville after spending the 2003 and 2004 seasons as the offensive graduate assistant at BC. With the Eagles, Day worked with the wide receivers and helped the team to a 9-3 overall record in 2004 and a No. 21 ranking in the final AP and ESPN/USA Today poll after defeating North Carolina, 37-24, in the Continental Tire Bowl. The ranking was the highest for the school since 1993 and senior wide receiver Grant Adams earned All-Big East accolades. In 2003, the Eagles posted an 8-5 overall record and defeated Colorado State, 35-21, in the San Francisco Bowl.

The Days – Christina, Ryan Jr. and Ryan

Day was the tight ends coach at his alma mater, the University of New Hampshire, in 2002. A three-year starter at quarterback and team captain as a senior in 2001, Day held four UNH passing records upon graduation, including best passing percentage in a career (59.9, 1997-2001) and touchdown passes in a career (53). His 653 completions rank seventh-best in Atlantic 10 conference history.

Born March 12, 1979, Day is a native of Manchester, NH and is married to Christina. He earned his undergraduate degree in business administration in 2002 before receiving a master's of science in administrative studies at BC in 2004. He was the New Hampshire Gatorade Player of the Year at Manchester Central High School in 1996.

Day and his wife, Christina, recently had a son, Ryan Jr.

Assistant Coaches

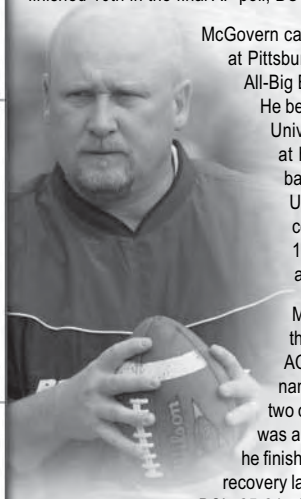

Bill McGovern

- Linebackers
- 9th Year at Boston College

Bill McGovern is in his ninth season as linebackers coach (and 12th overall) at Boston College. McGovern is one of two coaches (along with defensive coordinator Frank Spaziani) who remained on staff following the hiring of Jeff Jagodzinski as head coach.

In 2007, McGovern oversaw a linebacking corps that included All-ACC second-team selection Jo-Lonn Dunbar and rising stars Mark Herzlich, Mike McLaughlin, Robert Francois and Kevin Akins. Both Dunbar and Herzlich placed within the top 20 of the ACC in total tackles and the BC defense ranked in the top 20 nationally for scoring and total defense. He helped coach a defense that ranked second in the nation and led the ACC in rush defense, allowing just 75.5 yards per game. The BC defense also ranked second in the ACC in red zone defense, keeping opponents from scoring nearly 72 percent of the time.

McGovern was part of a staff that led the Eagles to an 11-3 finish, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and were ranked No. 2 in the nation in both major polls. The team won the Atlantic Division of the ACC and went on to win an eighth consecutive bowl game, the longest active bowl game winning streak in America. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best finish since the 1984 season.

McGovern came to BC in 2000 after serving as defensive backs coach at Pittsburgh for three seasons. At Pitt, he coached two first-team All-Big East selections (Hank Poteat and Ramon Walker) in 1999. He began his coaching career in 1985 as freshman coach at the University of Pennsylvania. He served as a part-time coach at his alma mater, Holy Cross, from 1986-87 and defensive backs/kickers coach in 1991; defensive backs coach at the University of Massachusetts from 1987-90 and defensive coordinator 1992-93; and defensive backs coach at BC from 1994-96 (and interim defensive coordinator in 1995) before accepting the Pittsburgh position.

McGovern has become known as one of the top recruiters in the Northeast and his linebackers have received numerous ACC and Big East honors. In 2006, in fact, Dunbar was named National Defensive Player of the Week when he scored two of BC's three defensive touchdowns vs. Maryland. Dunbar was also named MVP of the 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl when he finished with a game-high 14 tackles (10 solos) and a key fumble recovery late in the game that led to a last-second field goal to secure BC's 25-24 win over Navy.

McGovern has coached or recruited notable BC linebackers including Frank Chamberlin, Scott Bradley, Vinny Ciurciu, Josh Ott, Ricky Brown, Ray Henderson and Brian Toal. In 2004, Henderson (two-time Big East Defensive Player of the Week) topped the Big East with .5 interceptions per game (fourth in the nation) and Toal was named Big East Rookie of the Year.

A native of Oradell, N.J., McGovern was a four-year starter at defensive back for Holy Cross before his graduation in 1985. He set a single-season record for interceptions (11) for I-AA and was a consensus first-team All-America (I-AA) selection in 1985. He is a member of the Holy Cross Hall of Fame and has been named to the Bergen County (N.J.) All-Century Team.

McGovern played a key role in recruiting New Jersey linebackers Frank Chamberlin and Gerald Hayes, both of whom went on to play in the NFL.

McGovern has coached in 10 collegiate bowl games, including the 2007 Champs Sports Bowl, the 2006 Meineke Car Care Bowl, the 2005 MPC Computers Bowl, the 2004 Continental Tire Bowl, the 2003 Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl, the 2002 Motor City Bowl, the 2001 Music City Bowl, the 2000 Aloha Bowl, the 1994 Aloha Bowl (in his first stint at BC) and the 1997 Liberty Bowl with Pittsburgh.

McGovern lives in Ashland with his wife, Colleen, and daughters Amanda, Delainey and MacKenzie.

Assistant Coaches

Ben Sirmans

- Running Backs
- Second Year at Boston College

Ben Sirmans is in his second season as BC's running backs coach.

In 2007, Sirmans helped running back Andre Callender set a BC single-season record for receptions (76), earning him All-ACC second-team honors. Callender led the ACC in yards from scrimmage (rushing, receiving) and set a single-season ACC record for most pass receptions by a running back.

The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and ranked No. 2 in the country en route to finishing 11-3, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The team played in its first ACC Championship Game and won an eighth consecutive bowl game to extend the nation's longest active bowl game winning streak. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best final ranking since 1984.

Sirmans brought 10 years of experience as a coach to the BC program when he joined Jeff Jagodzinski's staff in 2007. He began his college coaching career in 1996 at his alma mater, the University of Maine. From 1996 through 1999, Sirmans worked as running backs coach and recruiting coordinator at Maine. In 1996 and 1997, Sirmans worked with Boston College Defensive Line Coach Jeff Comissiong, who was then an assistant at Maine.

In 2000, Sirmans moved on to Kent State. He coached the running backs for five years, first under current New England Patriots Defensive Coordinator Dean Pees (2000-03), and then under Doug Martin (2004). With Sirmans' assistance, the Kent State offense was notably productive. In 2001 and 2002, the Golden Eagles rolled up 215 yards per game along the ground, finishing 13th and 15th nationally in rushing production those two seasons. In 2004, Kent State scored 30.5 points per game, the second-highest mark in school history.

In 2005, Sirmans joined the staff at Michigan State as running backs coach. That season, the Spartans finished 20th in the nation, rushing for 201.8 yards per game. In 2006, Sirmans coached special teams as well as the running backs.

In his playing days, Sirmans was a running back at Maine under current Iowa Head Coach Kirk Ferentz. His senior year, Sirmans ran for 1,214 yards, earning All-Conference and All-New England honors. He graduated from Maine in 1993 with a degree in physical education, health, and recreation.

A native of East Orange, N.J., Sirmans is married to the former Tia Thompson.

Assistant Coaches

Mike Siravo

- Recruiting Coordinator
- Defensive Backs
- Second Year at Boston College

Mike Siravo is in his second season as defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator for the BC football team.

Siravo helped develop BC's 29-member recruiting class, the largest entering class in BC football history. In 2007, he was part of a BC defense that finished fourth in the ACC in pass defense efficiency and finished third in the league in total defense. Senior free safety Jamie Silva was a consensus All-America first-team selection and was one of three finalists for the 2007 Jim Thorpe Award, which is given to the nation's top defensive back. Silva was MVP of the 2007 Champs Sports bowl, in which he had two interceptions. Siravo also oversaw the emergence of freshman defensive back DeLeon Gause, who earned ACC Player of the Week accolades. Cornerback DeJuan Tribble was named to the All-ACC second team.

Siravo was part of a BC staff that led the team to an 8-0 start and a No. 2 national ranking. The 2007 Eagles eventually finished 11-3, becoming the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The team played in the ACC Championship Game for the first time ever, won an eighth consecutive bowl game (longest active streak in college football), and finished the season ranked 10th in the nation, the team's best final poll finish since 1984.

Siravo came to Boston College from Temple University, where he served as recruiting coordinator and linebackers coach last season. At Temple, he was one of four coaches on that staff (Al Golden, Ryan Day, Bob Bicknell) with Boston College ties and heads to BC with seven years of collegiate coaching experience.

Prior to his experience at Temple, Siravo spent the three seasons as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator at Columbia University. Siravo developed a strong national recruiting system under head coach Bob Shoop. He also helped linebacker Chuck Britton earn All-Ivy honors in 2004.

A former linebacker at Boston College, Siravo joined the Eagles as a walk-on in 1995 and later earned a scholarship. A two-year letterwinner, he played under head coaches Dan Henning and Tom O'Brien. Siravo also excelled off the field, earning Big East All-Academic team honors as a senior.

Siravo remained in Chestnut Hill upon graduation and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for recruiting in 1998. The Eagles' February 1999 recruiting class was rated the best in school history, ranking 15th nationally according to expert Tom Lemming and featuring future NFL players William Green, Augie Hoffmann, Keith Leavitt and Derrick Knight. Siravo spent the 1999 and 2000 campaigns as Boston College's defensive graduate assistant, working with the secondary and linebackers. The Eagles made two postseason bowl appearances, the 1999 Insight.com Bowl and the 2000 Aloha Bowl.

Born March 9, 1976, Siravo is a native of Pawtucket, R.I. and earned his undergraduate degree in history from Boston College in 1998. He received a master's of science in administrative studies of business from BC in 2000. He is married to the former Alison Cahill.

Assistant Coaches

Don Yanowsky

- Tight Ends, Special Teams
- Second Year at Boston College

Don Yanowsky is in his second year on the BC coaching staff.

In 2007, BC's tight ends combined for 73 receptions for 719 yards and five touchdowns. One of Yanowsky's tight ends, Ryan Purvis, was named to the All-ACC first team. On special teams, the Eagles finished third in the ACC in punting and second in on-side kick success. One of those recovered on-side kicks led to the final score in BC's thrilling 14-10 come-from-behind win at Virginia Tech.

Yanowsky was part of a staff that led the Eagles to an 11-3 finish, the first BC team to win 11 games since 1940. The 2007 Eagles began the season 8-0 and were ranked No. 2 in the nation in both major polls. The team won the Atlantic Division of the ACC and went on to win an eighth consecutive bowl game, the longest active bowl game winning streak in America. The Eagles finished 10th in the final AP poll, BC's best finish since the 1984 season.

Yanowsky came to Boston College after serving as tight ends and special teams coach at East Carolina for one season. Before that, he spent three seasons as a member of the Duke coaching staff (2003-05), the last two as offensive line coach. He spent the 2003 season coaching Duke's outside linebackers and special teams.

At BC, Yanowsky was reunited with offensive coordinator Steve Logan, who hired Yanowsky as defensive line coach at East Carolina in 2001. With more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience, Yanowsky began his career as a student assistant coach at Toledo in 1981. He then spent three years at Utah as an offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator. In 1985, Yanowsky became the offensive coordinator at Bountiful (Utah) High School before taking the head coaching reigns at Viewmont (Utah) High School in 1987. Two years later, he returned to the collegiate ranks as the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Memphis.

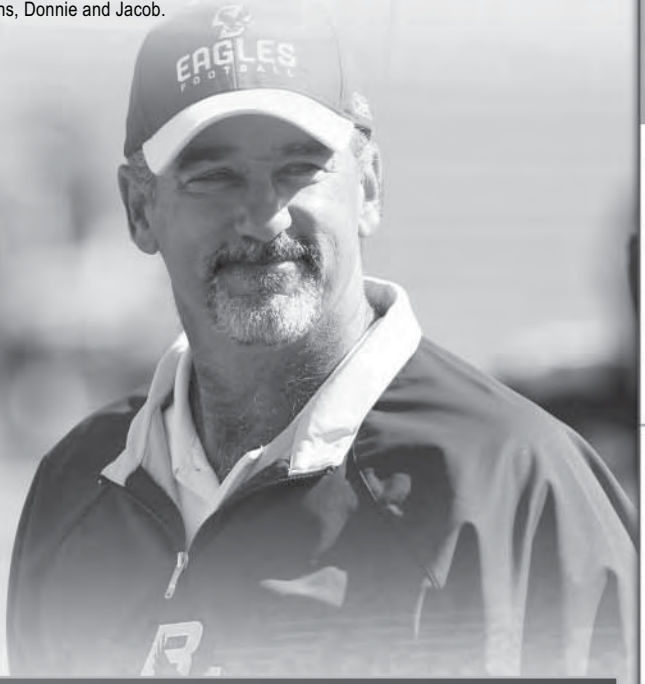

The Yanowskys – Jacob, Janet, Don and Donnie

After six seasons with the Tigers, he coached one campaign at Minnesota as the defensive line coach before spending four seasons at Arkansas State, the last three as the outside linebackers and special teams coach. Yanowsky was also the recruiting coordinator for the Indians before being hired by Steve Logan at East Carolina in 2001.

In his first year at ECU, Yanowsky helped the Pirates earn a berth in the GMAC Bowl, while coaching the defensive line and on special teams. In 2003, he took a job in the Atlantic Coast Conference at Duke, where he provided an immediate impact on special teams. The Blue Devils improved from a No. 113 national rank to No. 21 in kickoff returns and placed third in the ACC in kickoff coverage. From 2004-2005, he coached the offensive line at Duke before beginning his second stint at East Carolina.

A 1982 graduate of Toledo with a degree in education, he was a two-year starter at offensive guard. A native of Chicago, Ill., Yanowsky is married to the former Janet Free and the couple has two sons, Donnie and Jacob.

Barry Gallup

- Associate A.D., Football Operations
- Ninth Year at Boston College

Former Northeastern University football coach and BC grad ('69) Barry Gallup was recently promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Football Operations after serving as Assistant Athletics Director since 2000. Gallup handles a number of administrative duties for head coach Jeff Jagodzinski and his staff.

Gallup has dedicated a large part of his life to football in Boston. In early 2007, Gallup received the John Baronian Award for Lifetime Contribution to Football from the Gridiron Club of Greater Boston at its annual awards ceremony.

After starring on the football field at Swampscott High for legendary coach Stan Bondelevitch, earning All-America honors as a senior, he entered BC in 1965 and would become the greatest receiver in the school's history before graduating in 1969. He set school marks for receptions with 87 and receiving yards, 1,325 (Mel Briggs eclipsed both of the records in 1973). He had 735 yards and established a season record for catches (46) as a senior (a mark eventually broken by Gallup protégé Brian Brennan in 1983). He also played two years of college basketball for legendary former Boston Celtic Bob Cousy.

Upon college graduation, Gallup turned down an offer to play with the Boston Patriots and began his career in teaching and coaching, working in the Swampscott school district. In 1970, he embarked upon a 20-year coaching career with the Eagles when he became a part-time assistant coach at BC. He became a full-time assistant in 1973, coaching the team's defensive line. His role changed to receivers and tight ends coach and head recruiting coordinator when Jack Bicknell arrived as head coach in 1981.

As an assistant first to Joe Yukica, then to Ed Chlebek and finally to Bicknell, Gallup established himself as a top recruiter and football strategist. Gallup played a key role in attracting some of the nation's most talented players to BC, including Heisman Trophy winner and current New England Patriot Doug Flutie, Joe Nash, Fred Smerlas and Peter Cronan. He coached several future professional players while directing the receiving corps, including Brian Brennan (Cleveland Browns), Mark Chmura (Green Bay Packers), Kelvin Martin (Dallas Cowboys), Pete Mitchell (New York Giants), Tom Waddle (Chicago Bears) and the brothers Flutie, Doug and Darren, who both went on to play in the Canadian Football League. As BC's primary recruiter, he was one of the key builders of bowl-bound BC teams in 1982 (Tangerine Bowl), '83 (Liberty), '85 (Cotton) and '86 (Hall of Fame). He was inducted into BC's Varsity Club Hall of Fame in 1983.

Gallup took over the Northeastern football program in 1991. After going 4-7 his first year, Gallup built the program into a winner that finished with a 6-5 mark in 1996 and an 8-3 record in 1997. He was named New England Coach of the Year in 1997. His 1998 senior class left as the most successful in school history. He left NU with an overall coaching record of 38-60-1. Before returning strictly to coaching in 1998, Gallup had an eventful four-year tenure as NU's athletics director in which the department successfully earned NCAA certification, initiated a comprehensive strategic plan to achieve gender equity, and added several prominent coaches, including highly respected hockey coach Bruce Crowder and men's basketball coach Dave Leitao.

Gallup resides in Wellesley with wife, Victoria, and they are the parents of Lisa Ann, a senior in the School of Nursing at Boston College, Barry Charles Jr., a sophomore football player at Notre Dame, and the late Darren Douglas.

Kelly Wheeler

Assistant Director of Football Operations

Kelly Wheeler is in her second year as Assistant Director of Operations. Prior to her promotion in 2007, she had served as a staff assistant in the football office for two years.

Wheeler is a William and Mary graduate and earned her Master's degree from the University of Massachusetts in 2002. Prior to coming to BC, Wheeler served as Coordinator of Championships and Director of Championships for the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) from 2003-05. Previously, she served internships at BC (2002-03), the Pawtucket Red Sox (2001) and the Cape Cod Baseball League (2000).

Kelly and her husband, Matt, reside in Wayland with their infant son, Matthew.

Suzanne Baker

Staff Assistant to Coach Jagodzinski

Suzanne Baker is in her second year as staff assistant to Coach Jagodzinski. Prior to moving to the football office, Baker had spent three years on the women's basketball staff.

Baker graduated from the University of Aberdeen in Aberdeen, Scotland in 2000 with a degree in Politics and International Relations and completed her master's in Administrative Studies at BC in 2008.

Baker and her husband, Andrew, have a daughter, Madison, and reside in Needham, MA.

Mike Borgonzi

Assistant Recruiting Coordinator

Mike Borgonzi returns for his second season as assistant recruiting coordinator.

Borgonzi graduated from Brown University in 2002 with a B.A. in organizational behavior and management. He was a four-year starter at fullback for Brown and earned All-Ivy honors three times. He participated in free agent tryouts with the Buffalo Bills in 2002 and signed with the Green Bay Blizzard in 2002 (Arena League 2) before injury forced him out of camp. He served as tight ends coach at Amherst College in 2002 and worked in finance at State Street Bank before coming to BC last season.

Borgonzi is a native of Everett and currently resides in Brighton.

Doug Goodwin

Video Graduate Assistant

Doug Goodwin, a four-year starter on the defensive line for the Eagles from 2000-03, enters his third season as a graduate assistant in the football program's video department.

Goodwin earned All-Big East second-team honors and played in four bowl games, all BC victories. He gained pro football experience with several teams, including the Baltimore Ravens, Frankfurt Galaxy, Arizona Rattlers, Winnipeg Blue-Boomers and the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Pioneers. He also served on the coaching staff at Holy Trinity Diocesan High School in Hicksville, N.Y. before returning to BC.

Goodwin earned his B.S. in Psychology from BC in 2004. He is a native of Freeport, N.Y.

Trey Koziol

Recruiting Graduate Assistant

Trey Koziol begins his first year as the recruiting graduate assistant for BC football.

Koziol played tight end for the Eagles from 2003-06. He came to BC from Hinsdale, Ill., where he earned SuperPrep All-America honors as a senior tight end at Hinsdale Central High School.

Patrick Madden

Defensive Graduate Assistant

Pat Madden is in his second year on the BC staff as defensive graduate assistant after six seasons on the staff at Columbia University. Madden spent the 2005 season as defensive secondary coach and special teams coordinator for Columbia.

Madden spent his first five years at Columbia (2000-04) as a defensive assistant. During this time, Madden worked with the secondary and defensive line.

Madden began his coaching career in 1999 at his alma mater, Wesleyan University. Madden spent that season coaching the secondary.

Madden earned a B.A in American Studies from Wesleyan in 1999. A native of Weymouth, Mass., Madden competed in both football and track and field at Wesleyan.

Ryan Mattison

Offensive Graduate Assistant

Ryan Mattison begins his first season as offensive graduate assistant after serving last season as the graduate assistant for recruiting. Mattison spent the last previous two seasons as the assistant secondary coach at Holy Cross.

Before Holy Cross, Mattison was secondary coach at Assumption College in 2004.

Mattison played for five seasons as a defensive back for Boston College.
Mattison walked on to the team in 1999, eventually earned a scholarship, and twice lettered under Head Coach Tom O'Brien. Mattison was part of five bowl teams, and four bowl-winning teams.

Mattison graduated from BC with a B.S in Marketing in 2003, and an M.S in Administrative Studies in 2006. A native of Sterling, Mass., Mattison currently resides in Brighton, Mass.

1930-1949

1936

BC names Gilmour Dobie, another future College Hall of Fame member, as its head football coach.

1939

Frank Leahy is named head football coach. The BC football team won 20 of 22 games played the next two years.

1940

An undefeated (11-0) season, capped by the Sugar Bowl championship and the claim of a national championship, made this arguably the greatest season in Eagles football history.

1941

On January 1, the Eagles would lay claim to the national championship with a 19-13 victory over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. "Chuckin" Charlie O'Rourke provided the heroics, scoring on a 24-yard touchdown run with three minutes remaining in the game. A crowd of 100,000 people welcomed the Sugar Bowl victors back to Boston's South Station, but Coach Frank Leahy would leave BC for Notre Dame within a month of the game. He is replaced by Denny Myers.

2008

1942

The Eagles were undefeated and ranked No. 1 in the country as they headed into the final game of the season against Holy Cross. The Crusaders pulled one of the biggest upsets in college football history that day, upending BC by a 55-12 score. Many BC players and fans were so bitterly disappointed that a planned "victory party" at Boston's Cocoanut Grove restaurant was canceled. The Cocoanut Grove was destroyed by fire that night, and 490 people lost their lives.

1943-45

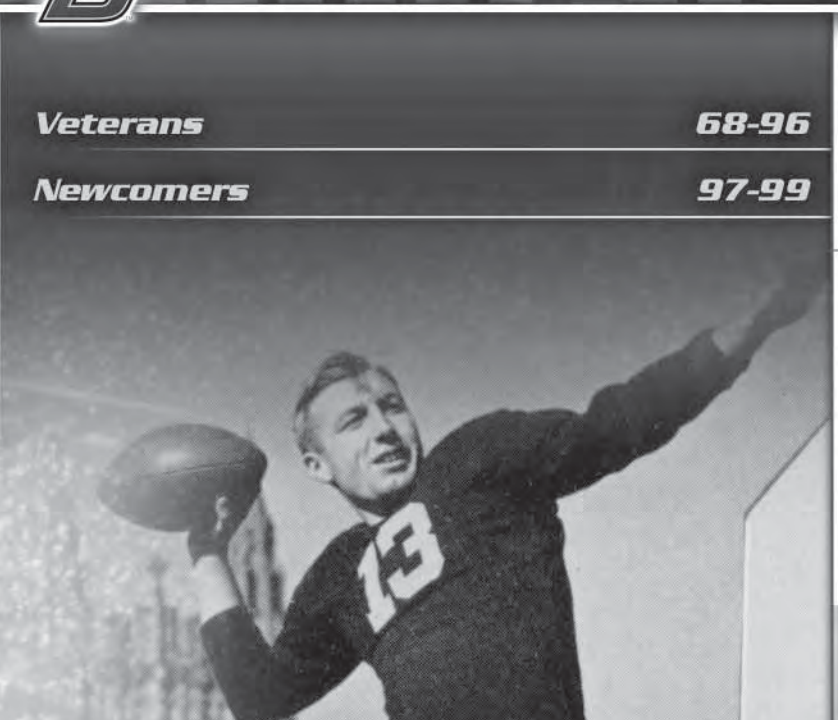

A large number of BC players and coaches departed to serve their country in the U.S. armed forces during World War II.

1946

Myers returned as head coach after the war and the Eagles undertook a national schedule that included LSU, Tennessee, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Michigan State and Penn State in following years. Two members of that September's freshman class, linemen Art Donovan and Ernie Stautner, would one day be elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Game 1

September 1, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Boston College 38
Wake Forest 28

Matt Ryan threw for five touchdowns -- second most at Boston College only to Doug Flutie -- and DeJuan Tribble intercepted three passes on Saturday to help the Eagles beat Wake Forest 38-28 and give Jeff Jagodzinski a victory in his head coaching debut.

Ryan completed 32-of-52 passes for a career-high 408 yards, rebounding after his first pass of the season was intercepted by Alphonso Smith and returned for a touchdown. It was a tough start for Jagodzinski, the former Green Bay Packers offensive coordinator who took over when Tom O'Brien defected to North Carolina State, but the Eagles quickly recovered.

Ryan hooked up with 10 different receivers -- including himself, on a ball that was batted at the line -- and threw for more than 400 yards against Wake Forest for the second consecutive year. But this year's outcome was better than last year, when the Demon Deacons won 21-14 on their way to the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Riley Skinner completed 28-of-37 passes for 236 yards and a touchdown for Wake Forest, but he was picked off by Tribble three times -- twice in the end zone. Skinner was injured after scrambling from the pocket late in the third quarter and was replaced by Brett Hodges; he was 17-for-23 with one touchdown and an interception in the final minute that sealed the victory for BC.

Kenneth Moore tied a Wake Forest record with 15 catches -- one short of the ACC record held by four players -- for 126 yards and a touchdown.

The Demon Deacons' last sustained drive ended when they turned the ball over on downs with 5:55 left in the game after Rich Belton failed to pick up one yard on consecutive runs into the line, stopped on a fourth-and-1 by Mark Herzlich and Nick Larkin. Steve Aponavicius, who came out of the stands to make the team last year, kicked a 27-yard field goal with 1:46 left to ice it.

Hodges took Wake Forest on a 77-yard touchdown drive on his first series, hitting Kevin Harris for an 8-yard pass to make it 35-28.

Ryan surpassed 5,000 yards in his career, and connected with Flutie's nephew, Billy, for his first two career catches.

Ryan set career highs by completing 40-of-57 passes for 402 yards and a touchdown against Wake Forest last year, but he also threw two interceptions in the end zone. Things started off poorly for him this year, too.

After Andre Callender bobbled the opening kickoff, Smith picked Ryan off and ran it back 21 yards to give Wake Forest a 7-0 lead just 14 seconds into the game. Boston College was forced to punt, then Skinner took the Demon Deacons downfield before hitting Moore for a 5-yard touchdown and a 14-0 lead.

Ryan then completed nine in a row -- six of them on a 67-yard TD drive that ended when cornerback Kerry Major went for the interception and missed, allowing Kevin Challenger to gather in the ball for a 19-yard score.

BC tied it after Sam Swank's punt into the wind took a favorable bounce and went just 22 yards, to the Wake Forest 38. On the next play Ryan threw long to Rich Gunnell in the end zone to tie it 14-all.

Tribble intercepted Skinner with a diving catch in the corner of the end zone to stop on Wake Forest drive. But the Demon Deacons took the lead when Alphonso Smith knocked the ball loose from A.J. Brooks, and Chip Vaughn picked it up and went 38 yards to make it 21-14.

Ryan connected with Clarence Megwa on a tipped ball to tie the game 21-21 and hit Brandon Robinson from 10 yards out with 7:01 left in the third to give Boston College its first lead of the game, 28-21. Ryan, who had never thrown for four touchdowns in a game, completed his fifth TD to Gunnell to give BC a 35-21 lead late in the third.

Game 2

September 8, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Boston College 37
NC State 17

Boston College ruined Tom O'Brien's return to the school he coached for 10 seasons by forcing seven turnovers and keeping his new team winless with a 37-17 victory over North Carolina State.

Harrison Beck threw five interceptions, and he and Wolfpack punter Nate Franklin each lost a fumble as BC scored 23 points following turnovers. The Eagles (2-0) scored 30 straight points after trailing 10-7.

O'Brien left BC after becoming the winningest coach in BC history. The Eagles won bowl games in each of the last six seasons, but O'Brien went to North Carolina State before last year's Meineke Car Care Bowl.

Defensive coordinator Frank Spaziani led BC to a 25-24 win over Navy in that game and his defense did an outstanding job on Saturday against O'Brien and offensive coordinator Dana Bible, who held that job at BC.

The Eagles' first touchdown -- Matt Ryan's 15-yard pass to Kevin Challenger -- followed the first of Jamie Silva's two interceptions. The Eagles took a 14-10 lead on Jolonn Dunbar's 14-yard interception return.

Beck turned the ball over again on a fumble recovered by Nick Larkin with 4:39 left in the first half, setting up Steve Aponavicius' 27-yard field goal that made it 17-10.

The Wolfpack (0-2) had a chance to tie in the final minute of the half with the ball at the BC 17, but Beck threw his third interception, this one to Taji Morris in the end zone.

Beck wasn't responsible for the next turnover, although his failure to get a first down put Franklin in punting position. Franklin fumbled the snap, Brad Newman recovered at the Wolfpack 13 and Andre Callender scored on a 4-yard run for a 23-10 lead.

The Eagles ran for two touchdowns in the fourth quarter -- 1 yard by L.V. Whitworth on an 84-yard drive and 69 yards by Callender, who rushed for 158 yards.

A week earlier, Beck replaced Daniel Evans with North Carolina State trailing Central Florida 22-3 and led the Wolfpack back with two touchdown passes. But they fell short, 25-23. A transfer from Nebraska, Beck threw for 321 yards but no touchdowns against BC.

He showed his strong arm with completions of 49 and 32 yards on a 98-yard drive that tied the game 7-7 on his 2-yard run. North Carolina State took its only lead on Steven Hauschka's 28-yard field goal late in the first quarter.

The Wolfpack did control Ryan, who was just 15-for-34 for 142 yards and one touchdown. A week earlier, he threw five touchdown passes in a 38-23 win over Wake Forest.

Game 3

September 15, 2007 • Atlanta, GA

Boston College 24
Georgia Tech 10

Matt Ryan was the clear winner in a showdown with another of the country's top players, throwing for a career-best 435 yards to lead the 21st-ranked Eagles to a 24-10 victory over No. 15 Georgia Tech.

Ryan was 30-of-44 in the third 400-yard passing game of his career, which included a 39-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Robinson. The Yellow Jackets were clearly impressed.

"We haven't seen a quarterback like that since Brady Quinn," Georgia Tech safety Pat Clark said. "He's real confident. He's real comfortable in the pocket. He made plays when he had to. That's what good quarterbacks do."

L.V. Whitworth had a pair of TD runs for Boston College (3-0), which beat three straight ACC opponents to take early control of the league race. The Eagles held up well against Georgia Tech's blitzing defense, giving Ryan plenty of time to throw.

The Yellow Jackets were totally outclassed by Boston College, which piled up 527 yards and allowed just 267.

"Matt's maturity level is as good as any quarterback I've been around," said Jeff Jagodzinski, Boston College's first-year coach. "The game slows down for him. He doesn't get rattled about anything he does. I'm sure glad I've got him."

Coming into the game ranked fourth nationally against the run, Boston College backed up its lofty standing. Tashard Choice managed just 31 yards on 15 carries, ending his streak of nine straight 100-yard games.

Choice had his best run late in the third quarter, breaking around left end for 12 yards. Fittingly, the play was negated by a holding penalty, and Choice hobbled to the sideline with a hamstring injury. He did not return.

Georgia Tech, which averaged 51 points and 342 yards rushing in routs of Notre Dame and Samford, managed just 63 yards on the ground.

"That's a good B.C. team," Choice said.

Robinson had five catches for 128 yards, while Kevin Challenger caught seven for 88. Ryan set the tone on Boston College's first possession, after Durant Brooks backed up the Eagles to their own 5 with a pooch punt.

On third-and-2 from the 13, Ryan fooled the Yellow Jackets with play action and flipped a pass to tight end Jon Loyte, who slipped behind the secondary for a 40-yard gain.

Ryan wasn't done. He connected with Challenger on passes of 16 and 25 yards before Whitworth rumbled over from the 1, capping an 11-play, 95-yard drive that took the raucous crowd right out of the game.

The Eagles were threatening again when Ryan made his only real miscue. After driving his team from its own 20 to a first down at the Georgia Tech 6, he was hit from behind by Darrell Robertson and fumbled. Philip Wheeler recovered for the Yellow Jackets.

However, Ryan got it back early in the second quarter, carving up Georgia Tech again. First, he threw a deep pass that drew an interference penalty on Clark. Then, Rich Gunnell slipped between zone coverage for a 17-yard completion. Finally, Ryan tossed a perfectly thrown ball toward the corner of the end zone, which Robinson caught over the shoulder with time to get both feet down for the TD.

At halftime, Boston College led 14-0 and it could have been much worse. The Eagles had a staggering lead in total yards: 318-86. After Whitworth's second TD, a 16-yard run, Georgia Tech finally responded. Freshman Jonathan Dwyer scored from the 2 in the opening minute of the fourth quarter. The Yellow Jackets thought they had recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, but the replay clearly showed A.J. Brooks was down when he lost the ball. That turned out to be Georgia Tech's final gasp.

Game 4

September 22, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Boston College 37
Army 17

Three and a half games into his head coaching career, Boston College's Jeff Jagodzinski didn't like the way things were going. Channeling the best Vince Lombardi he could muster, the former Green Bay Packers offensive coordinator ripped into his team at halftime on Saturday and No. 14 Boston College responded by pulling away from Army to win 37-17.

"I don't know if I've ever seen him that frustrated or upset," linebacker Jolonn Dunbar said. "He was very unfavorable with our play and our posture. If guys did underestimate Army, it doesn't say much about their character."

Matt Ryan threw for three touchdowns and ran for his first of the season as BC, which led just 16-9 at the half, dominated in the second. Ryan was 35-for-51 for 356 yards before leaving midway through the fourth quarter with the Eagles (4-0) comfortably ahead.

Ryan connected with Kevin Challenger nine times for 104 yards and moved into third place on BC's career passing list behind Doug Flutie and Glenn Foley with 6,147 yards. But Ryan also threw two interceptions, one of them caught by Brian Chmura and returned 11 yards for a touchdown that made it 29-17 with 9:22 left in the game.

On the second play of the ensuing possession, Andre Callender went through the line and down the left sideline for a 66-yard touchdown.

"When you put enough points on the board to get the victory, you have to take some positives out of it," Ryan said. "I think there's room for improvement. We have to get better. We were a little sporadic today, but the offense got it going."

Army (1-3) had some success on special teams, with a fake field goal that set up its first touchdown and a long kickoff return that gave them good field position, but didn't do much offensively. The Black Knights managed seven first downs to 34 for Boston College and they were outgained 573-259 from scrimmage.

Carson Williams was 15-for-32 for 191 yards, hitting Jeremy Trimble three times for 81 yards.

"The wound is so fresh, we could dwell on the things we didn't do," coach Stan Brock said. "But there were a number of positives we could take out of this. We're not hanging our heads."

Ryan hit Brandon Robinson with 7-yard touchdown pass with 13:16 left in the game to make it 29-10. Corey Anderson ran back the kickoff to the BC 21 before he was tripped up on the right sideline by DeJuan Tribble.

On a fourth-and-1 from the 2, Wes McMahand was stopped within an inch or two of the first down -- so close the referee had to crouch to eyeball the measurement. But on BC's second play after taking over on downs, Chmura picked Ryan off and ran it in to make it 29-17.

Callender scored to make it 35-17, then Ryan hit Callender on the 2-point conversion to give the Eagles a 37-17 lead.

Army's first touchdown came after converting a fake field goal on a fourth-and-5 from the BC 31. Holder Andrew Reinhart shuffle-passed to Mike Evans, who went around the right side for 24 yards; on the next play, McMahand scored from the 7 to make it 16-7.

Game 5

September 29, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Boston College 24
UMass 14

Andre Callender ran for 115 yards and two touchdowns and Matt Ryan threw for one TD to lead No. 12 Boston College past feisty cross-state rival Massachusetts 24-14 to give the Eagles their best start in more than 50 years.

Ryan was 24-for-42 for 204 yards, helping BC (5-0) open a 17-0 lead before slumping in the third quarter as UMass (4-1) closed within a field goal at 17-14. But Ryan answered with a 61-yard drive, completing 5-of-7 passes and adding a 14-yard scramble before Callender scored from the 4 to make it 24-14.

BC had not opened a season with five straight wins since 1954.

UMass hadn't lost since falling to Appalachian State in the Division I-AA championship game the season before; Appalachian State is better known as the team that beat then-No. 5 Michigan 34-32 in the season opener -- one of the biggest upsets in college football history.

But UMass, ranked No. 2 in the division formerly known as I-AA, couldn't pull off an upset to match its Football Championship Subdivision rival.

Liam Coen went 12-for-21 for 151 yards and two touchdowns for the Minutemen before leaving the game with a "tweaked" knee early in the fourth quarter. Scott Woodward led UMass from its own 6 yard-line -- scrambling for a key first down on a third-and-7 from the BC 41 -- before Chris Koepplin missed a 46-yard field goal that would have pulled the Minutemen within one score.

Rich Gunnell caught six passes for 97 yards for BC, which plays Bowling Green next week and once-proud Notre Dame after that. Rasheed Rancher caught four passes for 84 yards and a touchdown for UMass.

BC opened a 17-0 halftime lead on a 37-yard field goal, Callender's 1-yard run and a 9-yard pass to Justin Jarvis. But the Eagles' lackluster play began to cost them in the second half.

BC went three-and-out on its first possessions of the third quarter, then UMass made it 17-7 on its first play when Coen found Rancher streaking down the right sideline for a 41-yard touchdown. The Eagles also failed to make a first down on their next two possessions.

The Minutemen took over at the BC 38 with 6:45 left in the third quarter, and on their second play Coen hit Jeremy Horne on a short slant pattern. He broke free and raced into the end zone to cut BC's lead to 17-14.

Game 6

October 6, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Boston College 55
Bowling Green 24

Matt Ryan threw four touchdown passes and Boston College pulled away with four interceptions late in the first half to overwhelm Bowling Green 55-24 and get off to its best start in 65 years.

The No. 7 Eagles entered the game with their highest ranking in 23 years after two wins over Army and Massachusetts.

There was nothing questionable about this rout as Boston College (6-0) scored 38 straight points after Tyler Sheehan's 6-yard pass to Freddie Barnes with 8:55 left in the half cut BC's lead to 14-10.

Less than seven minutes later, it was 38-10 as the Falcons pass-happy offense backfired when BC picked off four passes in the last six minutes of the half. Two were returned for touchdowns - 65 yards by Jamie Silva and 7 yards by Nick Larkin - and another led to a career-long 45-yard field goal by Steve Aponavicius. The Eagles were well on the way to their 16th straight home victory.

The half ended with BC leading 38-10, with Andre Callender scoring three touchdowns.

The big plays kept coming against Bowling Green (3-2). On the seventh play of the second half, Ryan hit Justin Jarvis along the right sideline and the wide receiver sprinted for a 71-yard touchdown.

Ryan finished 24-for-32 for 312 yards before Chris Crane took over on BC's first series of the fourth quarter. For the season, Ryan has thrown for 15 touchdowns and five interceptions.

He threw two scoring passes in the first half, covering 51 and 14 yards to Callender, that gave BC a 14-3 lead. Ryan's final touchdown pass with 3:25 left in the third quarter covered 14 yards to Brandon Robinson as BC went ahead 52-10.

Anthony Glaud replaced Sheehan and threw a 32-yard touchdown pass to Barnes early in the fourth quarter.

The Eagles began the 1942 season with eight straight wins and finished at 8-2. They've gone unbeaten three times, the last in 1940 when they went 11-0 and won the Sugar Bowl.

In 1984, they were ranked as high as fifth when Heisman Trophy winner Doug Flutie led them to a 10-2 record and a Cotton Bowl win.

Both teams came out throwing.

Sheehan completed 7-of-10 passes on the Falcons' opening drive, but they settled for a 40-yard field goal by Sinisa Vrvilo for their only lead. Sheehan went 27-for-43 for 275 yards with one touchdown and five interceptions.

Game 7

October 13, 2007 • Notre Dame, IN
Boston College 27
Notre Dame 14

Matt Ryan kept Notre Dame from getting payback on unbeaten BC. Ryan used a series of screens and short passes to keep the blitzing Irish off balance and threw two touchdowns to lead the fourth-ranked Eagles to a 27-14 victory over Notre Dame.

The Irish were hoping to put a damper on BC's national title hopes as the Eagles had done when they cost Notre Dame a national championship in 1993. They threatened, but just couldn't pull it out. BC coach Jeff Jagodzinski said he never viewed the game against the Irish as a trap game because he knew his team wouldn't take Notre Dame lightly.

"Our kids were so excited about coming out here and playing this football game. It's a great rivalry," he said. "I told our guys we can't get to where we want to go unless we keep taking care of business every week," he said.

Boston College improved its record to 7-0 for just the fifth time in 107 seasons, the first time since 1942, and beat its rival Notre Dame for the fifth straight time.

The Eagles appeared ready to blow the game open when Ryan threw a 9-yard scoring pass to Andre Callender to make it 20-0 with 11:42 left in the third quarter. The score was set up when Tyronne Pruitt intercepted a pass by Jimmy Clausen and returned it 30 yards to the Notre Dame 11.

However, the Irish scored a pair of touchdowns 95 seconds apart to cut it to 20-14. Evan Sharpley, who replaced the ineffective Jimmy Clausen at quarterback, threw a 19-yard TD pass to Robby Parris and linebacker Brian Smith returned an interception 25 yards for a touchdown.

The Eagles quickly regained control after the Irish were called for excessive celebration and penalized 15 yards on the kickoff. Brad Newman returned the kick 18 yards to the Notre Dame 44 and the Eagles needed only five plays to score. Ryan, throwing quickly to beat the blitz, hit Kevin Challenger for a 13-yard TD to make it 27-14.

Ryan said he wasn't flustered after throwing the interception for a Notre Dame TD.

"Right after you throw a pick that goes for six you want to come right back out fighting," Ryan said. "At this point in my career I've thrown plenty of picks. You just have to block it out. As a quarterback you definitely have to have temporary amnesia and go out there and keep chucking it. That's what we did."

Despite the constant blitzing, the Irish didn't sack Ryan.

"He's got a really quick release," Notre Dame nose tackle Pat Kuntz said. "He's good, and there's nothing much else I can say about that. He's probably the best quarterback we've seen."

Ryan was 32-of-49 passing. Callender caught 10 passes for 91 yards and rushed for 90 yards on 23 carries, including TD runs of 7 and 1 yards.

The Irish offense struggled again, managing just 222 yards total offense. BC, which entered as the No. 3 defense against the run holding opponents to 49.7 yards a game, held the Irish to 27 yards rushing. Clausen started but failed to lead the Irish to a score. He was 7-of-20 for 60 yards and was pulled after he threw his second interception on Notre Dame's first offensive play of the second half. That set up BC's third touchdown.

Game 8

October 25, 2007 • Blacksburg, VA
Boston College 14
Virginia Tech 10

Matt Ryan bought some time, scrambling to his left away from the Virginia Tech rush while searching for an open receiver. He found just what he was looking for, fired a pass all the way across the field and kept No. 2 Boston College perfect.

Call it Ryan's Heisman moment.

The senior quarterback threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Andre Callender with 11 seconds left and the Eagles validated themselves as national title contenders with an improbable 14-10 victory over No. 8 Virginia Tech in Blacksburg.

Boston College avoided becoming the fourth second-ranked team to lose in four weeks, with Ryan throwing two touchdown passes in the final 2:11 after struggling for the first 55 minutes against the Hokies' swarming defense.

"Well, you know there's still time on the clock," Ryan said. "You know you still have a shot and you've still got a shot. We've been in this situation so many times through the course of the year in practice and we've prepared ourselves really well."

BC improved to 8-0 for the first time since 1942. Ryan finished 25-for-52 for 285 yards with two interceptions, but the final numbers hardly told the story.

"That's what Heismans do," Hokies defensive end Chris Ellis said. "They don't ever give up. We beat the O-line, put licks on him and he came through at the end. He had a two-minute drill - two of them. He did what he had to do."

With the Hokies leading 10-0 late in the fourth and the EAgles backed up against their own goal line, Ryan finally found a rhythm. He led a 91-yard scoring drive, capped by a 16-yard TD pass to Rich Gunnell with 2:11 left.

"Matt Ryan, what he did tonight, along with the receivers and the whole crew there in the last three minutes of the game, that was special," Coach Jeff Jagodzinski said. "There wasn't one bit of panic - nothing - with those kids, especially that guy."

Jagodzinski was pointing to Ryan.

After BC recovered an onside kick at its own 34, Ryan went back to work. Three times he scrambled away from pressure to complete passes, showing off the powerful right arm NFL scouts love and some nimble feet, too.

On the deciding play, he slid to his left and spotted Callender drifting back into the end zone away from the defense. Ryan let loose, and Callender cradled in the winning score.

Sean Glennon, making his first start for the Hokies since being benched after the 48-7 loss to LSu early in the second week of the season, played steady on a soggy night in Lane Stadium. He was 15-for-25 for 149 yards with an 8-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Royal in the second quarter. Glennon's 41-yard hookup with Royal in the third set up Jud Dunlevy's 44-yard field goal that made it 10-0.

Virginia Tech appeared to be on its way to sneaking back into the national title race after D.J. Parker picked off Ryan's pass at the Eagles' 31 with 6:01 left in the fourth quarter.

The Hokies couldn't convert the interception into points.

Ryan went 9-for-15 on the final two drives, keeping BC's high hopes from being washed away on a windy and rainy tonight. The first half was played in a steady, soaking rain and neither team could get much going. The Hokies and Eagles combined for seven fumbles, though only one turnover.

Branden Ore rushed for 97 yards on 20 carries for the Hokies against BC's top-ranked run defense, which came in allowing 46 yards per game. The Eagles' biggest win in years was far more about grit than flash.

Game 9

November 3, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA

Florida State 27

Boston College 17

Geno Hayes returned Matt Ryan's third interception for a 38-yard touchdown with 1:10 to play to help Florida State beat second-ranked Boston College 27-17, ending the Eagles' run at an unbeaten season.

Drew Weatherford completed 29-of-45 passes for 354 yards for Florida State (6-3, 3-3), hitting Preston Parker nine times for 93 yards and a touchdown and De'Cody Fagg on six catches for 111 yards and a TD.

Ryan finished 25-for-53 for two touchdowns and 415 yards - his fourth career 400-yard game, tying Doug Flutie for the most in school history.

But his interceptions were costly.

"One of the things you can't do, I don't care what level you're on, you can't turn the ball over," Jagodzinski said. "We had four."

Ryan was picked off once in the first quarter inside the Seminoles 10. He also threw an interception early in the third that allowed Florida State to move into position for a 40-yard field goal that made it 10-0.

It was the second consecutive game BC trailed 10-0 before mounting a rally: The Eagles spotted Virginia Tech a two-score lead on Oct. 25 before Ryan threw two touchdown passes in the final 2:11 to vault himself into the Heisman Trophy conversation.

This time, he had more than 20 minutes to work with.

"You can never count out Matt Ryan and BC," Weatherford said. "I was nervous the whole time. He's a great player, he's led his team back before and I knew he could do it again. I was nervous until the final play."

Ryan led BC on a four-play, 70-yard drive over 63 seconds, hitting Ryan Purvis for 26 yards to the Florida State 30, and then Brandon Robinson for the touchdown. The teams traded field goals, then Weatherford hit Fagg on a 42-yard touchdown pass to give the Seminoles a 20-10 lead.

Ryan hit Rich Gunnell on a 42-yard pass to the Florida State 6 with 7:24 left. Two plays later, including a penalty that moved the ball to the 3, Ryan hit a wide-open Purvis in the middle of the end zone to make it 20-17.

BC forced a punt and got the ball back at its own 7 with 3:30 left and a chance to take the lead.

"I was excited," Ryan said. "As soon as they stopped them, and forced the punt, they gave us another chance to go out there and win the game."

Ryan moved the Eagles out to the 33 before Hayes ripped the ball free from Purvis on a pass across the middle and went easily into the end zone.

"This is the fourth game that we've been ahead at the half and we've lost two of them," Seminoles coach Bobby Bowden said. "I thought we were going to make enough mistakes to lose it at the end."

The game began in a frigid and soaking downpour, with wind gusts forecast at up to 50 mph as the remnants of Hurricane Noel proceeded up the East Coast. The rain had stopped by the end of the first quarter, but the winds battered the U.S. flag and played havoc with a couple of second-quarter field goal attempts.

Robinson caught seven passes for 163 yards for BC, fighting off a grabby defender to make a beautiful diving catch for 38 yards to the Seminoles 6 midway through the fourth quarter. But the Eagles, trailing 13-7 at the time moved backward on penalties and managed only a field goal.

Weatherford answered with a two-play, 61-yard drive that took just 41 seconds before Fagg ran 42 yards into the end zone to make it 20-10.

Game 10

November 10, 2007 • College Park, MD

Maryland 42

Boston College 35

The No. 8 Eagles yielded 472 yards and five touchdowns in a 42-35 loss to Maryland. Matt Ryan went 33-for-56 for 421 yards and three touchdowns, but was intercepted twice.

The injury-plagued Terrapins (5-5, 2-4) played with a makeshift offensive line and without leading rusher Keon Lattimore (hamstring). Maryland was also without second-leading receiver Danny Oquendo (knee), and standout linebacker Erin Henderson played despite sitting out practice all week with a sore back.

But the Terps received a solid performance from Chris Turner, who went 21-for-27 for 337 yards and three touchdowns. Knowing it would be difficult to pound the ball inside, Maryland relied heavily on the passing game, often throwing deep and spreading the Boston College defense with quick tosses to the outside. That enabled Lance Ball to rush 32 times for 109 yards and a score. Jason Goode caught two touchdown throws and had six catches, matching his total in Maryland's first nine games.

The Terrapins let a 42-21 lead dwindle to seven points when Ryan threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Ryan Purvis with 52 seconds left, but the subsequent onside kick failed to go the required 10 yards, giving Maryland possession and the victory. At game's end, the fans rushed the field to celebrate the Terps' second win this season over a top-10 team. Maryland beat then-No. 10 Rutgers on Sept. 29.

Down 20-14 at halftime, Boston College took its first lead by opening the third quarter with a march that ended with Ryan throwing a 3-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Challenger. Turner promptly passed for all the yardage in an 82-yard drive that ended with a 7-yarder to Goode for a 27-21 lead.

After Boston College's first punt of the game, Turner flipped a screen pass to Da'Rel Scott, who sprinted down the left sideline for a 57-yard score. It became 42-21 when Maryland wide receiver Darrius Heyward-Bey ran for a 37-yard touchdown on a reverse with 14:21 left.

Ryan threw a touchdown pass to Purvis with 7:31 to go, but the Eagles couldn't complete the comeback after trailing at halftime in a third straight game.

Only minutes after bidding farewell to 15 seniors before the final home game, Maryland launched a crisp opening drive that covered 76 yards for a 7-0 lead. Turner completed three passes for 66 yards, including a 43-yarder to Heyward-Bey and a 10-yard touchdown toss to Goode.

The Terrapins then forced a punt, but a roughing-the-kicker penalty provided Boston College with a second chance at the Maryland 40. Ryan completed a 29-yard pass to Rich Gunnell to set up a 1-yard touchdown run by James McCluskey.

On the Eagles' next possession, however, a mistake by Ryan paved the way for the Terps to go up 14-7. Following the first career interception by Maryland senior tackle Dre Moore, Ball ran in from the 5, only the fifth rushing touchdown against BC this season.

McCluskey then capped an 86-yard drive by scoring from the 1 on the first play of the second quarter.

Maryland answered with a field goal before Boston College's Steve Aponavicius shanked a 34-yard attempt.

Game 11

November 17, 2007 • Clemson, SC
Boston College 20
Clemson 17

Another late deficit, another stunning comeback for Matt Ryan and No. 18 Boston College.

Three games after Ryan led the Eagles to an improbable 14-10 win at Virginia Tech, he found Rich Gunnell for a 43-yard TD with 1:46 to go for a 20-17 win over No. 15 Clemson.

"We practice in these situations a lot and we've done a pretty good job of executing," Ryan said. "It was a great win, exciting, a lot of fun and we're glad to walk out with the win."

And a spot in the Atlantic Coast Conference's title game.

Ryan had his seventh game with 300 yards or better this season. He finished with 315 yards and kept the Eagles calm after Cullen Harper put Clemson (8-3, 5-3) on top with his 4-yard touchdown run with 5:28 remaining.

As the Hokies discovered a month earlier when Ryan tossed two touchdowns in the final 2:11 to win 14-10, the Eagles couldn't be counted out as long as their senior quarterback has a chance.

On BC's winning drive, Ryan completed a 12-yard pass to Clarence Megwa on third-and-8. Then, facing third-and-7, Ryan lofted a perfect pass to Gunnell, who had slipped behind Clemson's defense and easily walked in for the go-ahead score.

Clemson got one final chance and threw a couple of Ryan-like scares into the Eagles. First, Harper threw a long pass that hit Aaron Kelly in the hands before falling away a yard from the end zone.

A little later the Tigers tried a 54-yard field goal by Mark Buchholz that fell well short as time ran out. Boston College players bounced onto the field, leaping and hugging. The crowd at sold-out Memorial Stadium was silent, stunned that Clemson's title drought would grow to 16 years.

Ryan added to his own fond memories of Death Valley, considered among the toughest stadiums in the ACC. Two years ago as a backup sophomore, he led Boston College to its first ACC win, 16-13, in overtime here. Now, he'll always remember advancing to the league's title game from Memorial Stadium.

Plus, he kept his helmet on the whole time, unlike in 2005 when a crunching hit by ex-Tiger linebacker David Dunham popped it off Ryan.

Andre Callender caught 11 passes for 92 yards and led Boston College with 75 yards rushing.

Harper finished 26-for-40 for 226 yards with an interception for Clemson.

Ryan and the offense got plenty of help from their defense, which slowed down a Clemson attack that had averaged nearly 48 points during its four victories.

The Tigers' talented tailback tandem of James Davis and C.J. Spiller were held to 62 yards on 23 carries by the top rush defense in the ACC.

"They were able to make us one-dimensional," Clemson coach Tommy Bowden said.

Game 12

November 24, 2007 • Chestnut Hill, MA
Boston College 28
Miami 14

Boston College ended a 15-game losing streak against Miami to head into the Atlantic Coast Conference title game with a victory.

Matt Ryan threw for 369 yards and three touchdowns Saturday to lead BC to a 28-14 win, BC's first victory over Miami since the 1984 "Hail Flutie" pass that ended one of the greatest games in college football history.

"What Doug did ... and all that, that was great," BC coach Jeff Jagodzinski said. "Now they're going to talk about what Ryan did and what (safety Jamie) Silva did and what (defensive lineman) Nick Larkin did. We've done something special up to this point, and it's a good thing to keep building on the tradition."

BC already clinched the Atlantic Division with the previous week's victory over Clemson. But they wanted the win, anyway.

"Coach was telling us we didn't want to go in with a flat tire, with a setback," said receiver Rich Gunnell, who caught nine passes for a career-high 135 yards. "We want to go in with all the momentum we can."

The Hurricanes (5-7, 2-6) failed to qualify for a bowl game for the first time in 10 years.

"Very disappointing," coach Randy Shannon said. "A lot of guys' expectations when they come to the University of Miami is to win."

"We knew the other team was going to come in with a win," Ryan said. "We wanted to match their momentum."

Ryan completed 26 of 43 passes and finished with 28 touchdowns for the season to break the school record Flutie set in '84. Andre Callender ran 15 times for 96 yards and a 45-yard touchdown that made it 28-14 after Miami hung close for most of the game.

The Eagles won 10 regular-season games for the second consecutive season.

Kyle Wright completed 23 of 42 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns, finishing his college career with 478 completions to pass Bernie Kosar and move into third on Miami's all-time list. But Wright also threw an interception and lost a fumble.

BC's turnovers kept it close, and the Hurricanes cut the deficit to 14-7 early in the third on a 23-yard pass to Ryan Hill, one play after Glenn Sharpe intercepted Ryan. Near the end of the quarter, BC got the ball on Wright's fumble, then Ryan fumbled it back two plays later.

Wright led the Hurricanes on an eight-play, 41-yard drive, hitting Sam Shields from the 2 to tie it with 11:44 left in the game.

That's when BC took over the game.

Ryan hit Gunnell on the right sideline and he broke free for a 49-yard gain, then Clarence Megwa laid out for a 22-yard touchdown pass to complete the two-play, 16-second drive that made it 21-14. After Miami went three-and-out, Callender broke through the middle and went 45 yards to the end zone.

"We had some momentum coming back, then they come back and score," Wright said, his eyes watery as he spoke. "Two plays, they take the lead back. It felt like we were going to win. It hurts that we lost."

Game Recaps

ACC Championship

December 1, 2007 • Jacksonville, FL

Virginia Tech 30
Boston College 16

Sean Glennon threw three touchdown passes to lead the No. 6 Virginia Tech Hokies to a 30-16 victory over the 12th-ranked Eagles in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship game.

BC's Matt Ryan overshadowed Glennon and teammate Tyrod Taylor much of the game. But Tech's two-quarterback system worked to perfection on one drive, just enough to get the Hokies (11-2) to the Orange Bowl.

The duo put together a game-winning drive that showed exactly why the coaching staff decided to play both of them. Taylor gained 31 yards on a quarterback draw, his best play of the day, and Glennon capped an 84-yard drive with a 24-yard strike to Eddie Royal with 7:12 remaining.

Kam Chancellor made a touchdown-saving tackle on Kevin Challenger, then Vince Hall intercepted Ryan's fourth-down pass near the goal line four plays later to maintain a 23-16 lead with 2:16 to play.

The Eagles (10-3) forced a punt, but Ryan threw another pick which Xavier Adibi returned 40 yards for a score with 11 seconds to play.

"I thought we moved the ball really well, but we just couldn't get it into the end zone," Ryan said. "To win these types of games, you've got to score points, and we didn't get it done today."

Glennon finished 18-of-27 for 174 yards with the three touchdowns and an interception. He threw a perfect 5-yard fade pass to Josh Morgan in the second quarter and a 13-yarder to Josh Hyman two drives later.

It was Glennon's best game of the season and completed a year-long turnaround. Glennon was booed after throwing three interceptions in a 31-24 loss to Georgia in the Chick-fil-A Bowl the previous December. He solidified the starting job in the spring, but then got benched following the team's 48-7 drubbing at LSU in early September.

He worked his way back into the mix and has been at his best the last three games, completing 44 of 70 passes for 605 yards, with five touchdowns and an interception.

Ryan was at his best early, helping BC rack up 277 yards and 20 first downs in the first 30 minutes, but the Eagles managed only 112 yards and four first downs the rest of the way.

The Hokies were steady throughout, coming up with two big blocked kicks in the first half and the huge drive and two turnovers in the second.

Tech's Duane Brown, a 6-foot-5 offensive lineman, blocked Steve Aponavicius' 36-yard field-goal attempt on the opening drive.

Brown came up big again following Ryan's 14-yard TD run. Brown blocked the extra point, and Brandon Flowers returned it 75 yards for a 2-point conversion that made it 16-9.

Champs Sports Bowl

December 28, 2007 • Orlando, FL

Boston College 24
Michigan State 21

Quarterback Matt Ryan ended a brilliant career in style by leading the Eagles to an 11th victory for only the second time in school history as BC defeated Michigan State, 24-21, in the Champs Sports Bowl in Orlando. Ryan completed 22-of-47 passes for 249 yards and three touchdowns as the Eagles kept the nation's longest bowl game winning streak alive with their eighth straight bowl win. The win also propelled the team to a No. 10 finish in the final AP college football poll of the season, BC's first top 10 finish since the 1984 season.

The Eagles entered the games heavily favored, but Michigan State got the upper hand when Devin Thomas returned the opening kickoff 79 yards to the BC 18. Two plays later, MSU quarterback Brian Hoyer completed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Kellen Davis. Less than two minutes into the game, Michigan State was ahead 7-0.

BC got a break late in the quarter when Hoyer fumbled and linebacker Mark Herzlich recovered on the MSU 11. Four plays later, Ryan connected with tight end Jon Loyte for a one yard touchdown to even the score at 7-7.

Early in the second quarter, the Eagles put together an impressive 10-play, 70-yard drive that culminated with a 29-yard touchdown completion from Ryan to Rich Gunnell. The Eagles took a 14-7 lead. Late in the quarter, however, Michigan State drove to the BC 22-yard-line, where place-kicker Brett Swenson connected on a 39-yard field goal. The Spartans closed the gap to 14-10 at halftime.

BC's first drive of the second half stalled. Michigan State took over at its own 40-yard-line and drove to the BC eight, but after facing first-and-goal, the Eagle defense held and forced a 23-yard field goal that brought the Spartans within one.

On BC's next series, the Eagles drove to the Michigan State 11. Steve Aponavicius connected on a 28-yard field goal that pushed BC's lead back to 17-13.

Entering the fourth quarter with only a four-point cushion, the Eagles gave themselves some breathing room when Ryan connected with Gunnell on a 68-yard touchdown with 9:21 remaining in the game.

The Eagles held on to their 24-13 lead until late in the game. Michigan State got a break when Spartan Greg Jones sacked Matt Ryan, causing a fumble that was recovered by MSU's Oren Wilson. Michigan State began a drive in excellent field position (the BC 37) and converted three plays later. Hoyer threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Deon Curry, then completed a two-point conversion pass to Kellen Davis to cut BC's lead to 24-21.

Michigan State got one last opportunity to pull the upset, taking over with 2:37 left in the game. But on first down, BC's Paul Anderson intercepted a Hoyer pass and returned it to the MSU 29, allowing the Eagles to run out the clock.

Retired Jerseys & Numbers

Doug Flutie

Mike Ruth

Never again will a Boston College football player wear the number 22 or 68. Those two retired numbers belonged to quarterback Doug Flutie and nose tackle Mike Ruth, respectively.

Flutie won the 1984 Heisman Trophy, given annually by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to the outstanding college football player in the nation, and the Walter Camp Award, given by the Walter Camp Football Foun-dation of New Haven, Conn., to the nation's most outstanding player.

Ruth was the winner of the 1985 Outland Trophy, given to the outstanding interior lineman in the nation by the Football Writers Association of America.

These two numbers were retired in a ceremony on October 8, 1998, as the Eagles played Virginia Tech.

Mike Ruth, Gene DeFilippo and Doug Flutie

Seven other former Boston College football players have received the honor of having their jerseys retired — Art Donovan, Bill Flynn, Gene Goodreault, Mike Holovak, Charles O'Rourke, Tony Thurman and Louis Urban.

Holovak, O'Rourke, Thurman and Urban were honored in ceremonies on September 12, 1998, as the Eagles beat Rutgers.

A four-year letterwinner at end and team captain in 1923, Urban played on Boston College teams that compiled an overall record of 25-7, including the 1920 team that went 8-0 and gave the school its first "Eastern Championship." He was a consensus first-team all-America selection in that season.

O'Rourke's Boston College teams compiled a cumulative record of 26-3-2. "Chuckin' Charlie" helped lead the Eagles to an 11-0 record in 1940, capped by the Sugar Bowl championship and the claim of a national championship. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame in 1972.

Holovak's Boston College teams finished 26-5 and he is known as one of the top running backs in school history. He scored all three Eagle touchdowns in the 1943 Orange Bowl and averaged 15.8 yards per carry in that contest against Alabama. A consensus first-team all-American in 1942, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1985.

Thurman was a consensus first team all-America pick in 1984 as a defensive back and still holds the school career records for interceptions in a game (3), season (12) and career (25).

Flynn, who was honored in ceremonies at 1999's Miami game, was associated with Boston College athletics for nearly seven decades as a student-athlete, faculty member, coach and director of athletics. He played football at Boston College from 1936-38, serving as team captain in '38. He also played hockey and became the first Boston College player to score 20 goals in a season. Flynn returned to the University in 1945 as a mathematics teacher and assistant football coach and seven years later became the Alumni Association executive secretary. Flynn was the director of athletics for the Eagles from 1957 to 1990 and during his tenure, Boston College expanded its varsity sports programs and constructed most of its major athletic facilities.

Donovan, who was honored at 1999's Pittsburgh game, was a four-year letterman for the Eagles from 1946-49 and was an outstanding lineman for his teams that went a combined 20-13-3. In the professional ranks, he played on two world championship teams in 12 seasons as a perennial all-pro selection at defensive tackle for the Baltimore Colts. He was inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame in 1968.

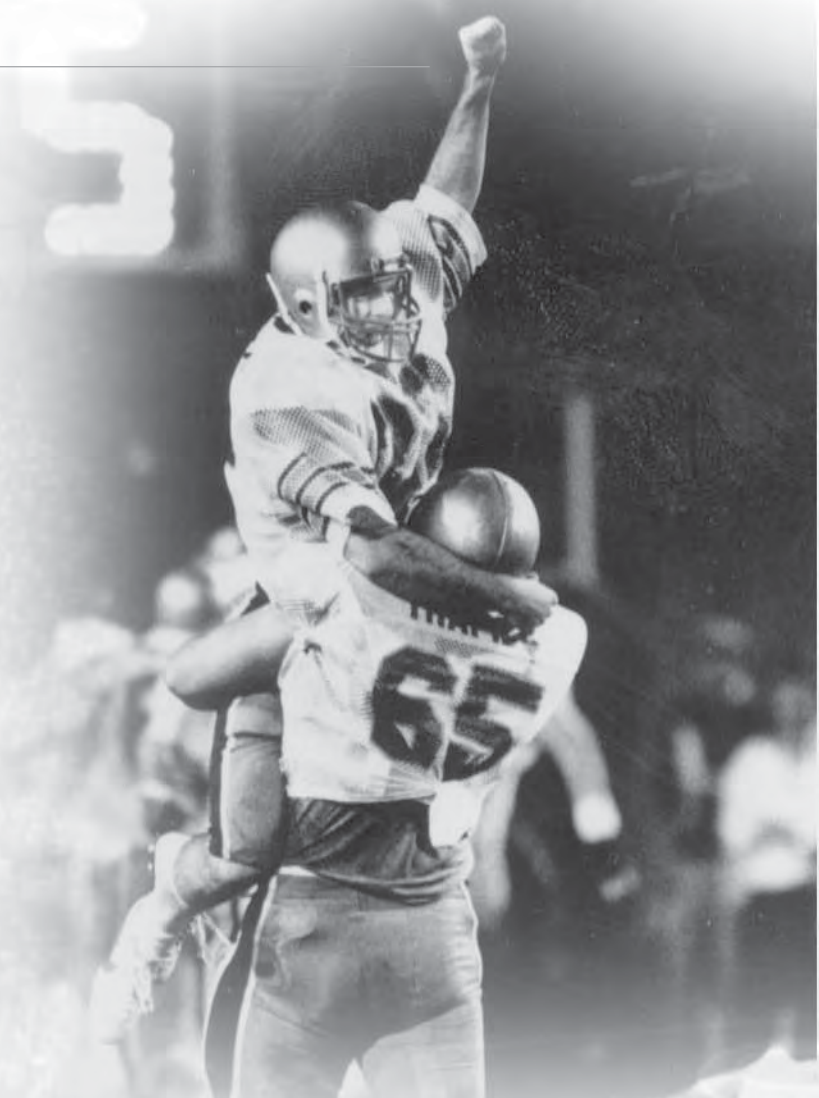

Goodreault, who was honored at 2001's Pittsburgh game at Alumni Stadium, was a member of the Boston College football team that won the 1941 Sugar Bowl. He lettered for the Eagles from 1938 to 1940 as an end and was a consensus first-team all-America pick in 1940, including a spot on the Walter Camp All-America team.

Doug Flutie

Doug Flutie is the quintessential football performer. Between the 1981 and 1984 college football seasons, he produced a major college career record of 11,054 yards of total offense (10,579 of them from passing, another national career record).

He first appeared on the collegiate scene in the fall of 1981 starting in the fourth game of his freshman year in an already-lost game at Penn State. He raked Joe Paterno's defense for 135 passing yards and a touchdown and won the starting job with that performance.

He went on to post a 30-11-1 overall record as a starter while also leading BC to three postseason bowls, the school's first postseason play in 40 years. He was the game MVP of the Tangerine Bowl in his sophomore year against Auburn and the Liberty Bowl in his junior year vs. Notre Dame.

Flutie's last-chance, game-winning drives were the stuff of Hollywood screenwriters. As long as there was time on the clock, Flutie always believed that it was possible to win.

And in those rare instances when it didn't happen, it was only because he had run out of time — not out of opportunity.

The best thing about watching Flutie in a game was wondering what astounding feat he would perform that day. Those feats weren't always game-winning plays, but often a series of individual plays within a game that, when totaled, made victory possible.

No obstacle on the field ever seemed too great to overcome.

While gifted with great mobility and an uncanny talent to "photograph" an opposing defense and then pick it apart at his whim, perhaps his greatest talent was an innate sense of how to win — an asset that never was coached into him.

When he wasn't rolling up prodigious amounts of passing yards, Flutie tantalized his foes with his scrambling and finished his career with more than 700 rushing yards.

Then, there was the size factor — "Little Doug" playing in a land of giants. Of course, "Little Doug" was just as tall as the average American male, about 5-10. Perception soon became reality and a "little" man, real or imagined, wasn't supposed to accomplish what he did on a football field.

As a sophomore, he engineered a memorable tie against defending national champion Clemson. After the nationally televised game, CBS commentator Pat Haden, himself a smallish quarterback who succeeded at USC, sought him out and told him, "Don't ever let anyone tell you that you are too small to play this game."

Yet, he also was a man of the people. He went to class with other students; he ate on the same meal plan they used; he played pick-up basketball games in the gym with them; and he never sought an exalted place in either his campus or personal life. He thrived in his family setting away from the adulation, glitz and glitter of his fame. One of the happiest moments of a momentous senior year was playing with his younger brother Darren, then a freshman wide receiver.

Oddly enough, Flutie eschewed scholarship offers from Holy Cross and Syracuse, who wanted to make him a defensive back despite his fine performances at quarterback for Natick High School, in Boston's Metro-west suburbs.

But Boston College got him with an assurance by new head coach Jack Bicknell that he would be given a full shot.

In 1983, he was key in the Eagles' upset victory over Alabama and another last-second win against Temple. His team lost to Notre Dame in the Liberty Bowl, but he was named game MVP.

All of that simply set the table for his amazing senior season in 1984. He threw six touchdown passes in a 52-20 romp over North Carolina; got four in an opening-game victory over Western Carolina; and three each against Rutgers, Army and Holy Cross; and of course, his fabled, last-play touchdown pass to Gerard Phelan to beat Miami stood above all else.

In 1984, Doug Flutie became the first player in Boston College history to win college football's grandest individual award — the Heisman Trophy.

It capped an unbelievable 9-2 season that included the astounding victory over Miami, a victory over Houston in the Cotton Bowl and a No. 5 national ranking.

He was the single-most exciting and resourceful player in college football that season. In addition to being named the starting quarterback on every major 1984 all-America team and winning the Heisman, he also won the Maxwell Award, given to the nation's outstanding college football player; the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award; and numerous player of the year awards.

He also scored in the classroom, where he won a National Football Foundation post-graduate scholarship and was nominated as a candidate for a Rhodes Scholarship.

Following his graduation from BC, Flutie was selected in the 11th round of the National Football League Draft by the Los Angeles Rams. He opted for a career in the United States Football League and played for the New Jersey Generals in 1985.

He played in the NFL for the Chicago Bears from 1986-87 and the New England Patriots from 1987-89.

Flutie then headed to the Canadian Football League for eight seasons and played for British Columbia (1990-91), Calgary (1992-95) and Toronto (1996-97). Flutie was named the CFL's most outstanding player an unprecedented six times, led the league in passing five times and helped his team capture the Grey Cup three times (Toronto in 1996-97 and Calgary in 1992).

He returned to the NFL on Jan. 20, 1998, when he signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills. During the 1998 season, he led the Bills to a playoff spot and was named to the Pro Bowl. He was named the NFL comeback player of the year by the Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly.

The 2005 NFL season saw Flutie return home to play for the New England Patriots. Flutie retired from the NFL in 2006 and serves as a football commentator for ABC/ESPN.

Flutie and his family founded the Doug Flutie, Jr., Foundation for Autism. The group focuses on raising awareness and support for those affected by the disorder with which their son has been diagnosed. The foundation can be reached at 617-451-9393.

As icing on the cake, Flutie headlined the 2007 College Football Hall of Fame class. Flutie was selected in his first year of eligibility and was inducted at the 50th Annual Awards Dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He was officially enshrined at the Hall in South Bend, Ind., during ceremonies in the summer of 2008.

Mike Ruth

Mike Ruth is the only Boston College player to win the Outland Trophy, presented to the nation's best interior offensive or defensive lineman. Though his team had a losing record, Ruth was honored in 1985, the only time a player from a non-winning team has been recognized.

At 6-1 and 265 pounds, he not only was the team's strongest player — he had a record 560-pound bench press as a junior — but he also was the quickest lineman.

He mauled the offensive linemen who tried to block him, often tossing them aside like rag dolls; or he fooled them with his cat-like quickness that helped him elude double teams by centers and guards until it was almost monotonous to watch.

The combination of his strength and quickness helped him accumulate a couple dozen sacks and nearly 300 tackles during his career.

Injuries once more dogged him as a senior but not enough that he didn't excel on a team that won only four of 12 games.

Ruth had built a tremendous reputation during his junior season and really secured the Outland Trophy in the 1985 season's first game, the Kickoff Classic against Brigham Young University at Giants Stadium in New Jersey.

He relentlessly harassed BYU's quarterbacks the entire game, convincing the trophy's voters that he still was the country's best interior lineman. His play for the rest of the season did nothing to diminish that impression.

Ruth showed as a freshman during the 1982 season that he would be special when, playing a backup role, he accumulated 36 tackles and three quarterback sacks.

Though dogged by a season-long ankle injury as a sophomore in 1983, he more than doubled his tackles to 80 and had 7.5 sacks.

In 1984, as the key to the Eagles defensive strength, Ruth had 102 tackles, 76 of them solo. He had 6.5 sacks, but also was credited with 20 quarterback pressures and seven other minus-yard plays. In the 1984 game against Holy Cross, he pressured the Crusader quarterback into throwing five interceptions.

Away from the field, he was just as unique.

For most of his time at BC, he seriously considered a vocation to the priesthood. He was a very value-oriented person who practiced what he preached. Often, the night before a game, the team would watch a movie he found objectionable and he simply sat outside the meeting room where it was being shown, and studied.

When his teammates emerged, he rejoined them for the team's late-night snack and everything was very comfortable for all concerned.

His mother was a victim of severe arthritis, so bad that at times she could not walk down the aisle in his family's parish church outside Philadelphia. No matter. Mike simply picked her up in his massive arms and carried her to her pew; and when it came time for her to receive Holy Communion, he carried her to the altar and back again.

He was team captain in 1985, his Outland Trophy year, but his leadership, even in a losing season, remained true to his personality. He told everyone before that season that he was not a holler guy, that his leadership would be by example. He never wavered and played as intensely as he had the previous seasons.

Ruth came to BC from Norristown, Pa., where he graduated from Methacton High School. He was a third-team all-state pick and was the team captain.

After his Boston College career, Ruth was a second-round draft pick (42nd pick overall) of the New England Patriots and played for the team in 1986-87.

Frank Leahy came to Boston College in 1939, succeeding the immortal Gil Dobie, and immediately declared, "I did not come to BC to fail." Nor did the 29-year old protégé of Knute Rockne, who had tutored Fordham's mighty Seven Blocks of Granite.

His team was ranked 11th nationally when it faced Clemson in the Cotton Bowl — the first New England team to participate in a bowl game in 20 years. The Eagles took a 3-0 lead on Alex Lukachik's 36-yard field goal, but Clemson roared right back on its next possession, and Charley Timmons ran for a score.

That was it for the day. Banks McFadden knocked down three Charley O'Rourke passes in the end zone in the fourth quarter, and BC drove to the Clemson 8-yard line late in the game but failed to score.

Sugar Bowl

January 1, 1941 • New Orleans, LA
Boston College 19
Tennessee 13

In Leahy's second year, the Eagles went unbeaten in 11 games and finished with their highest national ranking ever, thanks to a gritty come-from-behind 19-13 win over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl.

The Volunteers, who had not lost a regular season game in three years, led 7-0 at the half, but Joe Zabliski's recovery of a blocked punt set up Harry Connolly's game-tying touchdown and extra point in the third quarter.

Tennessee came back to take a 13-7 lead, but Mike Holovak ended a 60-yard drive when he scored BC's second touchdown. However, Leahy elected to run Holovak for the extra point which was stopped. The score remained tied, 13-13.

Don Currivan blocked a Tennessee field goal in the fourth quarter and started BC on its winning drive. Two passes to Ed Zabliski from Charlie O'Rourke got the ball to the Vols' 30-yard line, and two plays later, O'Rourke, behind Hank Toczylowski's block, ran 24 yards for the winning touchdown.

Orange Bowl

January 1, 1943 • Miami, FL
Alabama 37
Boston College 21

This contest was a wild affair, as Boston College took a 14-0 lead on two of Mike Holovak's three touchdowns on the day. Holovak's first touchdown came on a 65-yard run and his second on a 35-yard sweep.

After Alabama fought back and took a 19-14 lead, Holovak scored his third touchdown of the day on a two-yard plunge. Harry Connolly's extra-point gave the Eagles a 21-19 lead. By this time, injuries had begun to pile up for BC (Mario Gianelli, one of the team's best linemen, broke his toe getting dressed for the game and never played), and Alabama took the lead for good on a field goal. The Tide soon took a 28-21 advantage and the Eagles missed their tying chance when they were unable to score from the 8-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Tangerine Bowl

December 18, 1982 • Orlando, FL
Auburn 33
Boston College 26

Eagle quarterback Doug Flutie put on a dazzling performance, completing 22-of-38 passes for 299 yards and two touchdowns (he also scored on a 5-yard run and accounted for a pair of two-point-conversions), but the Eagles' furious second-half rally fell just short of victory.

The Eagles scored on the first drive of the game and then played tremendous defense, stopping the nationally ranked Auburn Tigers twice on drives inside their own 5-yard line without surrendering a touchdown.

The Tigers used their blinding outside speed to score three second-quarter touchdowns and increased their lead to 33-10 by the end of the third.

Boston College's coaches and players never gave up and battled back in the fourth quarter of the nationally televised game that saw Flutie throw scoring strikes to tight end Scott Nizolek and wide receiver Brian Brennan in a last-ditch effort to win. Brennan caught seven passes for 149 yards and one touchdown in the game, but it was Flutie who was named Outstanding Offensive Player by the national broadcast crews.

Liberty Bowl

December 29, 1983 • Memphis, TN
Notre Dame 19
Boston College 18

Despite bitter 11-degree temperatures, Doug Flutie shined once again in postseason action, completing 16 of 37 passes for 287 yards and three touchdowns. The Fighting Irish, however, also tallied three TDs and emerged a one-point victor.

On BC's first possession, Flutie marched the Eagles 63 yards in seven plays, culminated by a 17-yard scoring toss to Brian Brennan. Notre Dame's Allen Pinkett plunged over from the 1-yard line, and following Mike Johnston's extra-point kick (the only PAT conversion of the night), the Irish were ahead at the end of the first quarter, 7-6. Notre Dame scored twice in the second quarter before Gerard Phelan snagged a 28-yard pass from Flutie for a touchdown, which closed the gap to 19-12 at halftime.

Scott Gieselman grabbed a 3-yard touchdown flip from Flutie midway through the third quarter, but the contest was a deadlocked defensive struggle for the remainder of the evening. With 1:08 left on a fourth-down situation on Notre Dame's 35, Flutie's toss intended for Joe Giaquinto up the middle fell incomplete.

Tailback Troy Stradford was the Eagles leading ground gainer with 51 yards on 16 carries. Flutie, however, was named the game's Most Valuable Player for his aerial efforts.

Cotton Bowl

January 1, 1985 • Dallas, TX
Boston College 45
Houston 28

Four months to the day after the memorable 1984 season began, it ended with the Eagles' first postseason Bowl victory in 44 years.

Before 56,522 (67,381 paid) at the frigid Cotton Bowl (32 windy, drizzly degrees) and another CBS-TV national audience, Heisman Trophy winner Doug Flutie (13 for 37, 180 yards) threw two scoring passes in the first quarter to boost BC to a 17-7 lead. Kelvin Martin's 63-yard touchdown grab to open the scoring was the longest aerial connection of the year for the Eagles. Flutie would add his Cotton Bowl-record third touchdown pass later in the contest.

Houston trimmed two touchdowns off BC's 31-14 halftime lead before the Eagle ground game asserted itself. Steve Strachan (23 carries, 91 yards, 2 TDs, earning him Offensive MVP honors) and Troy Stradford (CBS-Chevrolet MVP with 20 rushes, 196 yards and 2 TDs) wore down the Cougar defense with their punishing carries and both scored fourth-quarter touchdowns to ice the game.

Hall of Fame Bowl

December 23, 1986 • Tampa, FL
Boston College 27
Georgia 24

Eagle quarterback Shawn Halloran connected with wide receiver Kelvin Martin on a 5-yard touchdown pass with just 32 seconds remaining in the game to give Boston College a thrilling 27-24 victory over the Georgia Bulldogs in the first Hall of Fame Bowl game in Tampa, FL.

The perfectly timed touchdown toss capped a sparkling 76-yard drive that began with just 2:38 left on the clock and Georgia holding a 24-20 edge.

The Eagles started the game in high gear, with Halloran picking apart the Bulldogs' defense for 22 completions in his first 31 attempts — good for 242 yards, a touchdown and a 20-7 lead at intermission.

Georgia roared back in the second half, however, outscoring the Eagles 17-0 until BC's magical final drive.

Tailback Troy Stradford shared the spotlight with Halloran and Martin in the game, rushing for 122 yards and a touchdown on 20 carries and pulling in seven passes for 48 more yards — including a 12-yard reception that set up the Halloran-to-Martin game-winner.

Hall of Fame Bowl

January 1, 1993 • Tampa, FL
Tennessee 38
Boston College 23

The Eagles' first bowl appearance in six years fell short of being a success as a 17-point scoring blitz by Tennessee in the third quarter broke open a close game and gave the speedy Volunteers a lead that could not be matched. BC had some outstanding performances from tight end Pete Mitchell, who set a Hall of Fame Bowl receiving record with nine catches for 100 yards (and a pair of scores), and from quarterback Glenn Foley, who clicked on 23-of-46 passes for 268 yards and threw a pair of two-point conversions in addition to the two TD passes to Mitchell.

Vols' quarterback Heath Shuler hurt the Eagles with two rushing and two passing scores, including a 69-yarder to Mose Phillips that gave Tennessee a 31-7 lead late in the third period. BC rallied in the final quarter with Foley's 17-yard TD pass to Mitchell and Darnell Campbell's 7-yard scoring dash, each of which was followed by a successful two-point conversion play, but the clock ran out on BC's strong closing effort with the Eagles still two scores shy of victory.

Carquest Bowl

January 1, 1994 • Miami, FL
Boston College 31
Virginia 13

Glenn Foley put on another masterful passing show in leading the Eagles to the Carquest Bowl championship before a CBS national television audience. The Virginia Cavaliers gave BC an early scare, picking off Foley's second pass of the game and converting it into a touchdown and a 7-0 advantage just 1:05 into the game.

But Foley would make few mistakes in the ensuing 58 minutes and 55 seconds of play. In this, his final collegiate appearance, Foley would go on to set eight Blockbuster/Carquest Bowl records, passing for 391 yards and three touchdowns and earning himself the game's Most Valuable Player award.

Foley showcased the Eagles' lightning-like attack, firing scoring passes of 78 (to Clarence Cannon) and 46 yards (to Keith Miller), along with a five-yarder for Cannon's second score. Fullback Darnell Campbell wrapped up the day's scoring with a 12-yard touchdown burst on the first play of the fourth quarter.

As usual, tight end Pete Mitchell was Foley's favorite target, catching seven passes for 82 yards of real estate.

Overall, the Eagle offense was splendid. When the game ended, BC had gained a whopping 557 yards — nearly seven yards per play.

Defensively, Stephen Boyd once again led BC in tackles with 14. His fellow linebacker Brian Howlett chipped in with nine stops, while free safety Terence Wiggins added eight and tackle Chris Sullivan had seven. The Eagles held the Cavs to just 85 yards on the ground.

Bowl Games

Jeep Aloha Bowl

December 25, 1994 • Honolulu, HI
Boston College 12
Kansas State 7

In a spectacular defensive effort, the Eagles stopped eighth-ranked Kansas State cold — completely erasing the Wildcats' ground attack (minus 61 yards on the day) and sacking quarterback Chad May eight times. The Kansas State offense could not manage a touchdown in the game; the Wildcats' only points came on a blocked punt, which was recovered in the end zone.

Eagle defensive end Mike Mamula, playing in what would be his final collegiate game, was named the Aloha Bowl Most Valuable Player after notching four quarterback sacks, including one for a safety that proved to be the winning points of the contest for Boston College.

Offensively, the Eagles mounted a textbook drive on their first possession of the game — covering 78 yards on five rushing attempts by David Green and Justice Smith. Green rolled off 51 of those yards on BC's first play from scrimmage, and Smith capped the quick strike with a touchdown run from two yards out. For Green, who would accumulate 121 yards on a workhorse 28 carries in this game, it was his seventh 100-plus yard performance of his fine senior season.

Kansas State scored on the blocked punt on the last play of the first quarter, and both defenses dueled in front of an ABC-TV national audience before the Eagles were able to muster another long drive in the fourth period that culminated in David Gordon's 35-yard field goal with 1:18 left. The key play of that successful late drive was a 46-yard pass from Mark Hartsell to wide receiver Kenyatta Watson.

Insight.com Bowl

December 31, 1999 • Tucson, AZ
Colorado 62
Boston College 28

The Eagles traveled to Tucson, Ariz., to face off with the Colorado Buffaloes in the Insight.com Bowl.

Colorado began the game with a 65-yard drive that resulted in the first touchdown. The Eagles returned the favor with a drive of their own, but John Matich missed a field goal and Colorado took over again. The Buffaloes charged down the field, scoring another touchdown. The Buffaloes would score again before the first quarter ended.

To open the second quarter, BC mounted a drive, but a Brian St. Pierre pass was picked off at the BC 21 and returned for a touchdown by Rashidi Barnes. BC was unable to convert a first down on its next possession and CU's Ben Kelly returned the punt 88 yards for another Colorado touchdown.

The Eagles showed they would not give up when George White intercepted a pass from CU quarterback Mike Moschetti and returned it 78 yards for the Eagles' first touchdown of the game. With 7:22 left in the first half, the Eagles trailed by a score of 35-7. The half came to a close, however, with Colorado ahead 45-7.

The third quarter offered much the same, with Tim Hasselbeck and St. Pierre combining to complete only nine of 28 passes.

By the end of the day, Colorado took a convincing 62-28 win back to Boulder.

Jeep Aloha Bowl

December 25, 2000 • Honolulu, HI

Boston College 31
Arizona State 17

Boston College put on a second-half offensive explosion to defeat Arizona State by a 31-17 score in the 2000 Jeep Aloha Bowl.

Though Arizona State jumped on the board first, BC was quick to respond with 10 straight points for a 10-7 lead after one quarter. Senior running back Cedric Washington marched into the end zone just 1:07 after the ASU score on a 10-yard run.

After a fumble recovery off a sack of Sun Devil quarterback Jeff Krohn, senior Mike Sutphin connected on a 50-yard field goal to put BC ahead.

Tied at the half at 10 after ASU kicked a 28-yard field goal in the second quarter, BC came out and tallied three successive touchdowns to take a 31-10 lead. Tim Hasselbeck found wideout Dedrick Dewalt for a 58-yard pass completion and a 17-10 lead. Junior Ryan Read hooked up with Hasselbeck on the Eagles' next drive for a 40-yard score and the 14-point advantage.

Leading 24-10 to start the fourth quarter, senior linebacker Ryan Burch intercepted a pass attempt by Griffin Goodman. Washington took over, and after four rushes that gained 28 yards, he ran the final 10 yards into the end zone for the Eagles' final score of the day and a 31-10 lead. ASU added a late score.

Boston College accumulated 180 yards on the ground, including a final 100-yard rushing game (109 yards) for Washington.

Music City Bowl

December 28, 2001 • Nashville, TN

Boston College 20
Georgia 16

Boston College snapped its 22-game losing streak to ranked teams with a thrilling 20-16 victory over No. 16 Georgia in the 2001 Music City Bowl. Consensus All-America tailback William Green rushed for 149 yards, including a seven-yard, game-winning touchdown with 4:43 remaining in the game, to lead the Eagles to consecutive wins in a postseason bowl game.

Although the Eagles were outgained, 410 yards to 306 yards, the team did benefit from two UGA interceptions, two UGA fumbles and two first downs resulting from UGA penalties.

Brian St. Pierre finished with 109 yards and one touchdown on nine completions. Green led all rushers with 149 yards and one touchdown, rushing for his 10th 100-yard game of the season. Fred Gibson was the game's leading receiver with 109 yards on six receptions. Derrick Dewalt made three catches for 62 yards.

Defensively, safety Ralph Parent made 11 stops to lead the Eagles. Defensive end Derric Rossy and Josh Ott each recorded seven tackles. Rossy added a sack for nine yards, while Ott had an interception and fumble recovery. The BC defense had four sacks in the game, including those from Rossy, linebackers Vinny Ciurciu and Scott Bradley and tackle Doug Goodwin. Bradley also had an interception return for 21 yards and one forced fumble.

Motor City Bowl

December 26, 2002 • Detroit, MI
Boston College 51
Toledo 25

Boston College won a bowl game for an unprecedented third year in a row as the Eagles thumped Toledo, 51-25, in the Motor City Bowl in Detroit. Senior quarterback Brian St. Pierre saved his best for last, completing 25-of-35 passes for a career-high 342 yards and three touchdowns as the Eagles capped one of the most successful seasons in their football history.

The game was never close as the Eagles scored touchdowns on their first six possessions. BC took the opening kickoff on its own 24 and marched 76 yards in 10 plays behind the rushing of Derrick Knight, who finished the day with 19 carries for 65 yards and one touchdown.

On the next possession, St. Pierre completed his first touchdown pass of the day to sophomore wide receiver Grant Adams, who finished as BC's leading receiver on the day (five catches, 92 yards, two touchdowns).

After Toledo pulled to within 14-3, the Eagles mounted another impressive drive, culminating in a St. Pierre touchdown pass to another talented sophomore wide receiver, a 40-yarder to Joel Hazard that made the score 21-3.

The Rockets could get no closer the rest of the day.

With the win, the Eagles notched their ninth victory for the first time since 1993. Knight finished the year with 1,432 rushing yards, the third-best total in school history. St. Pierre finished with 48 career scoring tosses, third on the BC list behind Glenn Foley (72) and Doug Flutie (67).

Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl

December 31, 2003 • San Francisco, CA
Boston College 35
Colorado State 21

Boston College celebrated New Year's Eve in the City by the Bay by winning its fourth consecutive bowl game, a 35-21 victory over Colorado State in the Diamond Walnut San Francisco Bowl.

The Eagles scored early and often, taking a commanding 21-0 first-quarter lead. Will Blackmon started the game on a high note, returning the opening kickoff to the Colorado State 41. All-time rushing leader Derrick Knight dominated the opening drive and scored from the five to give the Eagles a 7-0 lead with 12:14 left.

The BC defense forced a three-and-out on the Rams' first possession and on the next drive, the Eagle offense drove to midfield where junior quarterback Paul Peterson unleashed a 50-yard TD pass to Larry Lester to go up 14-0.

Colorado State drove to the BC 33 on the next drive, but junior free safety T.J. Stancil snagged the first of his career-high three picks on the day and returned it 54 yards. Four plays later, Knight ran the ball in to give the Eagles the 21-0 lead.

The Rams got on the board in the second with a 12-play, 68-yard scoring drive, making the score 21-7 with 10:24 remaining in the period. CSU's only other scoring threat of the half was thwarted once again by Stancil, who picked off Bradlee Van Pelt's pass in the end zone.

A 40-yard Van Pelt scoring pass with seven minutes remaining in the third trimmed BC's lead to 21-14, but a Stancil interception led to a Peterson-to-Lester 19-yard TD pass to give the Eagles some breathing room and a 28-14 lead.

After an unsuccessful fourth down play for Colorado State, Knight iced the win, marching 28 yards to the end zone. With the win, BC finished the season 8-5, marking the first time in program history the team had won seven or more games in five straight seasons. The team also won its 40th game in five seasons, tying a BC record for wins in a five-year span.

Continental Tire Bowl

December 30, 2004 • Charlotte, NC

Boston College 37
North Carolina 24

In his first game back from a broken finger, senior quarterback Paul Peterson threw for 236 yards as the Eagles won a fifth straight bowl game, beating North Carolina 37-24 in the Continental Tire Bowl.

Redshirt freshman Andre Callender carried the ball 26 times for 174 yards and a touchdown in a balanced offensive effort.

Peterson guided the Eagles to a 7-0 lead on their first drive, an 11-play, 86-yard march that ended with an one-yard touchdown plunge by L.V. Whitworth.

UNC would quickly even the score at 7, but on BC's next possession, Callender dominated an 11-play, 78-yard scoring drive. Peterson completed a two-yard touchdown pass to Grant Adams to give the Eagles a 14-7 lead after one quarter.

Midway through the second quarter, UNC got a break when it recovered a Peterson fumble and, six plays later, UNC's Darian Durant completed a five-yard TD pass to Wallace Wright to knot the game at 14. The Eagles then drove to the UNC 5-yard-line, but Ryan Ohliger's 22-yard field goal attempt was blocked.

The Tar Heels mounted a scoring drive that gave them their first lead, capped by a 51-yard Durant touchdown pass to Derrele Mitchell. But the Eagles scored with 1:44 left in the half to tie the score at 21 at intermission.

UNC opened the third with a Connor Barth field goal to take a 24-21 lead. As the third quarter came to an end, however, Callender gained 38 yards to the UNC 10, setting up a 1-yard touchdown plunge three plays later that gave BC a 27-24 lead.

The Eagle defense forced a punt on UNC's next drive and BC took over with good field position. On fourth down at the UNC 21, Ohliger faked the field goal and ran for the score, avoiding would-be Tar Heel tacklers on the way and stunning the crowd as the Eagles took a 34-24 lead.

BC's final points came when William Troost hit an 18-yard field goal with 4:09 left.

MPC Computers Bowl

December 28, 2005 • Boise, ID

Boston College 27
Boise State 21

Ryan Glasper intercepted a Jared Zabransky pass in the end zone with 37 seconds left to lift Boston College past Boise State 27-21 in the 2005 MPC Computers Bowl.

Playing before a hostile crowd and on the blue turf of homestanding Boise State, the Eagles stunned the Broncos by scoring the first 27 points of the game as quarterback Matt Ryan connected on three touchdown passes, including two to Tony Gonzalez in the first half. Ryan completed 19-of-36 passes for 256 yards, 144 of them going to senior Will Blackmon.

Ryan got the Eagles on the board 3:29 into the first half when he found Gonzalez for a 24-yard touchdown pass. Following a Ryan Ohliger 30-yard field goal, BC linebacker Jolonn Dunbar caused a fumble that was picked up by Ray Henderson and taken to the Broncos 13 yard-line. Ryan then hooked up with Gonzalez on a 13-yard strike to give the Eagles a 17-0 lead.

After another Ohliger field goal in the third quarter, Boise State finally responded with two scores over a span of 2:09.

First, Zabransky hit Drisan James for a 53-yard touchdown with 1:24 left in the third, then the junior quarterback ran for a two-yard score to make it 27-14.

A 92-yard punt return for a score by Boise State's Quinton Jones cut the deficit to six points with 3:51 left in the fourth quarter and set up an exciting finish.

The Broncos began their final drive on the BC 47 with less than two minutes left. Zabransky completed a fourth-down pass to Vinny Perretta for 35 yards and a first down at the BC 14. After a pass interference call put the ball on the five-yard-line, Glasper intercepted Zabransky for the second time to seal the win.

Nick Larkin had two sacks on defense for BC, which had nine total tackles for a loss. Dunbar led the team with 9.5 tackles, and Ray Henderson added 5.5 as the top rush defense in the conference held the Broncos to a mere 43 yards on the ground.

Meineke Car Care Bowl

December 30, 2006 • Charlotte, NC
Boston College 25
Navy 24

Interim Head Coach Frank Spaziani etched his name into the BC record books as the only undefeated coach in school history when he led the Eagles to a 25-24, come-from-behind victory over Navy in the Meineke Car Care Bowl. Spaziani was given the interim title after Tom O'Brien departed for N.C. State and he led the Eagles through their bowl game preparations.

Junior quarterback Matt Ryan was named the game's most valuable player after he completed 20-of-29 passes for 242 yards and one touchdown. Junior tri-captain Jolonn Dunbar was a monster on defense, racking up 14 total tackles, including 10 solos, four tackles-for-loss, a sack and a key fumble recovery.

Boston College scored first when Ryan capped off a 6-play, 37-yard drive with a two-yard keeper. Place kicker Steve Aponavicius, however, missed the first PAT of his career; the Eagles went up 6-0.

Navy responded immediately with a scoring drive of their own. Down 7-6, Ryan's pass was intercepted by Navy's Jeremy McGown. The Midshipmen capitalized when Zerb Singleton rushed five yards for a touchdown. The Eagles fought back, using a 23-yard pass from Ryan to Tony Gonzalez to get to the Navy 1-yard line. Junior Brian Toal took it in for the score one play later to bring BC back within one at 14-13.

Navy struck back quickly, driving 65 yards on six plays for a 21-13 lead. Late in the second quarter, Aponavicius connected on a 26-yard field goal to cut it to 21-16.

Early in the fourth quarter, Johnny Ayers set up an important series of events when he punted 54 yards to the Navy 6-yard line. The Eagle defense held on fourth down, and BC took over at the Navy 36. Five plays later, Ryan connected with tight end Ryan Purvis for a 24-yard scoring strike. When the two-point conversion failed, BC faced a 24-22 deficit.

With Navy trying to kill the clock with less than two minutes remaining, Dunbar recovered a Reggie Campbell fumble at the Midshipmen 36. Ryan completed a 15-yard pass to Purvis to get the Eagles within field goal range. Aponavicius connected from 37 yards as time expired and, almost miraculously, the Eagles had won yet another bowl game.

Champs Sports Bowl

December 28, 2007 • Orlando, FL
Boston College 24
Michigan State 21

Quarterback Matt Ryan ended a brilliant career in style by leading the Eagles to an 11th victory for only the second time in school history as BC defeated Michigan State, 24-21, in the Champs Sports Bowl in Orlando.

Ryan completed 22-of-47 passes for 249 yards and three touchdowns as the Eagles kept the nation's longest bowl game winning streak alive with their eighth straight bowl win. The win also propelled the team to a No. 10 finish in the final AP college football poll of the season, BC's first top 10 finish since the 1984 season.

The Eagles entered the game heavily favored, but Michigan State got the upper hand when Devin Thomas returned the opening kickoff 79 yards to the BC 18. Two plays later, MSU quarterback Brian Hoyer completed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Kellen Davis. Less than two minutes into the game, Michigan State was ahead 7-0.

BC got a break late in the quarter when Hoyer fumbled and linebacker Mark Herzlich recovered on the MSU 11. Four plays later, Ryan connected with tight end Jon Loyte for a one yard touchdown to even the score at 7-7.

Early in the second quarter, the Eagles put together an impressive 10-play, 70-yard drive that culminated with a 29-yard touchdown completion from Ryan to Rich Gunnell. The Eagles took a 14-7 lead. Late in the quarter, however, Michigan State drove to the BC 22-yard-line, where place-kicker Brett Swenson connected on a 39-yard field goal. The Spartans closed the gap to 14-10 at halftime.

BC's first drive of the second half stalled. Michigan State took over at its own 40-yard-line and drove to the BC eight, but after facing first-and-goal, the Eagle defense held and forced a 23-yard field goal that brought the Spartans within one.

On BC's next series, the Eagles drove to the Michigan State 11. Steve Aponavicius connected on a 28-yard field goal that pushed BC's lead back to 17-13.

Entering the fourth quarter with only a four-point cushion, the Eagles gave themselves some breathing room when Ryan connected with Gunnell on a 68-yard touchdown with 9:21 remaining in the game.

The Eagles held on to their 24-13 lead until late in the game. Michigan State got a break when Spartan Greg Jones sacked Matt Ryan, causing a fumble that was recovered by MSU's Oren Wilson. Michigan State began a drive in excellent field position (the BC 37) and converted three plays later. Hoyer threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Deon Curry, then completed a two-point conversion pass to Kellen Davis to cut BC's lead to 24-21.

Michigan State got one last opportunity to pull the upset, taking over with 2:37 left in the game. But on first down, BC's Paul Anderson intercepted a Hoyer pass and returned it to the MSU 29, allowing the Eagles to run out the clock.

Eagles in the Pros

Boston College has always been well represented in the National Football League.

In 2007, Chris Snee, Mathias Kiwanuka and the New York Giants upset the heavily favored New England Patriots, with starting center Dan Koppen, in the Super Bowl. In 2006 quarterback Matt Hasselbeck led the Seattle Seahawks to the Super Bowl. In 2005, Koppen slid a second Super Bowl championship ring on his finger as starting center for the New England Patriots.

In 2004, three more Eagles joined the ranks of Super Bowl champions as Koppen, Damien Woody and Mike Cloud were members of the winning New England Patriots squad. Five former Eagles, in fact, were members of squads who played in Super Bowl XXXVIII in Houston, tied for the most of any school in the country. Offensive guard Doug Brzezinski and linebacker Vinny Ciurciu suited up for the Carolina Panthers.

Dave Widell was part of an offensive line that led the Atlanta Falcons to the 1999 Super Bowl. Bill Romanowski earned two Super Bowl championship rings with the Denver Broncos.

As of May 1, 2008, a total of 24 former Boston College players were on active NFL rosters. Their names appear in the box below.

On the following pages is a list of former Boston College players who have played professional football. The list also contains a number of former Boston College players who have served as assistant coaches in the NFL.

1980-1989

1981

Former BC assistant Jack Bicknell is hired as head coach. He opens the season with a 13-12 home victory over Texas A&M. Freshman Doug Flutie sees his first action – on one special teams play. Flutie would be named the team's starting quarterback by Bicknell and QB coach Tom Coughlin prior to the Navy game on October 17.

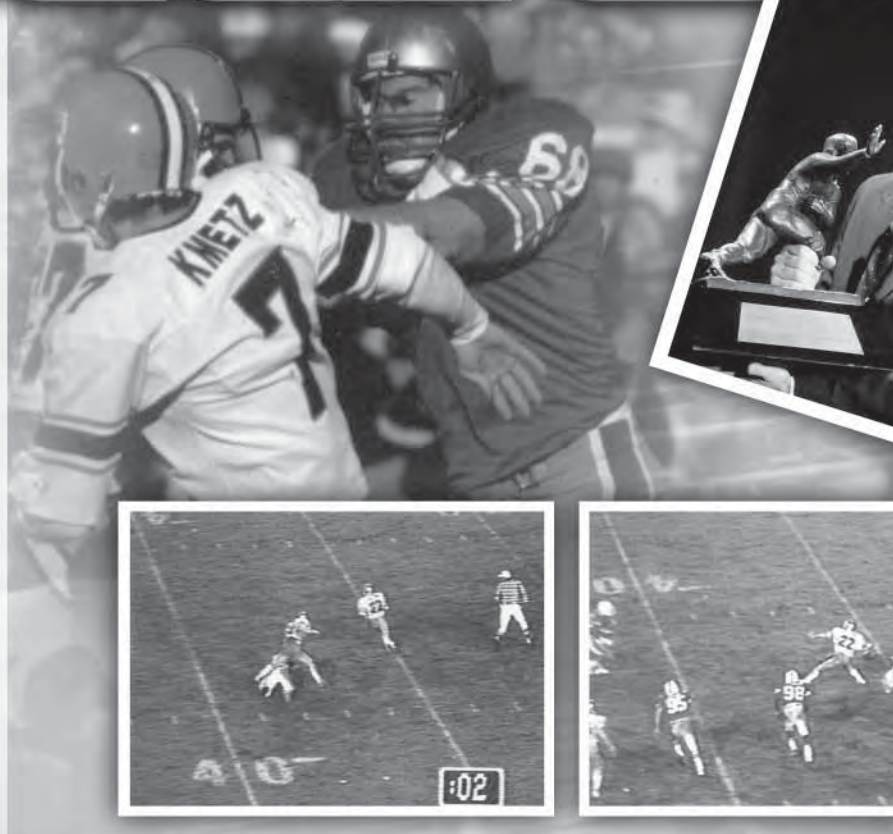

1982

The Eagles open the season with a smashing 38-16 victory over Texas A&M in College Station. Two weeks later, BC ties defending national champion Clemson 17-17 at "Death Valley," and once again BC football is drawing national attention.

1983

The Eagles finished the regular season with a 9-2 record.

Records

1984

Perhaps one of the most storied seasons in BC football history. An early highlight was the Eagles' stunning 38-31 victory over Alabama in Birmingham before a national television audience on September 8. On November 22 at the Orange Bowl, Flutie and BC football went into the storybooks as No. 22 threw a 48-yard "Hail Mary" touchdown pass to WR Gerard Phelan on the game's final play to give BC a memorable 47-45 victory over the Miami Hurricanes. A week later, Flutie completed one of his final college football goals by throwing a touchdown pass to his brother, Darren, a freshman, in the final game of the regular season at Holy Cross on December 1. He then flew to New York City, where he was presented with the Heisman Trophy later that night.

1985

BC beat Houston 45-28 on new Year's Day. The Eagles were ranked No. 4 in the final college football poll.

1988

A rebuilt Alumni Stadium with matching upper decks and state-of-the-art press facilities is dedicated in a nationally televised game against Southern Cal.

1999-2007

1991

Former assistant coach Tom Coughlin is hired away from the Super Bowl Champion New York Giants as BC's newest head football coach. BC plays the first-ever Big East Football conference game at Rutgers.

1993

The Eagles reeled off eight consecutive victories to earn another postseason invitation. Highlighting this drive was a magnificent 41-39 victory at Notre Dame on November 20, when David Gordon kicked a 41-yard field goal with no time remaining to shock the No. 1 Irish.

1994

Alumni Stadium was expanded to its current capacity of 44,500 and was completely refurbished.

1996

Tom O'Brien was named head coach.

1999

BC engineered the third-best turnaround in college football by finishing the regular season with an 8-3 record and ranked 22nd nationally. BC received an invitation to play in the Insight.com Bowl, its first postseason appearance since 1994.

2003

On October 12, Rev. William P. Leahy, S.J., BC President, and Director of Athletics Gene DeFilippo hold a press conference to announce that Boston College would accept an offer to become the 12th member of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

2005

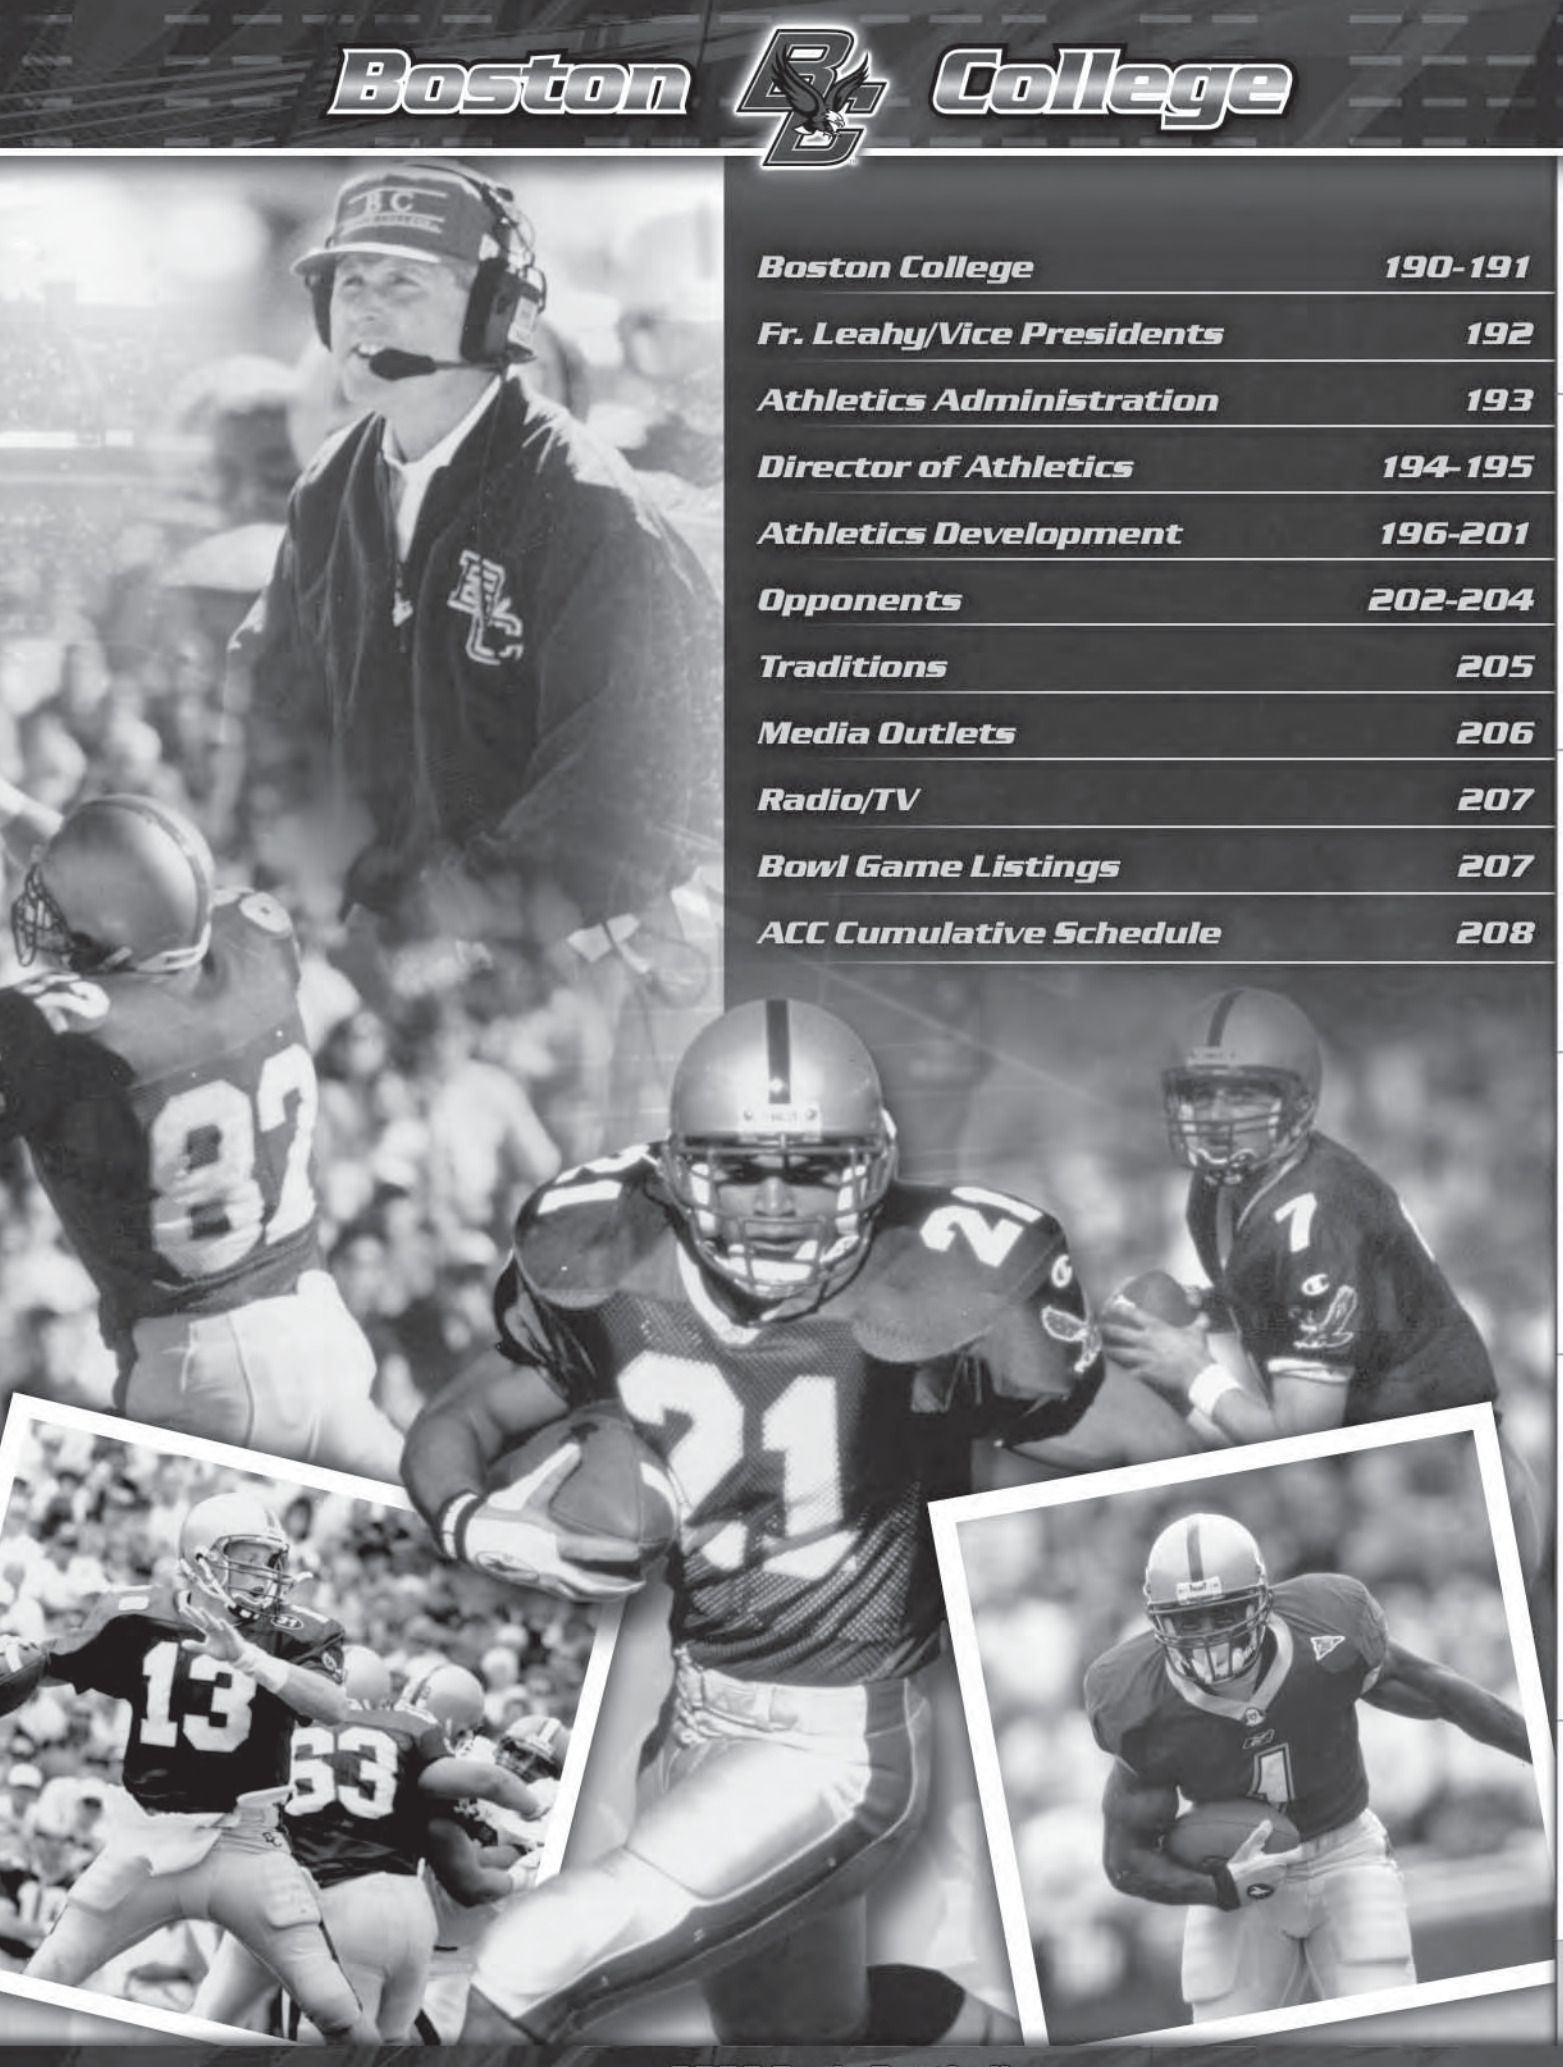

ESPN's College GameDay comes to the campus for the first time ever on the day of BC's inaugural ACC game, vs. Florida State. Unfortunately for the Eagles, the No. 8 Seminoles hand the No. 17 Eagles a 28-17 defeat.

2007

Jeff Jagodzinski is named head football coach at Boston College. Led by ACC Player of the Year Matt Ryan, the Eagles begin the season 8-0 and climb to No. 2 in the national rankings. Ryan engineers one of the biggest comebacks in BC football history at Virginia Tech. The Eagles go on to capture the ACC's Atlantic Division title and play in the ACC Championship Game in Jacksonville. The team defeats Michigan State in the Champs Sports Bowl to finish 11-3, the most wins for a BC team since 1940.

Boston College

Boston College was founded in 1863 by the Society of Jesus to serve the sons of Boston's Irish immigrants. It was the first institution of higher education to be founded in the city of Boston. Today, it is one of the foremost universities in the nation, with a coeducational enrollment of 14,500 undergraduate and graduate students. Boston College has drawn students from all 50 states and more than 85 countries.

Boston College has grown not just in size, but also in stature and diversity. Today, it is ranked among the top 35 national universities by US News & World Report. Its Graduate School of Social Work is listed among the nation's top 15, also by US News, while the graduate programs of its Lynch School of Education are among the top 20 and its Connell School of Nursing and Law School are among the top 30. In addition, its Carroll School of Management undergraduate program is listed among the nation's top 15 by Business Week. Boston College is among the nation's most selective universities, with more than 30,000 applications received for its 2,250-member Class of 2012, and is numbered among the top American private research universities. Its endowment of $1.7 billion is among the nation's 40 largest.

After more than a century of growth and evolution, Boston College holds fast to the ideals that inspired its Jesuit founders. The University today remains focused on its mission of helping students to develop their minds and talents while providing them with the motivation and compassion to use those talents in the service of others.

Boston College

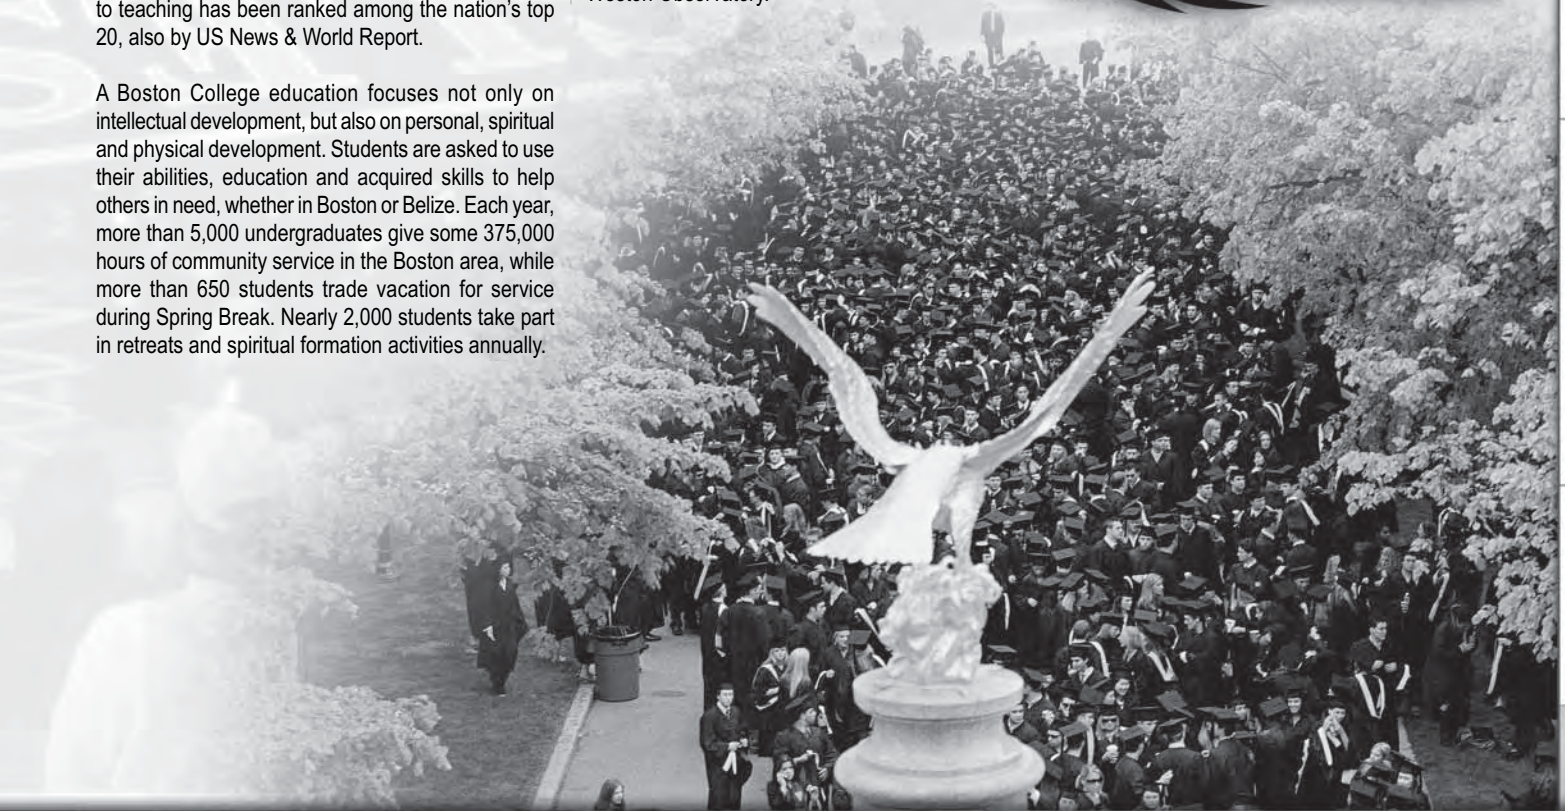

"Deeply rooted in its Catholic and Jesuit origins, Boston College offers an education that is distinctive in spirit and content, that is doubly rich with the best of human thought and with the profound insights of faith," writes Reverend William P. Leahy, SJ, who assumed the presidency of Boston College in 1996. "We believe that Boston College provides a transforming experience for young men and women."

A continued expression of this philosophy, based on the Jesuit principle of cura personalis, or care for the individual, is the faculty's dedication to teaching. BC faculty members have been honored for their teaching by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Education, while the University's overall commitment to teaching has been ranked among the nation's top 20, also by US News & World Report.

A Boston College education focuses not only on intellectual development, but also on personal, spiritual and physical development. Students are asked to use their abilities, education and acquired skills to help others in need, whether in Boston or Belize. Each year, more than 5,000 undergraduates give some 375,000 hours of community service in the Boston area, while more than 650 students trade vacation for service during Spring Break. Nearly 2,000 students take part in retreats and spiritual formation activities annually.

Today, the Boston College motto "ever to excel" also extends to a broad array of extracurricular activities and opportunities ranging from sports to the arts. Athletics is integral to the University's focus on the development of the whole person in body as well as in mind and spirit. BC offers 31 men's and women's varsity sports, all of which compete at the NCAA Division I level, and annually has one of the highest graduation rates in Division IA.

BC offers a wide variety of resources that enrich intellectual and cultural life beyond the campus gates. Among these are the Jesuit Institute; Center for Ignatian Spirituality; Center for Catholic Education; Church in the 21st Century Center; Boisi Center for Religion and American Public Life; Center for Human Rights and International Justice; Center for Christian-Jewish Learning; Winston Center for Leadership and Ethics; Center on Wealth and Philanthropy; Center for Retirement Research; Center on Aging and Work; Center for the Study of Testing, Evaluation and Educational Policy; TIMSS and PIRLS International Study Center; Center for International Higher Education; Burns Library of Rare Books and Special Collections; Robsham Theater Arts Center; McMullen Museum of Art; Center for Child, Family and Community Partnerships; Center for Corporate Citizenship; Center for Work and Family; Center for Irish Programs; Urban Ecology Institute and Weston Observatory.

President

William P. Leahy, S.J.

William P. Leahy, S.J. became the 25th president of Boston College on July 31, 1996. Born in Omaha, he grew up on his family's farm near Imogene, Iowa. After one year of college at Creighton University, he entered the Wisconsin Province of the Society of Jesus in 1967. He received a bachelor's degree in philosophy and a master's degree in United States history from Saint Louis University in 1972 and 1975, respectively. Between 1975 and 1979, he studied theology at the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, California, earning a master's degree in divinity and a master's degree in sacred theology while there. Ordained a priest in 1978, he completed doctoral studies in United States history at Stanford University in 1985.

Father Leahy joined the department of history at Marquette University in 1985 and became a tenured associate professor there six years later. In July 1991, he was named executive vice president at Marquette, where he served until being named president of Boston College in 1996.

During his years at Boston College, Father Leahy has presided over an institution that has solidified its position among the nation's best and most selective national universities. Since 1996, BC's endowment, sponsored research grants and student financial aid have doubled, and the percentage of student applicants accepted has fallen from 41 percent to 27 percent, while SAT scores have risen by more than 100 points. In addition, 100 full-time faculty members have been added, minority student enrollment in undergraduate programs has climbed from 18 percent to 26 percent and cash gifts to the University have increased from $24 million to $95 million.

During his presidency, undergraduate applications to Boston College have grown from 16,500 to more than 30,000, making BC the fourth most- applied to private university in the United States. Currently, the University enrolls students from all 50 states and 80 countries, and its undergraduates have earned more than 150 prestigious fellowships, including two Rhodes Scholarships. Student-athletes at BC succeed in balancing the demands of academics and athletics, and BC consistently ranks among those universities with the highest NCAA graduation rates.

Most recently, the Boston College community has been engaged in a comprehensive assessment and planning effort that resulted in a 10-year Strategic Plan. This plan will build on Boston College's strengths and accomplishments of the past and will focus additional resources on undergraduate liberal arts education and formation, as well as integrated science research and teaching. The University also intends to increasingly apply the strengths of its professional schools to resolving critical societal issues, and foster even more international links. In addition, Boston College intends to remain faithful to its Jesuit, Catholic heritage and to become the leading Catholic university and theological center in the world.

Director of Athletics

Gene DeFilippo

Since Gene DeFilippo became Director of Athletics in September of 1997, he has led the BC athletics program to an unprecedented period of innovation, growth, fundraising, athletic and academic success. DeFilippo has made a significant impact on the program internally, in the Boston community, and from a national standpoint while molding it into one of the nation's elite both on and off the playing field. He also led the program through one of the most significant periods in its history as it transitioned to full membership in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

DeFilippo is credited with spearheading efforts to strengthen BC's athletics program in a number of areas, including facilities, fundraising, staffing and academic support. Boston College student-athletes' achievements in the classroom have become an immense source of pride for the University and its supporters. The Office of Learning Resources for Student-Athletes recently moved into a brand new home in the Yawkey Athletics Center. Under DeFilippo's leadership, 379 BC student-athletes maintained a grade point average of 3.0 or better during the 2007-08 academic year, earning the Athletics Director's Award for Academic Excellence. The football team won the 2004 American Football Coaches Association's Academic Achievement Award with a 100% graduation rate and BC's graduation rate for all student-athletes has consistently ranked in the nation's top ten. Also under DeFilippo's leadership, U.S. News and World Report honored Boston College as one of the top 20 athletics departments in the country.

DeFilippo has restructured the athletics program and hired top-notch administrators. He initiated an impressive overhaul of BC's athletics facilities that includes new football practice facilities, lighting, scoreboards and other improvements at Shea Field, renovations to Conte Forum, including a new sound system, floor and video boards, two new soccer fields on the Newton campus, new Field Turf for Alumni Stadium, and an air-inflated bubble to cover the stadium turf to provide an indoor practice facility for all sports during the winter months.

DeFilippo was instrumental in raising money to build the privately funded $27 million, 72,000-square-foot Yawkey Athletics Center, which houses the football program, the Office of Learning Resources for Student-Athletes, and a large function area for general University use, freeing up critically needed space in Conte Forum for women's athletics and other Olympic sports teams. After football moved into the Yawkey Center, BC undertook a multi-million dollar renovation of Conte Forum to provide additional locker room and office space for many of BC's 31 varsity sports.

DeFilippo renamed the Athletics Association's fundraising arm (formerly Blue Chips) in honor of longtime Athletics Director Bill Flynn. Alumni, parents and friends of Boston College Athletics contributed a record $21 million in 2008, a 10% increase from the previous year's record and more than 200% of what was raised as recently as 2003.

Anne and Gene DeFilippo cemented their commitment to Boston College by announcing their pledge of $100,000 to endow a scholarship. The scholarship will be awarded annually to a female student-athlete who demonstrates outstanding academic achievement and financial need.

In athletics competition, DeFilippo has overseen some of the most successful seasons in Boston College Athletics history. During the 2007-08 season, the football team appeared in a school-record ninth consecutive bowl game and won its eighth straight. The men's ice hockey team won its third national championship after advancing to the championship game for the third straight year and the Frozen Four for the eighth time in 11 seasons. The men's soccer team captured both the ACC regular-season and tournament championships and entered the NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament as the overall No. 1 seed.

DeFilippo is extremely active on the national scene. He is the past president of NACDA (National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics), the nation's Division I-A Athletics Directors' organization, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame. He is also a former representative to the NCAA Division I Management Council.

Director of Athletics

The DeFilippos - Christine, Anne, John, Gene and Mary

DeFilippo was named the 2000-01 Division I-A Northeast Region NACDA/Continental Airlines AD of the Year. He was honored at the annual NACDA convention in Salt Lake City in June 2001. He received the "Penguin of the Year" Award from Youngstown State University in 2003 and the Distinguished Alumni Award from Springfield College in 2001. In April of 2000, he was awarded the "I Migliori" plaque at the Pirandello Lyceum's annual awards banquet, honoring outstanding achievements and exemplary lives of Italian-Americans.

At Boston College, DeFilippo is responsible for the administration and management of a broad-based athletics program committed to the pursuit of excellence in both intercollegiate competition and academic achievement. The Boston College program is comprised of approximately 750 student-athletes participating in 31 men's and women's varsity sports, all of which compete at the NCAA Division I level, in addition to a wide variety of intramural, recreation and club sports. Boston College also is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference and Hockey East.

As both a top-level administrator and a former Division I football coach, DeFilippo brought to Boston College a wide range of experience on and off the field. From 1993-97, he served as director of athletics at Villanova University, where he was named to the NCAA Division I Management Council. At Villanova, his tenure included the 1997 Big East regular-season men's basketball tournament title; 1994 NIT men's basketball championship; two NCAA championships for women's cross country, and a Rhodes Scholar, among others. In addition to the NCAA Division I Management Council, DeFilippo was named to the NCAA Nominating Committee, the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing, Promotions and Licensing and the executive board of the Philadelphia Sports congress.

His coaching experience includes three years as offensive backfield coach at Vanderbilt (1980-82), which included the 1982 Hall of Fame Bowl. From 1975-79, he was offensive coordinator at Youngstown State University, during which time the team won two consecutive Mid-Continent Conference championships, 1978-79. In 1973-74, he was graduate assistant football coach for the University of Tennessee, coaching in the 1973 Gator Bowl and 1974 Liberty Bowl.

A 1973 graduate of Springfield College with a Bachelor of Science degree, DeFilippo earned three varsity letters as a quarterback in football during his undergraduate career. He received a master's degree in educational administration from the University of Tennessee in 1974.

DeFilippo and his wife, Anne, are the parents of three children - Christine, a guidance counselor at Beaver Country Day School; John, quarterbacks coach for the Oakland Raiders, and Mary, a 2007 graduate of Boston College who is a production assistant for Cramer Productions.

Gene DeFilippo congratulates his daughter, Mary, a 2007 BC graduate.

Athletics Development

By giving to the Flynn Fund, donors have an immediate impact on BC's 750 student-athletes in 31 varsity sports. Most notably, Flynn Fund donors help support scholarships for BC student-athletes. BC will offer more than 270 athletic scholarships this year totaling nearly $14 million - this, along with salaries, are among the largest annual expenses in the athletics department. These scholarships would not be possible without the private support of alumni, parents and friends.

Last year, alumni, parents and friends of BC Athletics contributed more than $21 million with a large portion of those funds designated to offset the cost of scholarships and to enhance the athletics endowment in support of scholarships.

In addition to funding scholarships, the Flynn Fund has supported countless facility improvements over the years as well. The football program moved into the $27 million Yawkey Athletics Center in 2005. This 72,000 square foot facility, which also houses the Office of Learning Resources for Student-Athletes, was the first building on the Boston College campus to be funded entirely through private support.

Throughout the past few seasons, all of Conte Forum's locker rooms and Olympic sports facilities and offices have been updated and renovated including a new men's basketball suite in 2006. The women's basketball program moved into a new suite in 2005. There was construction of a field hockey and women's lacrosse turf field on the Newton Campus, and in 2004, FieldTurf was installed in Alumni Stadium. The Flynn Fund also contributed to the renovations and upgrades to several facilities in 2007 and 2008, including: the remodeling of the men's hockey locker room and sports medicine suite, the addition of a press box and Field Turf at the soccer complex on the Newton Campus, as well as the construction of a new boathouse in conjunction with Community Rowing, Inc. to benefit both the men's crew and women's rowing programs.

BOSTON COLLEGE
FLYNN FUND

Boston College and the Athletics Department announced the establishment of the William J. Flynn Fund in 1998. The Flynn Fund replaced Blue Chips as the central way in which individuals can support Boston College Athletics.

Bill Flynn '39 was associated with Boston College Athletics for nearly seven decades as a student-athlete, faculty member, coach, and athletic director. During that time his loyalty, dedication, foresight and integrity were examples of the highest qualities in intercollegiate athletics. Flynn served as the Director of Athletics at Boston College from 1957 until 1991. The Flynn Fund will always serve as a reminder to donors and student-athletes that his dedication to Boston College was the foundation for decades of institutional success.

Greg Barber '69 (seated) is joined by his wife Geraldine, daughter Amy '04 and son Gregory '99 L'05. The Barber family has endowed the head football coaching position and also named the team auditorium in the Yawkey Athletics Center.

Athletics Development

Boston College gratefully acknowledges the contributions of the following donors who have made transformational gifts to Boston College Athletics. Their generosity places them in a select group of individuals who have committed themselves to be leaders in philanthropy for Boston College Athletics.

Charlie '66, a former BC football captain, and Bitsy '67 Smith are season ticket holders for football, men's ice hockey and men's basketball. They have committed $1 million to the BC Athletics Department to assist with the renovations in Conte Forum and to enhance The Charles P. '66 and Elizabeth Kelly '67 Smith and Family Fund in Memory of Carolyn Lombardi which provides support for the football, men's basketball and men's ice hockey programs at the discretion of the Director of Athletics.

Endowed Funds

Opportunities exist to establish a named endowed fund that will benefit BC student-athletes perpetually. An endowment is a donation, which is invested, and the interest generated from the principal is used to fund a specific need of the Athletics Department in accordance with the donor's wishes, i.e. athletics scholarships, coach's salaries, operating expenses, etc. Donors who provide a gift to fund an endowment have the opportunity to permanently link their name or a loved one's name to Boston College Athletics. Endowments can range from a $1,000,000 fully funded or position scholarship, to a $600,000 tuition scholarship, to a $250,000 named endowed scholarship fund. An endowed scholarship gift can be paid over a period of years and will establish your commitment to Boston College Athletics in perpetuity.

For information on establishing an endowed fund please contact any member of our staff at (617) 552-0772.

Former football player Peter Trevisani '90 and his wife Wendy have been very generous to the program in recent years. Most recently, the Trevisanis have made a commitment to fund a scholarship for a linebacker on the football team. Trevisani, originally a walk-on before gaining a full athletic scholarship his junior year, sees the funding of a scholarship as a way of giving back to the program. Pete and Wendy reside in Santa Fe, New Mexico, but manage to get back to as many BC Football games and events as possible.

The Flynn Fund Scholar-Athletes Program

Donors may choose to participate in the Flynn Fund Scholar-Athletes Program to help support the Athletics Department's immediate need for scholarship assistance. With a gift of $25,000, a donor may fund the scholarship of a single student-athlete in any athletics program for an entire year. The gift provides the University with resources it can use immediately to provide financial-aid to one of BC's 750 student-athletes.

The student-athletes are informed of their scholarships, and the donors receive information about the student-athletes who benefit from their generosity. Donors are invited to an annual gathering with the student-athletes they support where they meet the recipients who have benefited from this program. This initiative enables donors to make a direct and immediate impact on BC's ability to provide scholarships.

To become a Flynn Fund Scholar-Athlete Donor please call (617) 552-0772.

Scott Gieselman '85 and Steve Strachan '85 have endowed a football scholarship in honor of their former football coach, Jack Bicknell, Sr. "Cowboy Jack" served as head coach of the Eagles from 1981-1990. With four bowl appearances in ten seasons, including a top five national ranking in 1984, Coach Bicknell reestablished the football program on a national level. This is Gieselman and Strachan's second gift honoring their former coach. They also named the offensive coaches' meeting room in the Yawkey Athletics Center in Jack's honor.

Athletics Development

Former Football Players

A number of former Boston College football players have been extremely generous to Boston College Athletics. In 2006 a plaque bearing the names of more than 400 former players who contributed to the Yawkey Athletics Center was installed inside the new football locker room. Some players have further distinguished themselves by making leadership gifts to BC Athletics by choosing to endow a scholarship or designate their gifts for the Yawkey Athletics Center. We are extremely grateful to the following former football student-athletes who have chosen to make leadership gifts to BC Athletics:

Tom Cannon '75
Tom Condon '74
Peter Cronan '77
David Donovan '87
T.J. Fitzpatrick '84
Ted Gaffney '86

Yawkey Athletics Center Supporters

Boston College and BC Athletics gratefully acknowledge the generosity and support of the following benefactors whose significant commitments contributed to the completion of the Yawkey Athletics Center in 2005. These individuals and foundations enabled the Yawkey Athletics Center to become the first building on the Boston College campus to be funded entirely through private support.

Traditions

Superfans

As juniors in the 1997-98 school year, Jeff Bridge and Chris Millette embarked on a mission that would change the atmosphere at Boston College football, basketball and hockey games. The two fans started to play a way to make games at BC more exciting. They created a "Gold Rush Game" and sold gold "Superfans" T-shirts for just a few dollars in the BC Bookstore. Today, the gold-clad "BC Superfans" can be seen en masse.

The Gridiron Club Eagle

In celebration of BC's 50th season in Alumni Stadium, the Boston College Gridiron Club made a generous contribution to fund a "Gridiron Club Eagle" tradition display adjacent to the team's locker room. At each home game, when the team emerges from the locker room, each member touches the eagle in honor of all the student-athletes, coaches and fans who have played a role in establishing BC's proud football tradition. The eagle was unveiled before the 2006 thrilling double-overtime win over Clemson. The team finished the 2006 season with an undefeated (7-0) home record and has lost only one home game since the Eagle debuted.

Eagle Nickname

The Eagle nickname and mascot were conceived by Rev. Edward McLaughlin. Fr. McLaughlin, incensed at a Boston newspaper cartoon depicting the champion BC track team as a cat licking clean a plate of its rivals, penned a passionate letter to the student newspaper, The Heights, in 1920. "It is important that we adopt a mascot to preside at our pow-wows and triumphant feats," Fr. McLaughlin wrote. "And why not the eagle, symbolic of majesty, power and freedom? Its natural habitat is the high places. Surely the Heights is made to order for such a selection."

Maroon and Gold

In the mid-1880s, a committee of students was appointed to determine which hue would best represent BC. After considering the colors of rival Jesuit institutions – Holy Cross's purple, Fordham's maroon, Georgetown's blue and gray – the committee selected two of the Papal colors, maroon and gold. The student body unanimously approved.

Marching Band

More than 150 strong, the Eagles Marching Band is under the direction of Director of Bands Sebastian Bonauito and Assistant Director David Healey. The band warms up with the traditional pregame march across campus, followed by a concert at Shea Field, where BC fans gather for tailgating. Then it's off to Alumni Stadium, where the band does its part to help the Eagles emerge victorious.

Cheerleaders

Under the supervision of Coach Lauren Belden, the cheerleaders are devoted to the traditions of BC and its school spirit. The cheerleaders have grown to include two squads, an all-girl squad consisting of 20 members and a co-ed squad consisting of 14 members. The cheerleaders perform at home and away football games.
